It is further ordered, That the effect of such suspension shall not be evaded directly or indirectly by the use of any device such as a sales agency agreement or any other devices, and such suspension shall not excuse the distributor from all duties and functions imposed upon him by the Act, the Code, and rules and regulations and orders thereunder; and

It is further ordered, That Lawrence H. Dowling, operating under his own name or under the name and style of Dowling Coal Company, his representatives, servants, agents, employees, attorneys, receivers, and successors, or assignees, and all persons acting or claiming to act on his behalf or in his interest, cease and desist, and they are permanently enjoined and restrained from violating the Bituminous Coal Act, the Bituminous Coal Code, and the rules and regulations thereunder and his said Agreement and that the provisions hereof shall continue in full force and effect with respect to Lawrence H. REORGANIZED WILSON MINING CO.

FINDINGS AND ORDER OF THE COMMISSION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 19th day of October, A. D. 1942.

In the matter of proceedings under section 19 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to determine whether the registration of Reorganized Wilson Mining Company, Assessable Common Stock, 10¢ par value should be suspended or withdrawn.

Appearances: Arthur J. Berggren, of the San Francisco Regional Office, for the Corporation Finance Division of the Commission.

Reorganized Wilson Mining Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Nevada, is the issuer of 10¢ par value, assessable common stock, which is listed and registered on the San Francisco Mining Exchange, a national securities exchange.

By order dated August 12, 1942, the Commission instituted this proceeding pursuant to section 19 (a) (2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 to determine whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to suspend for a period not exceeding 12 months, or to withdraw, the registration and listing of this assessable common stock. The order set forth as the issues to be determined at the hearing:

(1) Whether the registrant has failed to comply with section 13 (a) of the Act and the Commission's rules thereunder in failing to file its annual report for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1941; and

(2) If so, whether it is necessary or appropriate for the protection of investors to suspend, or to withdraw, the registration of its assessable common stock.

After appropriate notice to the registrant, the San Francisco Mining Exchange, and the public, a hearing was held before a trial examiner in San Francisco, California. The trial examiner filed an advisory report in which he found that, in contravention of section 13 (a) of the Act and the Commission's rules thereunder, the registrant failed to file its annual report for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1941.[1] No exceptions to the trial examiner's report have been filed, and no objection to the withdrawal of listing and registration has been made either by the registrant or the San Francisco Mining Exchange. Upon an independent review of the record, we adopt the aforementioned report of the trial examiner as being in accord with the record.

We find that the registrant has failed to comply with the statute and the rules thereunder in the respects noted above and that it is necessary and appropriate for the protection of investors that the listing be withdrawn. Cf. North European Oil Corporation, 9 S. E. C. — (1941), Securities Exchange Act Release No. 2987.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That the listing and registration of the assessable common stock, 10¢ par value, of Reorganized Wilson Mining Company on the San Francisco Mining Exchange, a national securities exchange, be, and it hereby is, withdrawn.

By the Commission.

[1] Under Rule X-13A-1, the registrant is required to file its annual reports not more than 120 days after the close of its fiscal year, which in this case was December 31, 1941. The Commission granted an extension of time to June 30, 1942, but no report has yet been filed. It appears that the company is in a dormant state and that there is no intention to file the report. The record also indicates that there was no trading in the stock on the San Francisco Mining Exchange in 1941, or in 1942 up to the date of the hearing.

[Docket Nos. A-1494 and A-1500]

PART 327—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 7

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order severing Docket No. A-1500 from Docket No. A-1494 and order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petitions of District Board No. 7 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 7.

On June 26, 1942, 7 F.R. 5154, an order was issued consolidating the above-entitled matters and granting temporary relief and conditionally providing that such temporary relief should become final sixty (60) days from the date thereof, unless it should be otherwise ordered. This order, inter alia, established temporary and conditionally final price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Alaska Mine (Mine Index No. 300), of the Alaska Coal Company, c/o Owen W. Cox, as requested in the petition assigned Docket No. A-1500.

On July 24, 1942, District Board No. 7 filed with the Division a motion for modification of the order granting temporary relief, alleging that at the time the price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the original petition were proposed by petitioner for coals produced at the Alaska Mine (Mine Index No. 300), no analyses of said coals were available to petitioner and it was not in possession of complete information with reference to said mine; that subsequent to June 26, 1942, the date of the Acting Director's Order granting temporary relief in this proceeding, the petitioner was informed that its original petition erroneously indicated that the Alaska Mine (Mine Index No. 300) was located in Subdistrict No. 2 (New River) of District No. 7 rather than in Subdistrict No. 1 (Greenbrier); and petitioner alleges that the coal to be produced at the Alaska Mine (Mine Index No. 300) will be similar to that produced at the Beelick Knob Mine (Mine Index No. 217), of the Standard Fire Creek Coal Company. The motion requests that the Order of the Acting Director dated June 26, 1942, be modified so as to correspond with the minimum prices and price classifications for Mine Index No. 217.

Upon the basis of the allegations of the motion, it appears that the prayer of said motion of petitioner should be granted. As the relief granted by Order of the Acting Director dated June 26, 1942, has become final, it is necessary, in order to grant said motion, that this order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief be issued.

It further appears that the above-entitled matters should be severed, that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth, that no petitions of intervention have been filed with this Division in the above-entitled matter, and that the following action is deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That Docket No. A-1500 be, and it hereby is, severed from Docket No. A-1494 and reopened.

It is further ordered, That pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief be, and the same hereby is, granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 327.11 (Low volatile coals: Alphabetical list of code members) and § 327.34 (General prices in cents per net ton for shipment into any market area) are amended by deleting therefrom Subdistrict No. 2 and the minimum prices and price classifications established for the Alaska Mine (Mine Index No. 300) by Order dated June 26, 1942, and by substituting therefor Subdistrict No. 1 and the price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the schedules marked Supplement R and Supplement T annexed hereto and hereby made a part hereof.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the motion in the above-entitled matter, and applications to stay, terminate, or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this order, pursuant to Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this order, unless otherwise ordered.

Dated: September 28, 1942.

Director.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

GUTHRIE'S MATTRESS CO.

Pat Guthrie and Bernard Guthrie, copartners doing business as Guthrie's Mattress Company, of Phoenix, Arizona, are engaged in the business of manufacturing mattresses.

During the months of April, May and June, 1942, Guthrie's Mattress Company used approximately 7,592 pounds of steel in the production of mattresses in excess of what it was entitled to use for that purpose under paragraph (b) (3) (ii) of General Limitation Order L-49.[1] The company contended that it did not understand Order L-49, but it knew of such order and did not take any action to inform itself concerning the meaning of the order.

After March 20, 1942, Guthrie's Mattress Company accumulated an inventory of approximately 14,620 pounds of iron and steel for use in the manufacture of mattresses, although it was permitted under Order L-49 to use only an average of approximately 2,049 pounds of steel per month in the manufacture of mattresses. This constituted an accumulation of inventories in excess of the minimum amount necessary to maintain production of mattresses at the rates permitted by Order L-49. After March 20, 1942, Guthrie's Mattress Company failed to keep and preserve accurate and complete records concerning its inventories and production.

These acts and omissions constituted willful violations of General Limitation Order L-49 which have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce material to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered That:

§ 1010.116 Suspension Order S-116. (a) Deliveries of material to Pat Guthrie and Bernard Guthrie, individually or doing business as Guthrie's Mattress Company, of Phoenix, Arizona, their successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Pat Guthrie and Bernard Guthrie, individually or doing business as Guthrie's Mattress Company, their successors and assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Pat Guthrie and Bernard Guthrie, doing business as Guthrie's Mattress Company, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or of the Director General for Operations except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on October 26, 1942, and shall expire on January 26, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

RUTKIN ELECTRICAL SALES CO.

John Rutkin, an individual doing business as the Rutkin Electrical Sales Company, in Los Angeles, California, is engaged in the business of distributing electrical supplies as a manufacturers' agent and as a wholesaler. He operates a warehouse, as defined in General Preference Order M-9-a.[1]

From February 7, 1942, to May 17, 1942, John Rutkin, doing business as Rutkin Electrical Sales Company, accepted and filled unrated wholesale orders for 52,278 feet of metal-covered copper wire or cable, having a value of $1,333.74. These acts constituted wilful violations of General Preference Order M-9-a, as amended on February 6, 1942 and May 7, 1942.

These violations of General Preference Order M-9-a have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce material to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.117 Suspension Order S-117. (a) Deliveries of material to John Rutkin, doing business as Rutkin Electrical Sales Company or otherwise, either as an agent or for his own account, or to his successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) No allocation shall be made to John Rutkin, doing business as Rutkin Electrical Sales Company or otherwise, either as an agent or for his own account, or to his successors or assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve John Rutkin, doing business as Rutkin Electrical Sales Company or otherwise, either as an agent or for his own account, or his successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or of the Director General for Operations except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on October 26, 1942, and shall expire on January 26, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

PATRICK AND MOISE-KLINKNER CO.

Patrick and Moise-Klinkner Company is a corporation located in San Francisco, California, and is engaged in the manufacture of brass marking devices and name and identification plates. Between May 7, and August 1, 1942, the company filled orders for such brass devices and plates involving the use of approximately 3,515 pounds of brass where the use of copper products or copper base alloy products was not required by any specifications of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the Coast Guard, applicable to any contract, sub-contract or purchase order. Some 3,000 pounds of this brass were applied to orders from shipyard companies where its use was due to a justifiable misunderstanding on the part of Patrick and Moise-Klinkner Company. The remaining 515 pounds were applied to orders from three other customers where the use of brass was not justified or excused by the circumstances and the use of brass in these orders constituted wilful violations of Conservation Order M–9–c, as amended on May 7, 1942.[1]

These violations of Conservation Order M–9–c, as amended May 7, 1942, have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting copper and copper base alloys to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.118 Suspension Order S–118. (a) Patrick and Moise-Klinkner Company, its successors and assigns, are prohibited from processing, fabricating or assembling copper, copper base alloys, copper products or copper base alloy products as defined in Conservation Order M–9–c in the manufacture of any item or article, except as specifically authorized by the Regional Compliance Chief of the San Francisco Regional Office of the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Patrick and Moise-Klinkner Company from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on October 26, 1942, and shall expire on December 26, 1942.

PART 3106—RATTAN

[General Conservation Order M-248]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of rattan for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3106.1 General Conservation Order M-248—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Rattan" means the stripped stem of climbing palms, including, but not limited to, the genera Calamus, Desmoncus, Korthalsia and Daemonorops.

(2) "Weaving rattan" means the soft rattans, including, but not limited to, those known in the trade as Kubu, Sega, Loonties, and Koties, which are customarily used for splitting into cane or slab rattan but which can be used for weaving baskets and boat fenders.

(3) "Hard or semi-hard rattan" means the rattans, including, but not limited to, those known in the trade as Tohiti, Oemoloe, Padang, and Sarawak, which because of their hardness are customarily not used for weaving.

(4) "Cane" means the peel cut from the stem of rattan, processed to uniform gauge by removing the pith, and finished to uniform width.

(5) "Slab rattan" means the peel cut from the stem of rattan not processed to a uniform width and gauge.

(6) "Reed" means the core or pith of the rattan left after splitting off the cane or slab rattan.

(b) Restrictions on sales and deliveries. No person shall sell or deliver and no person other than an importer acting as such, shall buy or accept delivery of any weaving rattan 6 millimeters and over in diameter, or hard and semi-hard rattan 9 millimeters and over in diameter (all diameters measured at the small end), or any slab rattan 6 millimeters and over in width, except upon the following categories of orders:

(1) Orders placed by the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission of the United States, or the War Shipping Administration for use in the construction of boat fenders.

(2) Orders placed by the Defense Supplies Corporation.

(3) Orders placed by any person for use in the construction of boat fenders for the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission of the United States or the War Shipping Administration.

(4) Orders placed by any person for processing into cane for consumption for the uses specified in paragraph (c) (1) (ii) of this order.

(5) Orders specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Restrictions on processing and consumption. (1) Unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, no person shall weave or incorporate as a whole into any article, or shall split or otherwise process into cane or slab rattan or otherwise, any weaving rattan 6 millimeters to 11½ millimeters in diameter, inclusive, measured at the small end, except for:

(i) Boat fenders for the Army, Navy, or Maritime Commission of the United States, or the War Shipping Administration;

(ii) Cane for welfare institutions for the physically handicapped, when specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(2) Unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, no person shall process or consume, in any way, any weaving rattan over 11½ millimeters in diameter, measured at the small end, except in weaving boat fenders for the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission of the United States, or in producing slab rattan for use in the construction of boat fenders for the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission of the United States or the War Shipping Administration.

(3) Unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, no person shall process or consume, in any way, any hard or semi-hard rattan 9 millimeters and over in diameter, measured at the small end, except in the production of slab rattan for use in the construction of boat fenders for the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission of the United States, or the War Shipping Administration.

(4) Unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations, no person shall weave or incorporate into any article, in any way, any slab rattan 6 millimeters and over in width, measured at the small end, except in the construction of boat fenders for the Army, Navy or Maritime Commission of the United States, or the War Shipping Administration.

(d) Exceptions. The provisions of this order shall not apply to the following:

(1) Cane already produced;

PART 3116—DOUGLAS FIR LUMBER

[Limitation Order L–218]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of Douglas fir lumber for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3116.1 Limitation Order L–218—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Douglas fir lumber" means any sawed lumber (except shingles or lath) of any size or grade, whether rough, dressed on one or more sides or edges, dressed and matched, shiplapped, worked to pattern, or grooved for splines, of the species of Pseudotsuga taxifolia, produced from timber located west of the crest of the Cascade Mountain Range, but not including No. 3 boards, No. 3 dimension or No. 3 timbers, or any grade of factory or shop lumber, and not including plywood, veneer or used lumber.

(2) "Producer" means any plant which processes, by sawing, edging, planing or other comparable method, 25% or more of the total volume of logs and lumber purchased or received by it, and which sells as lumber the product of such processing. "Volume" means the board foot volume of lumber processed from logs, processed from other lumber or sold, as the case may be, within six months immediately prior to the transaction affected by this order.

(3) "Procuring Agency" means the Procuring Agency of the Construction Division of the Corps of Engineers of the United States Army.

(b) General limitations. No producer shall sell, ship or deliver (including delivery by a producer to any distribution yard of such producer) any Douglas fir lumber except that:

(1) Any producer may sell, ship or deliver (either directly or through one or more intervening persons) any Douglas fir lumber to or for the account of the Procuring Agency or to or for the account of any contractor or other person designated by such agency; but only if there is endorsed on the purchase order or contract for such lumber a statement in substantially the following form, signed by the purchaser or by a responsible official duly designated for such purpose by the purchaser:

> All Douglas fir lumber covered by this purchase order (or contract) is to be sold, shipped or delivered to, or received by, the Procuring Agency or a contractor or other person designated by such agency, as required by Limitation Order L–218, with the terms of which I am familiar.

------------------------------ Purchaser

By------------------------------ Title or rank

Date----------------

Each endorsement made under the provisions of this order shall constitute a representation to the producer and to the War Production Board that the Douglas fir lumber referred to therein will be used in accordance with such endorsement.

(2) Any Douglas fir lumber which was actually in transit on October 29, 1942, may be delivered to its ultimate destination.

(3) Any producer may sell, ship or deliver any Douglas fir lumber to any other producer.

(4) Any producer may sell, ship or deliver any Douglas fir lumber upon the specific authorization of the Director General for Operations on Form PD–423, or upon the direction of the Director General for Operations pursuant to paragraph (c) of this order.

(c) Allocations. The Director General for Operations may allocate specific quantities of Douglas fir lumber to specific persons. He may also direct the specific manner and quantities in which delivery shall be made to particular persons, and direct or prohibit particular uses of Douglas fir lumber, or the production by any person of particular items of Douglas fir lumber. Such allocations and directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war requirements of the United States, both direct and indirect, and they may be made, in the discretion of the Director General for Operations, without regard to any preference ratings assigned to particular purchase orders or contracts. The Director General for Operations may also take into consideration the possible dislocation of labor and the necessity of keeping a plant in operation so that it may be able to fulfill war and essential civilian requirements.

(d) Effect of preference ratings. No preference rating shall have any force or effect with respect to deliveries of Douglas fir logs, or deliveries, by producers, of Douglas fir lumber.

(e) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may appeal by addressing a letter to the Chief of the Lumber and Lumber Products Branch, War Production Board, Washington, D. C.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both. In addition, the Director General for Operations may prohibit such person from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, may withhold from such person priorities assistance, and may take such other action as he deems appropriate.

(g) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed as follows: Lumber and Lumber Products Branch, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., Ref.: L–218.

(h) Application of Order M–208. After the effective date of this order, the provisions of Conservation Order M–208 shall not apply to Douglas fir lumber sold, shipped or delivered by producers in accordance with the provisions of this order.

(i) Effective date. This order shall take effect October 29, 1942.

(c) Applicants for supplemental rations are deemed to have available 150 miles per month of occupational driving by using the basic ration to which they are entitled; and supplemental rations may be issued to provide only occupational mileage allowed by Chief, License Bureau, in excess of 150 miles per month. However, no deduction for such 150 miles shall be made by the applicant in stating his required occupational mileage.

§ 1394.9010 Application for supplemental ration. (a) Application for a supplemental ration may be made to Chief, License Bureau, by the owner of or a person entitled to the use of a registered passenger automobile or registered motorcycle. A separate application shall be made for each vehicle. Application on behalf of an individual may not be made by an agent. (b) An applicant shall establish the average monthly occupational mileage required for each of the following purposes:

(1) Driving between home and a fixed place of work in connection with the principal occupation of the applicant or principal user of the vehicle;

(2) Driving in the course of such principal occupation;

(3) Driving to and from or in the course of any other occupation or occupations for which the vehicle is used.

(c) Where two or more vehicles are used in a ride-sharing arrangement of the type described in paragraph (a) of § 1394.9011, a separate application for a supplemental ration shall be made for each such vehicle, but all such applications must, except for good cause shown, be submitted at the same time. Each such application shall include only the mileage driven in the vehicle for which it is made.

§ 1394.9011 Allowance of mileage. (a) No occupational mileage shall be allowed for any purpose specified in paragraph (b) of § 1394.9010 unless the applicant establishes, in connection with the use of the vehicle for that purpose, either:

(1) That a bona fide ride-sharing arrangement has been made pursuant to which at least four persons (including the operator) will regularly be carried in the vehicle for the purpose of going to and from or carrying on their occupations: Provided, That each person must certify to his participation in the ride-sharing arrangement by signing the application; or

(2) That no such ride-sharing arrangement could reasonably be made but that the vehicle carries as many persons as could reasonably be expected in the light of the circumstances in which and the purpose for which it is used; that transportation is needed for such purpose; and that no alternative means of transportation are available which would be reasonably adequate for such purpose.

(i) An applicant may establish that four or more persons cannot regularly be carried in the vehicle for which application is made by showing: the limited capacity of the vehicle; the absence of a fixed place of work; the necessity of traveling at unusual or irregular hours; the necessity of traveling over routes not feasible for other persons who might be carried; or such other reasons as the Chief, License Bureau, may find sufficient.

(ii) An applicant may establish the lack of reasonably adequate alternative means of transportation by showing the unavailability of other public or private means of transportation; or by showing that such alternative means, if available, are inadequate by reason of location, schedules, or overcrowded condition, by reason of physical disability of the person needing transportation, by reason of the nature of the work for which transportation is needed, or for such other reasons as the Chief, License Bureau, may find sufficient.

(b) Upon the basis of the application and such other facts as the Chief, License Bureau, may require, mileage shall be allowed for any of the purposes listed in paragraph (b) of § 1394.9010 for which applicant has applied, with respect to which the applicant has established the facts required by paragraph (a) hereof.

The Chief, License Bureau, shall allow only that portion of the claimed mileage (in the absence of a ride-sharing arrangement) with respect to which the applicant has established the inadequacy of alternative means of transportation (in accordance with paragraph (a) (2) (ii) of this section). The Chief, License Bureau, shall then determine the total average occupational mileage per month required by the applicant and allowed by him for the period of one year specified in paragraph (b) of § 1394.9010 and shall issue a supplemental ration, in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.9012, to provide such mileage.

(c) The Chief, License Bureau, shall deduct from the mileage he allows for a passenger automobile in accordance with paragraph (b), above, 150 miles per month for each additional passenger automobile owned by the applicant or by any person living in his household and related to him by blood, marriage or adoption, if the Chief, License Bureau, finds that such automobile is available to and adequate for the use of the applicant for the purpose for which the supplemental ration is sought. No such automobile shall be deemed available to the applicant if it is used, to a substantial extent, for an occupational purpose of another person; nor shall such automobile be deemed available to the applicant during the effective period of a supplemental ration issued to another person whose mileage allowance was reduced on account of such automobile.

§ 1394.9012 Issuance of supplemental rations. (a) Supplemental rations shall be issued by the Chief, License Bureau, to provide the total mileage allowed in accordance with § 1394.9011.

(1) In the case of a passenger automobile the Chief, License Bureau, shall issue one or more Class B books, or E books in the case of a motorcycle, bearing expiration dates one year from the date of issuance, and containing the number of coupons allowable.

(b) The Chief, License Bureau, shall remove and destroy all coupons in Class B books in excess of the number to be issued hereunder.

(c) For the purpose of paragraph (a) of this section, a passenger automobile is conclusively presumed to operate fifteen (15) miles, and a motorcycle forty (40) miles, per gallon of gasoline.

§ 1394.9013 Rations for commercial motor vehicles. (a) The Chief, License Bureau, shall issue Class B coupons, or a certificate of authority to acquire gasoline which shall authorize the acquisition of gasoline upon the signing of an acknowledgment of delivery, to the owner or the person who is entitled to the use of a registered motor vehicle which is licensed or used for commercial purposes, provided such person is authorized to purchase gasoline in the Canal Zone under Article III of the 1936 Treaty between the United States and the Republic of Panama.

(b) Application for commercial ration shall be made to the Chief, License Bureau, on the prescribed form and shall establish the average monthly mileage required, and the purpose for which the vehicle is used.

(c) An application for rations for a commercial motor vehicle operated under contract or agreement with The Panama Canal shall be referred to the Chief Quartermaster of The Panama Canal who shall determine the quantity of gasoline to be authorized for such motor vehicle.

§ 1394.9014 Persons entitled to non-highway rations. Any person who requires gasoline for a non-highway purpose may obtain a non-highway ration authorizing the acquisition of the quantity of gasoline required for such purpose, except as provided in paragraph (b) of § 1394.9017. Non-highway rations shall be issued for one year periods.

§ 1394.9015 Non-highway ration books. (a) Class E coupon books shall be issued as non-highway rations. Coupons in Class E books shall each have a value of one unit, and shall be valid for the transfer of gasoline to a non-highway consumer during the one-year period noted on such books by the Chief, License Bureau.

(b) The Chief, License Bureau, shall issue a certificate of authority to acquire gasoline in lieu of Class E coupon books to owners of non-highway equipment who require gasoline in excess of twenty-four (24) gallons a month, which authority shall authorize the acquisition of gasoline upon the signing of an acknowledgment of delivery.

(c) An application for a ration for non-highway equipment used in connection with carrying out a contract or agreement with The Panama Canal shall be referred to the Chief Quartermaster of The Panama Canal who shall determine the quantity of gasoline to be authorized for such non-highway equipment.

§ 1394.9016 Application for non-highway ration. (a) Applications for non-highway rations may be made on the prescribed form. Application may be made by an agent.

(b) The applicant shall state the quantity of gasoline needed for the year following the date on which such ration is required, and the non-highway purpose or purposes for which such gasoline is needed.

§ 1394.9017 Issuance of non-highway rations. (a) The Chief, License Bureau, shall determine the quantity of gasoline required for one year referred to in paragraph (b) of § 1394.9016, and, subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, shall issue to the applicant one or more Class E books containing a sufficient number of coupons to enable the applicant to acquire the quantity of gasoline so determined to be necessary for such period. The Chief, License Bureau, shall remove from the book and destroy any coupons in excess of the number allotted.

(b) If application is made for a non-highway ration for use with a motorboat or outboard motor operated wholly or in part for a non-occupational purpose, the Chief, License Bureau, shall not allow for the non-occupational purpose a quantity of gasoline in excess of the number of gallons determined by the following formulae:

(1) In the case of an inboard motorboat, the number of gallons equal to eight times the manufacturer's rated horsepower of the motor or motors but in any event not more than five hundred (500) gallons in a period of one year;

(2) In the case of an outboard motor, the number of gallons equal to 10 times the manufacturer's rated horsepower of such motor, but not in excess of eighty (80) gallons in a period of one year.

(c) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of § 1394.9038, no more than one non-occupational ration may be issued for an inboard motorboat or an outboard motor during any year.

§ 1394.9018 Issuance of rations to contractors. (a) A contractor under contract with the United States Government or its agencies shall be authorized to acquire gasoline in bulk solely for use on the contract work. No gasoline issued to a contractor under this section shall be consumed in a motor vehicle licensed for personal use.

(b) Application for a bulk ration shall be made by a contractor to the Chief, License Bureau, on the prescribed form and shall indicate the minimum quantity of gasoline in gallons required on the contract operations each month, and shall be referred to the contracting agency which will determine the quantity of gasoline allowed. The Chief, License Bureau, shall issue a certificate of authority for the purchase of the quantity of gasoline allowed.

(c) The contractor shall submit a report to the Chief, License Bureau, within 10 days after the close of each month showing the quantity of gasoline on hand at the beginning of the month, the quantity purchased during the month, the source of gasoline purchased, a list of vehicles in which the gasoline was consumed, and the quantity on hand at the close of the month.

(d) The Chief, License Bureau, may at any time change the quantity of gasoline authorized to be acquired by a contractor when in his opinion such change is necessary.

§ 1394.9019 Acknowledgments of delivery. The Chief, License Bureau, shall provide an Acknowledgment of Delivery form to be used for the acquisition of gasoline by or on behalf of any agencies of the United States Government which distribute gasoline for other than official use and to be signed by contractors or other persons authorized to acquire gasoline pursuant to a certificate of authority. Any such acknowledgment form bearing the signature of an authorized officer, agent, or employee of any of such agencies, contractors or other persons, shall be valid as an authorization of transfer of gasoline by any person to whom it is presented, to the extent of the gallonage thereon stated. In the event that an acknowledgment form should not be available, gasoline may be acquired by or on behalf of any such agencies or contractor in exchange for a temporary receipt, in any form, if such temporary receipt supplies the information required by the acknowledgment form and is signed by an authorized officer, agent or employee of such agencies or contractor; such temporary receipt shall show the address of the agency on behalf of which such receipt was issued.

§ 1394.9020 Restrictions as to issuance and use. (a) Rations shall be issued only to persons authorized to purchase gasoline in the Canal Zone.

(b) No person to whom a ration has been issued may use or permit the use of such ration for any purpose other than the one for which it was issued.

§ 1394.9021 Rations not transferable. No ration may be transferred or assigned; such ration, may, however, subject to the provisions of § 1394.9023, be used by anyone entitled to use the vehicle, boat or equipment for which it was issued, if such use is for a purpose for which such ration may be obtained and so long as there is no change in ownership of such vehicle, boat or equipment.

§ 1394.9022 Change of occupation of holder of Class B ration. The holder of a Class B ration shall report to the Chief, License Bureau, any change in his residence or principal occupation on the basis of which such ration was issued. If such change of residence or principal occupation appears to affect the quantity of gasoline required for the purpose for which the Class B ration was issued, the Chief, License Bureau, shall notify the holder, in writing, that his right to such ration is to be reexamined. Such notice shall be mailed to the holder of the Class B ration at the address shown on his application or report and shall require him to file a new application for a ration within five days after the mailing date of the notice. If no new application is filed within such time, the Chief, License Bureau, shall revoke such ration and recall all Class B books or coupons issued in connection therewith. If a new application is filed and if the Chief, License Bureau, determines that the change in occupation or residence will not work a substantial change in the amount of the supplemental ration to which the holder will be entitled, he shall take no further action. If the Chief, License Bureau, finds that the change in residence or occupation will result in a substantial change in the amount of the supplemental ration to which the holder is entitled he shall revoke the ration and recall the coupon books originally issued and shall issue in lieu thereof, such ration (if any) as he shall determine that the holder is entitled to receive on the basis of his new application in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.9012.

§ 1394.9023 Restrictions on consumption of gasoline. (a) Except as provided in § 1394.9021, no person shall consume gasoline unless such gasoline was acquired by him or on his behalf in exchange for valid coupons or other evidence; Provided, That:

(1) Any consumer may use for non-highway purposes (other than non-occupational boat operations) gasoline owned by him and in his possession prior to the effective date of these regulations;

(2) Any consumer may use gasoline owned by him and in his possession prior to the effective date of these regulations, for the operation of a registered motor vehicle, or for non-occupational boat operation if, at the time of transfer of such gasoline into the fuel tank of such vehicle or boat, he destroys currently valid coupons issued therefor equal in value to the number of gallons of gasoline so transferred: Provided, That gasoline placed in the fuel supply tank of such vehicle or boat prior to the effective date of these regulations, may be used therein without restriction.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to the consumption of gasoline by any agency of the United States Government, or to the consumption by any one of gasoline brought into the Canal Zone in the fuel supply tank of a vehicle, boat or equipment.

§ 1394.9024 Renewal of rations. (a) Rations shall expire as provided in §§ 1394.9027 (b), 1394.9037, 1394.9038, and 1394.9039. At any time within thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of any ration, or at any time thereafter, application for a further ration may be made. Such application shall be made in the same manner as the original application, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) If there have been no substantial changes since the date of the original application, in the applicant's gasoline needs, or in the nature, quantity and conditions of use of the motor vehicle for which the original ration was issued, and if such original application accurately calculated the applicant's requirements, application for a further ration may be made by executing a renewal application form. The applicant shall in such case, note on such renewal application any changes in the nature or quantity of his use since the date of the original application.

(c) When issuing a further ration prior to the expiration date of a current ration of the same class, the Chief, License Bureau, shall note on the application and on the front cover of the coupon book (if any) representing such further ration the date on which such further ration shall become valid. Such date shall be the day following the expiration date of the current ration.

(d) Except as provided in §§ 1394.9025 and 1394.9026, no further ration of any class may be issued for use prior to (or may be used prior to) the expiration of the current ration of such class.

§ 1394.9025 Issuance of further ration for use prior to expiration date of current ration. (a) Any person who finds that, due to a change in occupation or in the location of place of business or residence, or other change in circumstances, or due to variation in the amount of occupational mileage needed, or miscalculation of needs, a ration of any class (other than a basic ration) issued to him fails to meet his requirements, may apply for a further ration of such class for use prior to the expiration date of his current ration. Such application shall be made in the same manner as the application for the current ration.

(b) The applicant shall append to the application a statement showing:

(1) That the current ration is insufficient to meet his needs for more than thirty (30) days from the date of the application;

(2) The reason or reasons why a further ration will be needed for use prior to the expiration date of the current ration.

(c). If the Chief, License Bureau, determines that, for one or more of the reasons specified in paragraph (a) of this section, more mileage is needed or, in the case of a non-highway ration, more gasoline is required, than that stated in the application on the basis of which the current ration was issued, he may grant a further ration in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1394.9027.

§ 1394.9026 Special cases. (a) Any person to whom a supplemental ration has been issued, who finds that the vehicle or vehicles for which such ration was granted cannot be operated for fifteen (15) miles (or, in the case of a motorcycle, for forty (40) miles) or more on a gallon of gasoline, may apply for a further ration for use prior to the expiration of such current ration.

(b) Such application shall be made in the same manner as the application for the current ration.

(c) The applicant shall append to the application a statement showing:

(1) That the current ration is insufficient to meet his needs for more than thirty (30) days from the date of the application;

(2) The nature of the use of the vehicle or vehicles for which the further ration is sought and the driving conditions under which such vehicle or vehicles are operated;

(3) The reason or reasons why a further ration is sought for use prior to the expiration of the current ration;

(4) That the vehicle or vehicles for which the application is made are in sound mechanical condition and are being operated in such a maner as to secure maximum economy of gasoline.

(d) If the Chief, License Bureau, determines that the vehicle or vehicles for which application is made are being operated in such fashion as to obtain the maximum mileage per gallon of gasoline reasonably possible, he may grant a further ration in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of § 1394.9027.

§ 1394.9027 General provisions. (a) All of the provisions of these regulations applicable to the issuance of an original ration shall apply to the issuance of a further ration pursuant to §§ 1394.9024, 1394.9025, and 1394.9026, except as otherwise expressly provided in these sections.

(b) When granting a further ration for use prior to the original expiration date of a current ration, pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.9025 or § 1394.9026, the Chief, License Bureau, shall redetermine the expiration date of such current ration. Such redetermination shall be based on his estimate of the date on which such current ration will be exhausted. The Chief, License Bureau, shall thereupon note such redetermined expiration date on the application for such current ration and on the coupon books issued therefor. The redetermined date shall be deemed the expiration date of such current ration for all purposes of these regulations. The further ration shall then be issued in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) of § 1394.9024.

§ 1394.9028 Appearances before Chief, License Bureau. The Chief, License Bureau, may require any applicant for a ration to appear before him for examination and to produce such witnesses or evidence as he may deem material.

§ 1394.9029 Presentation of registration card. No gasoline ration shall be issued to a person who resides in the Republic of Panama for any motor vehicle unless the Republic of Panama registration receipt authorizing the operation of such vehicle during all or part of the period for which such ration is to be issued is presented to the Chief, License Bureau.

§ 1394.9030 Notation on registration cards. (a) At the time of issuing a gasoline ration for a motor vehicle registered in the name of a person who resides in the Republic of Panama, the person issuing such ration shall make a clear notation in ink, indelible pencil or by typewriter, on the back of the motor vehicle registration receipt issued in the Republic of Panama presented by the applicant, showing the date of issuance, the class of ration and the serial number of the ration book issued.

(b) The Chief, License Bureau, shall make a record on the file copy of the license registration of all ration books issued for motor vehicles.

§ 1394.9031 Presentation of new motor vehicle registration receipts. Persons who reside in the Republic of Panama who have been issued ration books under these regulations, upon being issued a new motor vehicle registration receipt, shall within ten (10) days from the date of issuance thereof, present the new receipt to the Chief, License Bureau. The Chief, License Bureau, shall record thereon the record of the issuance of the ration book issued in the manner prescribed in § 1394.9030.

§ 1394.9032 Notation on ration books and application. (a) At the time of issuance of any ration book for a registered motor vehicle, the Chief, License Bureau, shall make a clear notation on the cover thereof, in ink, indelible pencil, or by typewriter, of the registration number of the vehicle for which it is issued and of the name and address of the registered owner of such vehicle. The Chief, License Bureau, shall also make a notation on the cover of such book and on the application therefor, of the date on which it becomes valid and of its expiration date.

(b) At the time of issuance of a nonhighway ration book, the Chief, License Bureau, shall make a clear notation on such book in ink, indelible pencil, or by typewriter, of the name and address of the applicant and of the period during which such book shall be valid. Such period shall also be noted on the application.

§ 1394.9033 Change in motor vehicle registration number. (a) The holder of a ration book issued for a registered motor vehicle shall, upon any change in the registration number of such vehicle, submit such ration book to the Chief, License Bureau, at the time of issuance of the new registration number for the purpose of having the notation thereon changed to correspond to the new registration number. The Chief, License Bureau, upon presentation of such book shall obliterate the registration number appearing thereon and note thereon, in ink, indelible pencil, or by typewriter, the new registration number issued for such vehicle. Such notation shall be countersigned or initialed by the Chief, License Bureau.

(b) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the continued use of a ration book after a change in ownership of the vehicle for which it was issued.

(c) Any alteration on the face or cover of any ration book, unless made and countersigned by a person authorized to do so under these regulations, shall render such book, and the coupons therein, invalid.

§ 1394.9034 Lost or destroyed coupon books. (a) In the event of the accidental loss, destruction, or mutilation of any coupon book, the holder thereof may apply to the Chief, License Bureau, for replacement thereof.

(b) Such application shall be made on the prescribed form, under oath or affirmation, and shall set forth:

(1) The name and address of the applicant;

(2) The class, date and place of issuance and expiration date of such book;

(d) No person receiving a duplicate book under paragraph (c) hereof shall use, attempt to use, or permit the use of the original book or coupons, but shall surrender such original book or coupons, if damaged or mutilated, to the Chief, License Bureau, at the time of issuance of the duplicate book; in the event that a lost book or lost coupons are found after duplicates have been issued, such original book or coupons shall be surrendered to the Chief, License Bureau, forthwith.

§ 1394.9035 Signature on coupon book. No coupon book shall be valid until the person to whom such book is issued has signed the certification provided for therein.

§ 1394.9036 Surrender of expired coupons. (a) No ration may be used and no coupon book shall be valid for the transfer of gasoline to a consumer after the expiration thereof.

(b) The person to whom a ration has been issued shall, within five (5) days after the expiration thereof, surrender to the Chief, License Bureau, all expired coupon books and all unused coupons representing such ration.

§ 1394.9037 Expiration of rations. All basic rations shall expire at midnight, September 30, 1943. All other rations shall expire at midnight of the date noted on the application therefor or on the coupon books issued therefor.

(c) Upon cessation of use of a ration (other than a basic ration) for a purpose for which such ration may be obtained, such ration shall expire and all unused coupons and books issued therefor shall, within five (5) days after such cessation, be surrendered to the Chief, License Bureau, by the person to whom such ration was issued.

The person receiving the ration so surrendered shall transmit it without delay to the Chief, License Bureau, with a report of the termination of employment.

§ 1394.9040 Denial of gasoline rations. (a) No person whose name has been recorded by the Chief, License Bureau, in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.9042 of these regulations for refusal to surrender a gasoline ration book, or for failure or refusal, without good cause shown, to appear before such Chief, License Bureau, for examination, shall be entitled to obtain a ration of any type under these regulations, while his name remains thus recorded.

(b) No person who has been issued and has in his possession a ration book issued in the Republic of Panama shall be entitled to obtain a ration book in the Canal Zone.

§ 1394.9041 Suspension and revocation of rations. All coupon books issued shall remain the property of the United States. The Chief, License Bureau, may refuse to issue, and may suspend, cancel, revoke, or recall any ration and may require the surrender and return of any coupon book during suspension or pursuant to cancelation, whenever he deems it to be in the public interest to do so.

§ 1394.9042 Review by Chief, License Bureau, of applications for gasoline ration. (a) The Chief, License Bureau, may review an application for a gasoline ration of any class and may, in his discretion, require a holder of a gasoline ration to appear before him for examination in order to determine whether such holder was entitled to receive such ration. The Chief, License Bureau, may also require the holder of a ration to appear before him for examination in order to determine whether such ration is being used in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.9020. The Chief, License Bureau, shall give written notice to the holder of the time and place fixed for such appearance. The notice shall be deemed sufficient if mailed to the address shown on the application at least five (5) days prior to such time.

(b) If the Chief, License Bureau, finds that the ration holder was not entitled to receive the ration issued, or, if he finds that a ration issued is being used for a purpose other than one for which such ration may be obtained, he shall revoke such ration and shall direct that any coupons or coupon books issued therefor be surrendered to him. If he finds that the holder is entitled to a ration of a different class or quantity than that issued, he may issue such ration as he finds the holder entitled to receive pursuant to the provisions of these regulations in place of the ration revoked.

Any person whose name remains recorded shall be prohibited from securing any ration under the provisions of these regulations or of any gasoline ration regulations hereafter promulgated.

§ 1394.9043 Restriction on transfer to consumers. On and after October 1, 1942, and notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement or commitment, regardless of when made, no person other than a dealer or distributor shall transfer or offer to transfer gasoline to a consumer.

(1) At the time of transfer, the transferor must require presentation of the coupon book and must detach therefrom coupons having an aggregate unit value equal to the amount of gasoline transferred: Provided, That if the transferee is able to accept only a portion of the amount of gasoline represented by the unit value of a coupon, the transferor shall nevertheless detach an entire coupon. No transfer may be made pursuant to this paragraph in exchange for a coupon detached prior to the presentation of the coupon book to the transferor.

(2) Transfer may be made only into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle identified on the coupon book presented: Provided, That bulk transfer may be made, of an amount of gasoline not in excess of one unit, to enable a vehicle stranded for lack of fuel to reach a source of supply; in such case the transferor shall retain the ration book presented until the vehicle is brought to the place of transfer, for identification.

The Board shall promptly notify the applicant and the Chief, License Bureau, in writing, of its decision. In the event that a decision of the Chief, License Bureau, is reversed or modified by the Board, the record shall be sent to the Chief, License Bureau, for action consistent with its decision.

(2) In all other cases, if, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount or tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 245.

§ 1415.107 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to and at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. In appropriate situations where a petition for amendment requires extended consideration, the Price Administrator may, upon application, grant permission to agree to adjust prices upon deliveries made during the pendency of the petition in accordance with the disposition of the petition.

§ 1415.108 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any modifications of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 245 or exception not provided for therein may file petitions for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1421.151 Maximum prices for gray iron castings. (a) On and after October 26, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver gray iron castings, and no person shall buy or receive gray iron castings in the course of trade or business, at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in Appendix A hereof, incorporated herein as § 1421.166; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing: Provided, That (1) if the purchaser shall receive from the seller a written affirmation that to the best of his knowledge, information and belief the price charged does not exceed the maximum price established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 and that the seller has complied with all other provisions (including the filing requirements of § 1421.161) of this regulation, and if in such case the purchaser shall have no knowledge of the maximum price and no cause to doubt the accuracy of the affirmation, the purchaser shall have complied with this section; and (2) where the contract of sale has been entered into on or before October 25, 1942, the parties thereto may make and accept deliveries of the castings required or specified in such contract and the seller may render bills or invoices for such castings to the purchaser at the contract price, subject to adjustment of said price in accordance with the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 within a period not to exceed 30 days after the billing or invoicing.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section prohibiting purchasers from paying in excess of the maximum prices shall not be applicable to any war procurement agency or any contracting officer thereof, and any such contracting officer or any paying finance officer shall be relieved of any or every liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 or by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(c) The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of gray iron castings to a purchaser if prior to October 26, 1942, such castings have been received by a carrier other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller for shipment to such purchaser.

§ 1421.152 Applicability of General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

§ 1421.153 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1421.154 Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may export any gray iron castings shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration.[2]

§ 1421.155 Federal and State taxes. Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of a gray iron casting, imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such casting:

(a) As to a tax in effect between August 1, 1941 and February 1, 1942, inclusive. (1) If the seller paid such tax, or if the tax was paid by any prior vendor, irrespective of whether the amount thereof was separately stated and collected from the seller, but the seller did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price during the period from August 1, 1941 to February 1, 1942, inclusive, the amount of the tax paid by him or tax reimbursement collected from him by his vendor, the seller may not collect such amount in addition to the maximum price, and in such case shall include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244.

(2) In all other cases if, at the time the seller determines his maximum price, the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does state it separately, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased, and in such case the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244.

(b) As to a tax or increase in a tax which becomes effective after February 1, 1942. If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax or increase does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax or increase separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased.

§ 1421.156 Adjustable pricing. Any person may offer or agree to adjust or fix prices to or at prices not in excess of the maximum prices in effect at the time of delivery. Where a petition or application for amendment or for adjustment or for exception under § 1421.157 has been duly filed, a seller may make sales, deliveries or offers of sale at prices adjustable in accordance with the disposition of such petition or application and shall refund to the purchaser any moneys or other consideration paid which are in excess of the maximum price.

§ 1421.157 Petitions and applications for amendment, adjustment or exception. (a) Any person seeking relief from a maximum price or prices established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 for a particular gray iron casting or particular group of gray iron castings, may present the special circumstances of his case in an application for an order of adjustment. Such an application shall be filed in accordance with Appendix B, incorporated herein as § 1421.167, and shall set forth the facts relating to the hardship to which such maximum price subjects the applicant.

(b) Any person seeking general relief from the maximum prices or from the formula or method of determining maximum prices established under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 may present the special circumstances of his case in a petition for an order of adjustment or exception. Such petition shall be filed with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] and shall set forth the facts relating to the hardship to which such maximum prices or formula or method subjects the applicant together with a statement of the reasons why he believes that the granting of relief in his case and in all like cases will not defeat or impair the policy of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended and of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 to eliminate the danger of inflation.

(c) Persons seeking any modification of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 or an adjustment or exception not provided for therein, may file petitions for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 1[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(d) Supplementary Order No. 9[4] issued by the Office of Price Administration dealing with applications for adjustment of maximum prices of commodities sold pursuant to Government contracts or subcontracts shall not be applicable with respect to gray iron castings.

§ 1421.158 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to gray iron castings, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement, or other trade understanding or otherwise; without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the price limitations set forth in Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 shall not be evaded by improper classification of any gray iron casting, improper application of extras, splitting of orders into small quantities or exchange of patterns in order to increase prices, or by decreasing or discontinuance of cash discounts.

The data specified in (1), (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph (b) shall be kept for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for the same period by each person making a purchase of gray iron castings in the course of trade or business.

(c) Each person making a purchase or sale of gray iron castings in the course of trade or business shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records required in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1421.161 Filing of prices and pricing methods. (a) Each person selling gray iron castings shall file with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration within thirty days after the effective date of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244, three copies, duly certified as being true and correct, of his published price lists in effect between August 1, 1941 and February 1, 1942, inclusive, and a statement, duly signed and sworn to, submitted in triplicate, of his customary extras, discounts and allowances in effect during such period; if such person had no such published price lists or no such customary extras, discounts and allowances, he shall file a sworn statement to that effect with the appropriate Regional Office. A list of the Regional Offices of the Office of Price Administration and the states and territories covered is set forth in Appendix D, incorporated herein as § 1421.169.

(b) Each person selling gray iron castings shall file with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration within sixty days after the effective date of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 244, three copies of a form to be supplied by or obtained at any Regional Office of the OPA, showing in the detail required by such form information as to wage rates, overhead rates, cost of materials, profit margins and pricing methods in effect for such seller at each of his foundries on February 1, 1942.

§ 1421.162 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets, or stock in trade of any person producing gray iron castings are or have been sold or otherwise transferred after February 1, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business or continues to produce the same type of gray iron castings in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligations to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the tansfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record and filing of price provisions of this regulation.

§ 1421.163 Maximum price for new sellers other than transferees. Every person engaged in, or who proposes to engage in, the business of selling gray iron castings who was not in such business at his present foundry on February 1, 1942, and who is not a transferee as described in § 1421.162, shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. § 1421.165 Effective date. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 (§§ 1421.151 to 1421.169, inclusive) shall become effective October 26, 1942.

§ 1421.166 Appendix A: Maximum prices for gray iron castings—(a) Castings substantially the same as those which the seller sold or offered for sale at any time during the period from August 1, 1941 to February 1, 1942, inclusive. The maximum price for each such casting shall be the highest net price (after adjustment for all applicable customary charges, discounts, quantity differentials and other allowances in effect for the seller between August 1, 1941 and February 1, 1942, inclusive) at which the seller sold or offered for sale[6] such casting to a purchaser of the same class during the period from August 1, 1941 to February 1, 1942, inclusive: Provided, That if the seller sold or offered for sale such casting during such period to a specified purchaser, he may not exceed the highest selling or offering price to such purchaser on sales or deliveries to such purchaser.

(b) Castings which are not substantially the same as those which the seller sold or offered for sale at any time during the period from August 1, 1941 to February 1, 1942, inclusive. The maximum price for each such casting shall be computed by the seller on the following basis:

(1) Pricing method. (i) The seller shall employ the applicable pricing method which was in use at the foundry on February 1, 1942, and which has been or will be filed with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with § 1421.161 herein, employing each of the pricing factors reflected in such method at the levels prevailing at such time, except as specified in subparagraph (5) hereinbelow, including: direct labor rates (applied in accordance with subparagraph (2) below); direct material costs (applied in accordance with subparagraph (3) below); overhead (burden) rates (applied in accordance with subparagraph (4) below); subcontracted machinery service costs (applied in accordance with subparagraph (5) below); and mark-up, margin or profit (applied in accordance with subparagraph (6) below).

(ii) The price arrived at by use of the pricing method shall be adjusted for all applicable charges, discounts, quantity differentials or other allowances in use at the foundry on February 1, 1942 in sales to a purchaser of the same class.

(2) Direct labor rates. (i) Direct labor costs shall be based upon the labor rates prevailing in the foundry on February 1, 1942, for each classification of direct labor. If on February 1, 1942 average or piece rates were used, such average or piece rates must be applied, and, in computing such piece rates, the seller shall use the base hourly rates and method in effect for him on February 1, 1942. In determining whether items of labor cost are direct or indirect, the seller shall employ the same classification and criteria which he used on February 1, 1942.

(ii) The amount of overtime labor required may be taken into account in computing the cost of labor: Provided, That (1) overtime labor costs shall be computed on the basis of the labor rates prevailing in the foundry on February 1, 1942 for the applicable classifications of labor, and (2) no mark-up, margin, overhead or profit factors shall be based upon that part of the labor cost which is in excess of the straight-time cost.

(3) Direct material costs. The seller shall compute direct material costs on a basis no higher than the costs to him of such materials on February 1, 1942, not to exceed the applicable maximum prices thereof established by the Office of Price Administration, and, in determining whether items of material costs are direct or indirect, the seller shall employ the same classifications and criteria which he used on February 1, 1942.

(4) Overhead (burden) rates. The seller shall employ overhead or burden rates not in excess of the overhead or burden rates used in his pricing method on February 1, 1942, and he shall compute and apply such rates by the identical method which he used on that date.

(5) Subcontracted machinery service costs. To the extent that the pricing method includes or is based on prices paid for subcontracted machinery services, the seller shall use the actual prices paid or to be paid for such services, not in excess of the maximum prices established for such services by the Office of Price Administration, together with such additional charge, if any, as was in effect for such seller on February 1, 1942 for such subcontracted machinery services: Provided, That no overhead, markup, margin or profit may be figured on such additional charge.

(6) Mark-up, margin or profit. The seller shall use the mark-up, margin or profit which he used at the foundry on February 1, 1942, for the same type or classification of castings and customers, and which has been or will be filed with the Office of Price Administration in accordance with § 1421.161 herein.

(c) Reports and recomputation of maximum prices of gray iron castings priced in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section. (1) When a seller first computes a maximum price for any such casting for which he has no previous production experience, he shall compute such maximum price in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section and he shall employ in his pricing method his best estimates of the number of man-hours of labor, amount of defectives, and quantities of materials and other costs which will be required or incurred in the production of such casting. The seller shall, however, on subsequent contracts of sale for the same casting made after actual production thereof, recompute the maximum price of such casting in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, employing in his pricing method the number of man-hours of labor, amount of defectives, and kinds and quantities of materials and other costs actually required or incurred in the production of such casting: Provided, That the seller shall not be required to recompute such maximum price as hereinbefore specified after he has gained sufficient production experience with such casting to enable him to calculate his costs thereof with reasonable accuracy.

(2) In any case in which a seller, in accordance with the preceding subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (c), recomputes a maximum price which is higher than the maximum price earlier estimated, he shall file a report with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration containing:

(i) Description of the gray iron casting;

(ii) The maximum price prior to the price increase;

(iii) The new maximum price.

(iv) An explanation of the higher price (in terms of the pricing method and of the appropriate cost factors reflected in such pricing method): Provided, That if the price of the gray iron casting previously has been reported pursuant to this subparagraph (2) without objection from the Office of Price Administration, the seller shall not be required to report subsequent sales or deliveries at the same or a lower price.

(d) Exceptions. Any person who, by order of the office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., or any of its Re-

By adding the following sections to Subpart C of Part 6:

§ 6.5–13 United States Naval Proving Ground, Dahlgren, Virginia.—(a) The danger zones. The firing range of the United States Naval Proving Ground at Dahlgren, Virginia, involves that portion of the Potomac River below the Maryland-Virginia bridge on U. S. Highway 301 as described herein. This range constitutes a danger area composed of two zones to be known as the Upper and Lower Danger Zones.

(1) The Upper Danger Zone in which firing is normally conducted daily except Sunday, is defined as follows, beginning at the intersection of the new Potomac River bridge with the Virginia shore; thence to Lower Cedar Point Light House; thence to white spar Buoy 1-A about 2,300 yards east southeast of lower Cedar Point beacon; thence to a line of white spar buoys known as line of fire buoys, No. 1 Buoy 1,500 yards southwest by west of Swan Point, No. 2 Buoy, 1,700 yards south of Potomac View, No. 3 Buoy, about 1,300 yards south by west of lower end of Cobb Island; thence on a line to nun Buoy No. 4–A abreast of Blakiston Island abandoned light house; thence southwesterly to Hollis Marsh along a line of white spar buoys off the Virginia shore as follows: White spar Buoy D, about 3,000 yards off Popes Creek; thence to white spar Buoy C, 3,500 yards off Church Point; thence to white spar Buoy B, 800 yards off Colonial Beach; thence to white spar Buoy A, 1,000 yards off Bluff Point; thence on a line to the seaplane hangar at the Proving Ground.

(2) The Lower Danger Zone in which long range firing is normally conducted at infrequent intervals embraces the Naval Torpedo Range at Piney Point, Maryland, and subject to special additional restrictions in the vicinity of that activity, is defined as the entire portion of the lower Potomac River between a line from nun Buoy 4–A off Blakiston Island on a line to Hollis Marsh and a line from Point Lookout, Maryland, to Smith Point, Virginia.

Chapter IX—Agricultural Marketing Administration

[O-66]

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA OR IN THE STATE OF ARIZONA

HANDLING OF ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA OR ARIZONA

It is provided in Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of the act, issue orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities (including oranges) as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities.

Sec.
966.1 Findings.
966.2 Order relative to handling.
966.3 Definitions.
966.4 Orange Administrative Committee.
966.5 Expenses and assessments.
966.6 Regulation.
966.7 Prorate districts.
966.8 Oranges not subject to regulation.
966.9 Reports.
966.10 Compliance.
966.11 Right of the Secretary.
966.12 Effective time and termination.
966.13 Effect of termination or amendment.
966.14 Duration of immunities.
966.15 Agents.
966.16 Derogation.
966.17 Personal liability.
966.18 Separability.

AUTHORITY: §§ 966.1 to 966.18, inclusive, issued under 48 Stat. 31, 670, 675, 49 Stat. 750, 50 Stat. 246; 7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.

§ 966.1 Findings and determinations.—(a) Findings upon the basis of hearing record. Pursuant to the act and the rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR 900.1–900.17; 6 F.R. 6571, 7 F.R. 3350), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and order regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The issuance of this order and all of the terms and conditions hereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The terms and provisions of this order prescribe, so far as practicable, such different terms, applicable to different production areas, as are necessary to give due recognition to the difference in production and marketing of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona;

(3) This order is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of such regional production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act; and

(4) This order regulates the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and proclaimed that, in connection with the execution of a marketing agreement and the issuance of an order regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, the purchasing power of such oranges during the pre-war period August 1909–July 1914 cannot be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture, but that the purchasing power of such oranges can be satisfactorily determined from available statistics of the Department of Agriculture for the post-war period August 1919–July 1929; and the post-war period August 1919–July 1929 is the base period to be used in connection with such marketing agreement and this order in determining the purchasing power of such oranges.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the oranges covered by this order) of at least 80 percent of the volume of oranges covered by this order refused or failed to sign the tentatively approved marketing agreement regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona; and it is further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said tentatively approved marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of such oranges; and

(3) The issuance of this order is approved or favored by the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of the approval of the order and who, during the determined representative period, produced for market at least two-thirds of the volume of oranges produced for market within the States of California and Arizona.

§ 966.2 Order relative to handling. From and after the effective date hereof, such handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona as is in the current of commerce between the State of California and any point outside thereof in the continental United States, Alaska, or Canada, or between the State of Arizona and any point outside thereof in the continental United States, Alaska, or Canada, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect such commerce, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of this order.

§ 966.3 Definitions. As used herein, the following terms have the following meanings:

(a) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States or any officer or employee of the United States Department of Agriculture who is, or who may hereafter be, authorized to exercise the powers and perform the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

(b) "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (50 Stat. 246 (1937), 7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.), as amended.

(c) "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any business unit.

(d) "Oranges" means all varieties of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, which are included in the botanical classification of Citrus Sinensis.

(e) "Variety of oranges" means (1) Valencia oranges or (2) all oranges other than Valencia oranges.

(f) "Fiscal year" means the twelve-month period ending October 31 of each year.

(g) "Committee" means the Orange Administrative Committee established pursuant to § 966.4.

(h) "Grower" and "producer" are synonymous and mean any person who produces oranges for market.

(i) "Handler" means any person who handles oranges.

(j) "Handle" means to buy, sell, consign, transport, ship (except as a common carrier of oranges owned by another person), or in any other way to place oranges in fresh form in the current of commerce between the State of California and any point outside thereof in the continental United States, Alaska, or Canada, or between the State of Arizona and any point outside thereof in the continental United States, Alaska, or Canada, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect such commerce.

(k) "Oranges available for current shipment" means all oranges as measured by the total tree crop. If regulations pursuant to § 966.6 become effective after the beginning of a marketing season for any variety of oranges, the term shall include all oranges which are within the area of production.

(l) "Box", means a standard orange box as defined by the Agricultural Code of California.

(m) "Central marketing organization" means any organization which markets oranges for more than one handler pursuant to a written contract between such organization and each such handler.

(n) "Carload" means a quantity of oranges equivalent to 462 packed boxes of oranges.

§ 966.4 Orange Administrative Committee—(a) Establishment and membership. There is hereby established an Orange Administrative Committee consisting of seven members, for each of whom there shall be an alternate member who shall be nominated and selected in the same manner and who shall have the same qualifications as the member for whom each is an alternate member. All of the members and alternate members of the committee, except the member and alternate member nominated pursuant to paragraph (c) (6) of this section, shall be growers who shall not be handlers or employees of handlers.

(b) Term of office. The initial members and alternate members of the committee shall hold office for a term beginning on the date designated by the Secretary and ending October 31, 1944, or until their successors are selected and have qualified. The term of office of succeeding members and alternate members of the committee shall begin on the first day of November and shall continue for two years thereafter, or until their successors are selected and have qualified.

(c) Nominations. (1) The time and manner of nominating members and alternate members of the committee shall be prescribed by the Secretary.

(2) Any cooperative marketing organization, or the growers affiliated therewith, which marketed more than 50 percent of the total volume of oranges marketed in fresh form during the fiscal year preceding the date on which nominations for members and alternate members of the committee are to be submitted, shall nominate not less than six growers for three members and six growers for three alternate members of the committee.

(3) All cooperative marketing organizations which market oranges and which are not qualified under paragraph (c) (2) of this section, or the growers affiliated therewith, shall nominate not less than two growers for a member and two growers for an alternate member of the committee.

(4) All growers who are not affiliated with cooperative marketing organizations which market oranges shall nominate not less than four growers for two members and four growers for two alternate members of the committee

(5) When voting for nominees, each grower shall be entitled to cast one vote which shall be cast on behalf of himself, his agents, subsidiaries, affiliates, and representatives. The votes of cooperative marketing organizations voting pursuant to paragraph (c) (3) of this section shall be weighted in accordance with the volume of oranges handled during the fiscal year preceding the date upon which such nominations are made.

(6) The first six members of the committee selected by the Secretary pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section shall meet on a date designated by the Secretary and, by a concurring vote of at least four members, shall nominate two persons for a member and two persons for an alternate member of the committee, which persons shall not be growers or handlers, or employees, agents, or representatives of a grower or a handler (other than a charitable or educational institution which is a grower or a handler), or in any other way directly associated with the production or marketing of oranges.

(d) Selection. From the nominations made pursuant to paragraph (c) (2) of this section, the Secretary shall select three members and three alternate members of the committee. From the nominations made pursuant to paragraph (c) (3) of this section the Secretary shall select one member and one alternate member of the committee. From the nominations made pursuant to paragraph (c) (4) of this section the Secretary shall select two members and two alternate members of the committee. (f) Acceptance. Any person selected by the Secretary as a member or as an alternate member of the committee shall qualify by filing a written acceptance with the Secretary within ten days after being notified of such selection.

(g) Vacancies. To fill any vacancy occasioned by the failure of any person selected as a member or as an alternate member of the committee to qualify, or in the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of any member or alternate member of the committee, a successor to the unexpired term of such member or alternate member of the committee shall be selected by the Secretary from nominations made in the manner specified in this section. If the names of nominees to fill any such vacancy are not made available to the Secretary within fifteen days after such vacancy occurs, the Secretary may fill such vacancy without regard to nominations, which selection shall be made on the basis of representation provided for herein.

(h) Alternate members. An alternate member of the committee, during the absence or at the request of the member for whom he is an alternate, shall act in the place and stead of such member: Provided, That a member may designate an alternate member other than his own alternate member to serve in the place and stead of such member, if the alternate member so designated was selected from the same group which was authorized to nominate the member. In the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of a member, his alternate shall act for him until a successor for such member is selected and has qualified.

(i) Powers. The committee shall have the following powers:

(1) To administer the provisions hereof in accordance with its terms;

(2) To make and adopt rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions hereof;

(3) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations of the provisions hereof; and

(4) To recommend to the Secretary amendments hereto.

(j) Duties. The committee shall have the following duties:

(1) To select a chairman and such other officers as may be necessary, and to define the duties of such officers;

(2) To appoint such employees, agents, and representatives as it may deem necessary, and to determine the compensation and to define the duties of each;

(3) To submit to the Secretary at the beginning of each fiscal year a budget for such fiscal year, including a report in explanation of the items appearing therein and a recommendation as to the rate of assessment for such fiscal year;

(4) To keep minutes, books, and records which will reflect all of the acts and transactions of the committee and which shall be subject to examination by the Secretary;

(5) To prepare a monthly statement of the financial operations of the committee and to make copies of each such statement available for examination at the office of the committee;

(6) To prepare an annual report of its operations and to mail or otherwise make available to all known growers and handlers a copy thereof;

(7) To cause its books to be audited by a certified public accountant at least once each fiscal year, and at such other times as the Secretary may request;

(8) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any grower or handler;

(9) To provide an adequate system for determining the total quantity of each variety of oranges available for current shipment, and to make such determinations as it may deem necessary, or as may be prescribed by the Secretary, in connection with the administration hereof;

(10) To investigate the growing, handling, and marketing conditions with respect to oranges, and to assemble data in connection therewith;

(11) To submit to the Secretary such available information, including verified reports, as he may request;

(12) To consult with such representatives of growers or groups of growers as may be deemed necessary and to pay the travel expenses incurred by such representatives in attending committee meetings at the request of the committee: Provided, That the committee shall not pay the travel expenses of more than three such representatives in connection with any one meeting of the committee;

(13) To perform such duties as may be assigned to it by the Secretary in connection with the administration of Section 32 of the Act to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and for other purposes, Public Act No. 320, 74th Congress (August 24, 1935), as amended.

(k) Procedure. (1) A majority of the committee shall constitute a quorum and any action of the committee shall require four concurring votes.

(2) The committee may provide for voting by telegraph, telephone, or other means of communication; and any votes so cast shall be confirmed promptly in writing: Provided, That if an assembled meeting is held, all votes shall be cast in person.

(l) Expenses and compensation. The members of the committee, and their respective alternates when acting as members, shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred by them in the performance of their duties hereunder and shall receive compensation at a rate to be determined by the committee, which rate shall not exceed $5.00 for each day or portion thereof spent in attending such meetings.

§ 966.5 Expenses and assessments—(a) Expenses. The committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to enable the committee to exercise its powers and perform its duties in accordance with the provisions hereof during each fiscal year.

(b) Assessments. (1) Each person who first handles oranges shall, with respect to the oranges so handled by him, pay to the committee, upon demand, such person's pro rata share of the expenses which the Secretary finds are necessary during each fiscal year. Each such person's share of such expenses shall be equal to the ratio between the total quantity of such oranges handled by him as the first handler thereof during the applicable fiscal year, and the total quantity of such oranges so handled by all persons during the same fiscal year.

(2) The Secretary shall fix the rate of assessment to be paid by each such person. At any time during or after the fiscal year, the Secretary may increase the rate of assessment in order to secure sufficient funds to cover any later finding by the Secretary relative to the expense which may be incurred. Such increase shall be applied to all oranges handled during the applicable fiscal year. In order to provide funds for the administration of the provisions hereof, the committee may accept the payment of assessments in advance, and may borrow money in an amount not to exceed ten percent of the estimated expenses set forth in its budget for the then current fiscal year.

(3) The committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, maintain a suit in its own name, or in the names of its members, to enforce the payment of assessments levied under paragraph (b) of this section.

(c) Accounting. (1) If, at the end of a fiscal year, the assessments collected are in excess of the expenses incurred by the committee, each person entitled to a proportionate refund of the excess assessments shall be credited with such a refund against the cost of administration hereof for the following fiscal year. If any person ceases to handle oranges, he may demand payment of such a refund, and the refund shall be paid to him: Provided, That any sum paid by a person in excess of his pro rata share of the expenses during any fiscal year may be applied by the committee at the end of such fiscal year to any outstanding obligations due the committee from such person.

(2) All funds received by the committee pursuant to the provisions hereof shall be used solely for the purposes herein specified, and shall be accounted for in the manner herein provided. The Secretary may, at any time, require the committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

§ 966.6 Regulation — (a) Marketing policy. (1) At the beginning of the marketing season for each variety of oranges the committee shall prepare a report setting forth its proposed policy for the marketing of such variety of oranges. In the event it becomes advisable to modify such marketing policy, because of changed demand and supply conditions, the committee shall submit a report showing such modifications and the reasons therefor.

(2) All meetings of the committee held for the purpose of formulating such marketing policies shall be open to growers and handlers. The committee shall give growers and handlers reasonable notice of such meetings.

(3) The committee shall transmit a copy of each marketing policy report or revision thereof to the Secretary and shall give reasonable notice to growers and handlers of the contents thereof. Copies of all such reports shall be maintained in the office of the committee where they shall be available for examination by growers and handlers.

(b) Recommendations for regulation. (1) Each week during the marketing season for each variety of oranges the committee shall recommend to the Secretary the total quantity of each such variety of oranges which it deems advisable to be handled during the next succeeding week. If prorate districts are established pursuant to § 966.7, the committee shall recommend to the Secretary the total quantity of each such variety of oranges grown in each such prorate district which it deems advisable to be handled during each such week. If, for any reason, the committee fails to recommend to the Secretary the total quantity of each variety of oranges which it deems advisable to be handled during each week, as required hereby, reports representing the respective views of the committee members with respect to its failure to act shall be submitted promptly to the Secretary.

(2) In making its recommendations, the committee shall give due consideration to the following factors: (i) market prices for oranges, including market prices by grades and sizes; (ii) supply of oranges on track at, and en route to, the principal markets; (iii) supply, maturity, and condition of oranges in the area of production, including the grade and size composition thereof; (iv) market prices and supplies of citrus fruits from competitive producing areas, and supplies of other competitive fruits; (v) trend and level in consumer income; and (vi) other relevant factors.

(3) At any time during a week for which the Secretary, pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, has fixed the quantity of any variety of oranges which may be handled, the committee may, if such action is deemed advisable because of unusual or unforeseen changes in the demand for oranges, recommend to the Secretary that such quantity be increased for such week. Any such recommendation, together with supporting information, shall be submitted promptly to the Secretary.

(c) Issuance of regulation. Whenever the Secretary shall find, from the recommendations and information submitted by the committee, or from other available information, that to limit the quantity of any variety of oranges which may be handled during a specified week will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall fix such quantity. In the event prorate districts are established pursuant to § 966.7, the Secretary, upon the basis of the recommendations and information submitted by the committee, or from other available information, shall fix the quantity of each variety of oranges grown in each such prorate district which may be handled during such week. The quantity so fixed may be increased by the Secretary at any time during such week.

(d) Prorate bases. (1) Each person who has oranges available for current shipment shall submit to the committee, at such time and in such manner as may be designated by the committee, and upon forms made available by it, a written application for a prorate base and for allotments as provided herein.

(2) Such application shall be substantiated in such manner and shall be supported by such evidence as the committee may require, and shall include (i) the name and address of the producer or duly authorized agent, if any, for each grove or portion thereof, the fruit of which is included in the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by the applicant; (ii) an accurate description of the location of each such grove or portion thereof, including the number of acres contained therein; and (iii) an estimate of the total quantity of each variety of oranges available for current shipment by the applicant in terms of a unit of measure designated by the committee.

(3) Such application shall include only such oranges available for current shipment which the applicant controls (i) by a bona fide written contract giving the applicant authority to handle such oranges, or (ii) by having legal title or possession thereof, or (iii) by having executed an enforceable written agreement to purchase such oranges. If an applicant controls oranges pursuant to subdivision (i) or (iii) hereof, he shall submit a copy of each type of such contract to the committee, together with a statement that no other types of contracts are used, and shall maintain a file of all original contracts evidencing such control which shall be subject to examination by the committee.

(4) If the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by any person is increased or decreased by the acquisition or loss of the control required by paragraph (d) (3) of this section, such person shall submit promptly a report thereon to the committee upon forms made available by it, which report shall be verified in such manner as the committee may require.

(5) If any person gains or loses control of oranges as required by paragraph (d) (3) of this section, there shall be a corresponding increase or decrease in the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by such person. If it is determined by the committee that any person who has lost control of oranges as required by paragraph (d) (3) of this section has handled a quantity of such oranges less than the quantity that could have been handled under the allotments issued thereon, the quantity of oranges available for current shipment by such person shall be adjusted by deducting therefrom, over such period as may be determined by the committee, a quantity of oranges equivalent to the quantity upon which allotments were issued, but which were not utilized thereon.

(6) The committee shall determine the accuracy of the reports submitted pursuant to this section. Whenever the committee finds that there is an error, omission, or inaccuracy in any such report, it shall correct the same and shall give the person who submitted such report a reasonable opportunity to discuss with the committee the factors considered in making the correction. If it is determined that an error, omission, or inaccuracy has resulted in the establishment of a smaller or a larger quantity of oranges available for current shipment than that to which a person was entitled hereunder, such quantity shall be increased or decreased, over such period as may be determined by the committee, by an amount necessary to correct the error, omission, or inaccuracy.

(7) Each week during the marketing season for any variety of oranges the committee shall compute the total quantity of such oranges available for current shipment by each person who has applied for a prorate base and for allotments, and shall transmit a report thereon to the Secretary. Such report shall constitute the recommendation of the committee for a prorate base for each such person. If prorate districts are established pursuant to § 966.7, the said computations and reports shall be made on the basis of the total quantity of the applicable variety of oranges available for current shipment by each such person in each such prorate district. Such computations and reports shall be prepared and submitted during the week prior to the week when the recommended prorate bases are to become applicable.

(8) Upon the basis of the recommendations and reports of the committee, or from other available information, the Secretary shall fix a prorate base for each person who is entitled thereto. Such prorate base shall represent the ratio between the total quantity of the applicable variety of oranges available for current shipment by each such person and the total quantity of such oranges available for current shipment by all such persons. If prorate districts are established pursuant to § 966.7, a prorate base shall be fixed by the Secretary for each person entitled thereto in each such prorate district. Such prorate base shall represent the ratio between the total quantity of the applicable variety of oranges available for current shipment in each such district by each such person and the total quantity of oranges available for current shipment in each such district by all such persons. The Secretary shall notify the committee of the prorate base fixed for each person and the committee shall notify each such person of the prorate base fixed for him.

(e) Allotments. Whenever the Secretary has fixed the quantity of any variety of oranges which may be handled during any week, and has fixed prorate bases for persons entitled thereto, the committee shall calculate the quantity of each such variety of oranges which may be handled by each such person during such week. The said quantity shall be the allotment of each such person and shall be in an amount equal to the product of the prorate base for each such person for each variety and the total quantity of such variety of oranges fixed by the Secretary as the quantity which may be handled during such week. If prorate districts are established pursuant to § 966.7, the allotments shall be in amounts equivalent to the product of the prorate base for each such person for each variety in each such prorate district and the total quantity of such variety of oranges grown in each such prorate district and fixed by the Secretary as the total quantity of such variety of oranges which may be handled during such week. The committee shall give reasonable notice to each person of the allotment computed for him pursuant hereto.

(f) Overshipments. During any week for which the Secretary has fixed the total quantity of any variety of oranges which may be handled, any person (when not required to reduce the quantity of oranges which he may handle during such week, as provided herein) may handle, in addition to his allotment for such variety of oranges, an amount of such oranges equivalent to 10 percent of his allotment of such oranges, or 462 boxes thereof, or an equivalent quantity. The quantity of any variety of oranges so handled in excess of each such person's allotment for such variety of oranges (but not exceeding an amount equivalent to the excess shipments permitted hereunder) shall be deducted from each such person's allotment of such oranges for the next week. If such person's allotment for such week is in an amount less than the excess shipments permitted hereunder, the remaining quantity shall be deducted from succeeding weekly allotments of such oranges issued to each such person until such excess has been entirely offset. The provisions hereof shall not apply to any person who, during any week, has not received an allotment hereunder for such week.

(g) Undershipments. If any person handles during any week a quantity of any variety of oranges, covered by a regulation issued pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, in an amount less than his allotment for such variety of oranges for such week, he may handle, in addition to his allotment for such variety of oranges for the next week only, a quantity of such oranges equivalent to such undershipment.

(h) Allotment loans. (1) A person to whom allotments have been issued may lend such allotments to other persons to whom allotments have been issued: Provided, That such allotment loan transactions are confined to the same variety of oranges and, if prorate districts are established pursuant to § 966.7, to the same prorate district. Such loans shall be evidenced by bona fide written agreements filed with the committee within forty-eight hours after any such agreement has been entered into, and such agreements shall include a provision for the repayment of such allotments during the then current marketing season.

(2) An allotment shall be loaned pursuant to paragraph (h) (1) of this section for use only during the week for which such allotment was issued. Persons securing repayment of an allotment loan may use such allotment only during the week in which the repayment is made.

(3) No allotment which has been loaned may again be loaned by the borrower, or by the lender after the repayment thereof. No person shall loan an allotment when the repayment thereof is not required to complete the marketing of the variety of oranges to which such allotment is applicable. No person shall borrow an allotment which he is unable to repay during the then current marketing season.

(4) The committee may act on behalf of persons desiring to arrange allotment loans. In each such case, the committee shall confirm all such transactions immediately after the completion thereof by memorandum addressed to the parties concerned, which memorandum shall be deemed to satisfy the requirements of paragraph (h) (1) of this section.

(i) Assignment of allotments. Any person who acquires oranges and who does not have a prorate base for such oranges may handle such oranges pursuant to an assignment of an allotment from the person from whom such oranges are acquired. Such assignments of allotments shall be only in amounts equal to the quantity of oranges, and shall cover the same variety of oranges, so acquired. Any such assignments of allotments shall be evidenced by a certificate which shall be in such form and issued in such manner as may be required by the committee. The committee shall provide for an equitable system by means of which persons to whom allotments have been assigned may handle the oranges covered by such assignments in amounts less than the quantity included in the certificates of assignment. The handling of oranges covered by an assignment issued pursuant hereto shall be such as to qualify for undershipments pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section. No allotment may be assigned, transferred, or otherwise disposed of except in accordance with the provisions hereof.

(j) Priority of allotments. During any week in which a person receives an allotment, and has the right to handle a quantity of oranges in addition to the quantity represented by his allotment, by reason of (1) an undershipment of an allotment, pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section; or (2) an assigned allotment, pursuant to paragraph (i) of this section; or (3) the repayment of a loaned allotment, pursuant to paragraph (h) of this section; or (4) a borrowed allotment, pursuant to paragraph (h) of this section, and such person handles a quantity of any variety of oranges which is less than the total quantity of such variety of oranges which such person may handle during such week, the amount of such variety of oranges handled shall first apply to such person's current weekly allotment (or to that portion which is not used pursuant to paragraphs (f), (h), or (i) of this section) and the remainder, if any, shall be applied in the following order: first, to any undershipment of allotments, pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section; second, to any allotment repaid to him, pursuant to paragraph (h) of this section; third, to any allotment assigned to him, pursuant to paragraph (i) of this section; fourth, to any allotment borrowed, pursuant to paragraph (h) of this section.

(k) Allotment pool. The committee may withhold from the allotment of each person an amount not to exceed five percent of such allotment and shall allocate the allotments so withheld among handlers who have made application therefor. Such allocations shall be made in accordance with the need therefor as evidence by the advanced maturity or short life of oranges available for current shipment. All such deductions, allocations, and repayments of allotments shall be made pursuant to a uniform rule adopted by the committee and approved by the Secretary. If prorate districts are established pursuant to § 966.7, separate deductions, allocations, and repayments of allotments hereunder shall be made for each prorate district.

(l) Central marketing organizations. The committee shall give any central marketing organization, upon its request, the same notice, with respect to prorate bases and allotments applicable to each handler for whom it markets oranges, as is given to such handler.

(m) Exchange for State allotments. Persons to whom allotments have been issued pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section may exchange such allotments for allotments issued pursuant to an order, license, or regulation made effective under laws of the State of California or the State of Arizona. All such exchanged allotments shall be limited to the same variety of oranges and shall be exchanged only between persons to whom allotments have been issued in the same prorate district, if such districts are established hereunder. Such exchanges of allotments shall be limited to allotments covering a corresponding weekly period and persons entering into agreements for the exchange of such allotments shall report each such transaction to the committee in such manner as the committee may prescribe.

§ 966.7 Prorate districts. The committee may, from time to time, recommend to the Secretary that the States of California and Arizona be divided into geographic districts. Such recommendations shall be accompanied by information in support thereof. If the Secretary finds, upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the committee, or from other available information, that the establishment of such districts will effectuate the purposes of the act, he shall establish such districts which shall be known as prorate districts.

§ 966.8 Oranges not subject to regulation. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to authorize any limitation of the right of any person to handle oranges (a) for consumption by charitable institutions or for distribution by relief agencies; (b) for conversion into by-products; (c) for export to foreign countries other than Canada; (d) for shipment by parcel post or by railway express in less than carload lots; or (e) for distribution as a gratuity in units of five boxes or less. No assessments shall be levied pursuant to § 966.5 on oranges handled for the purposes specified in this section. The committee may prescribe adequate safeguards to prevent oranges, handled for the purposes designated in this section, from entering commercial fresh fruit channels of trade contrary to the provisions hereof.

§ 966.9 Reports—(a) Weekly report. On or before such day of each week as may be designated by the committee, each handler shall report to the committee, in such manner as may be designated and on forms made available by it, the following information with respect to each variety of oranges disposed of by each such handler during the immediately preceding week: (1) Quantity handled; (2) quantity sold or transported for consumption in fresh form in the state of production; (3) quantity sold or disposed of for manufacture into by-products; (4) quantity exported to countries other than Canada; (5) quantity shipped for distribution to persons on relief, including quantity donated for charitable purposes; and (6) quantity disposed of otherwise.

(b) Other reports. Upon request of the committee, made with the approval of the Secretary, every person subject to regulation hereunder shall furnish to the committee, in such manner and at such times as it may prescribe, such other information as will enable the committee to perform its duties hereunder.

§ 966.10 Compliance. Except as provided herein, no person shall handle oranges during any week in which a regulation issued by the Secretary pursuant to § 966.6 is in effect, unless such person has an allotment, or unless such person is otherwise permitted to handle such oranges under the provisions hereof; and no person shall handle oranges except in conformity with the provisions hereof and the regulations issued hereunder.

§ 966.11 Right of the Secretary. The members of the committee (including successors and alternates), and any agents, employees, or representatives thereof, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every regulation, decision, determination, or other act of the committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time. Upon such disapproval, the disapproved action of the committee shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary. If the committee, for any reason, fails to perform its duties or exercise its powers hereunder, the Secretary may designate another agency to perform such duties and exercise such powers.

§ 966.12 Effective time and termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare above his signature hereto, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways hereinafter specified.

(b) Termination. (1) The Secretary may at any time terminate the provisions hereof by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in other manner which he may determine.

(2) The Secretary shall terminate or suspend the operation of any or all of the provisions hereof whenever he finds that such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(3) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions hereof at the end of any fiscal year whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of producers who, during the preceding fiscal year, have been engaged in the production for market of oranges: Provided, That such majority has, during such period, produced for market more than fifty percent of the volume of such oranges produced for market; but such termination shall be effective only if announced on or before October 15 of the then current fiscal year.

(4) The provisions hereof shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

(c) Proceedings after termination. (1) Upon the termination of the provisions hereof, the committee shall, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the committee, continue as trustees of all the funds and property then in its possession or under its control, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination.

(2) The said trustees shall (i) continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; (ii) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the committee and of the trustees, to such person as the Secretary may direct; and (iii), upon the request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title and right to all of the funds, property, and claims vested in the committee or the trustees pursuant thereto.

(3) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligations imposed upon the committee and upon the trustees.

§ 966.13 Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination hereof or of any regulation issued pursuant hereto, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not (a) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision hereof or any regulation issued hereunder, or (b) release or extinguish any violation hereof or of any regulation issued hereunder, or (c) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violation.

§ 966.14 Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue hereof shall cease upon its termination, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence hereof.

§ 966.15 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States, or name any bureau or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

§ 966.16 Derogation. Nothing contained herein is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States (a) to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or (b) in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

§ 966.17 Personal liability. No member or alternate member of the committee and no employee or agent of the committee shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, employee, or agent, except for acts of dishonesty, wilful misconduct, or gross negligence.

§ 966.18 Separability. If any provision hereof is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the invalidity of the remainder hereof or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing shall not be affected thereby.

An original petition, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting modification of the note included in Size Group No. 11 for All Shipments Except Truck; and

It appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act:

It is ordered, That, pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 11 for All Shipments Except Truck is hereby modified to include in the note in Size Group 11 in § 331.2 (Description of size groups) thereof, the following sizes of air-cleaned breaker nut: 1½″ x 1″, 1¼″ x 1″, 1½″ x ¾″, 1¼″ x ¾″, 1″ x ⅜″ and ¾″ x ⅜″.

Director.

[Docket No. A-1639]

PART 334—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 14

ORDER CONTINUING TEMPORARY RELIEF, ETC.

Order continuing temporary relief, terminating conditionally final relief and notice of and order for hearing in the matter of the petition of the Arkansas Coal Company for the establishment of additional price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of its Arkansas Coal Company Mine (Mine Index No. 593) and for a change in the subdistrict number for this mine.

An original petition was filed with this Division on September 14, 1942, by the above-named party, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, requesting that certain additional price classifications and minimum prices be established for the coals of the Arkansas Coal Company Mine, Mine Index No. 593, in District No. 14, and requesting that the subdistrict designation for that mine be changed from Subdistrict 1 to Subdistrict 2

On September 26, 1942, 7 F.R. 8173, an Order Granting Temporary Relief and Conditionally Providing for Final Relief was issued in this matter temporarily establishing the price classifications and minimum prices requested by petitioner for the coals of the Arkansas Coal Company Mine, and temporarily changing the subdistrict designation for that mine from Subdistrict 1 to Subdistrict 2. This Order further provided that the relief granted therein would become final sixty (60) days from the date thereof unless it should otherwise be ordered.

District Board No. 14 on October 5, 1942, filed with the Division an Intervention and Response denying, among other things alleged in the original petition, that the Arkansas Coal Company Mine, Mine Index No. 593, is located in the Philpott Seam; that the coals produced by petitioner are comparable to coals produced from said Philpott Seam; that the coals produced from petitioner's mine are soft and friable; that the minimum prices requested by petitioner correctly reflect the fair and reasonable value of said coals; and that the subdistrict designation of petitioner's mine should be changed from Subdistrict 1 to Subdistrict 2.

In view of the issues raised by the Intervention and Response of District Board No. 14, with respect to the location of the Arkansas Coal Company Mine, the qualities of the coals produced therefrom, and the price classifications and minimum prices which should properly be made applicable thereto, it appears that no permanent price classifications or minimum prices should be established for the coals of that mine without a hearing. However, no sufficient reason having been advanced by District Board No. 14 to warrant termination of the temporary relief heretofore granted by the Order entered in this matter on September 26, 1942, it appears that such temporary relief should be continued in effect pending final disposition of this proceeding.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That the price classifications and minimum prices temporarily established for the coals of the Arkansas Coal Company Mine, Mine Index No. 593, and the temporary change in subdistrict designation effected for that mine by the Order entered in this matter on September 26, 1942, 7 F.R. 8173, be, and they hereby are, continued in effect pending further order herein.

It is further ordered, That the permanent relief conditionally provided for by the Order entered in this matter on September 26, 1942, 7 F.R. 8173, be, and it hereby is, terminated.

It is further ordered, That a hearing in the above-entitled matter under the applicable provisions of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 and the rules of the Division be held on November 16, 1942, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, at the Circuit Court Room, Fort Smith, Arkansas.

It is further ordered, That Edward J. Hayes or any other officer or officers of the Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all parties herein and to persons or entities having an interest in this proceeding and eligible to become a party herein. Any person desiring to be admitted as a party to this proceeding may file a petition of intervention in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Bituminous Coal Division for proceedings instituted pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Act, setting forth the facts on the basis of which the relief in the original petition is supported or opposed or on the basis of which other relief is sought. Such petitions of intervention shall be filed with the Bituminous Coal Division on or before November 11, 1942.

All persons are hereby notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders entered therein, may concern, in addition to the matters specifically alleged in the petition, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto, which may be raised by amendment to the petition, petitions of intervention or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the relief, if any, granted on the basis of the original petition.

The matter concerned herewith is in regard to the petition of Arkansas Coal Company for (1) the establishment of the following additional price classifications and minimum prices in cents per net ton for the coals of the Arkansas Coal Company Mine, Mine Index No. 593, for all shipments except truck and for truck shipments: and (2) a change in the subdistrict designation for the Arkansas Coal Company Mine (Mine Index No. 593) from Subdistrict 1 to Subdistrict 2 in District No. 14.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

[Suspension Order S-121]

COFFEE CORPORATION OF AMERICA

Coffee Corporation of America, Chicago, Illinois, is a roaster and wholesale distributor of coffee. During the month of May, 1942, the Company sold and delivered approximately 116,000 pounds of coffee in excess of its allowable quota under Conservation Order M-135. 30,000 pounds of this amount were deducted from the Company's quotas in subsequent months. The other deliveries which caused the Company to exceed its quota were made to various state institutions of the State of Illinois, but during the month of May, 1942, the Company was aware that such deliveries had to be included in computing the quota which it was permitted to deliver.

On or about May 10, 1942, when the Company's inventory of green coffee was in excess of a two months' supply, the Company accepted delivery of 44,727 pounds of green coffee. This constituted an additional violation of Conservation Order M-135.

These violations of Conservation Order M-135 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.121 Suspension Order S-121. (a) During each of the calendar months this order shall be in effect, the quota of coffee which Coffee Corporation of America would otherwise be entitled to deliver under the provisions of Conservation Order M-135 shall be reduced by 20,000 pounds.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Coffee Corporation of America from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall remain in effect during the months of November, 1942, December, 1942, January, 1943, and February, 1943.

PART 1361—FARM EQUIPMENT

[MPR 246]

MANUFACTURERS' AND WHOLESALE PRICES FOR FARM EQUIPMENT

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish manufacturers' and wholesale prices for farm equipment which differ in some respects from the maximum prices established by the General Maximum Price Regulation.[1]

The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to manufacturers' and wholesale prices of farm equipment prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined to be of general applicability. In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Act.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 has been issued simultaneously herewith, and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1361.51 to 1361.68, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

(b) If for any item of farm equipment the manufacturer had no price in effect on March 31, 1942, but did have a price in effect on March 31, 1941, the maximum price to any purchaser shall be the highest net price such manufacturer would have received from a purchaser of the same class on the last date prior to March 31, 1942 when a price for the item was in effect, after adjustment for all applicable extra charges, discounts or other allowances in effect on that date.

§ 1361.53 Maximum prices; items modified since March 31, 1942, sold by the manufacturer—(a) Pricing formula. For any item of farm equipment in which a substantial change in design, specifications, or equipment has been made since March 31, 1942, or is made at any subsequent time, the manufacturer's maximum price for the item as modified shall be calculated as follows:

(1) The net increase or decrease in factory cost attributable to the change in design, specifications, or equipment shall first be computed using: material cost based on prices actually paid or to be paid, not to exceed maximum prices established by the Office of Price Administration for such materials; direct labor cost based on labor rates in effect on March 31, 1942; and factory overhead allocable to such material cost and/or direct labor cost, in accordance with the manufacturer's method of accounting, charged at the lowest actual rate or rates in effect during January, February, or March, 1942, or at the standard rate or rates, if any, consistently used by the manufacturer for price-determining purposes in March, 1942, whichever is lower. No charge for profit, for administrative or selling expenses, or for overhead, other than such factory overhead, shall be included in the net increase or decrease in factory cost attributable to the change.

(2) The net increase or decrease in factory cost so calculated shall then be added to or subtracted from the maximum price to the class of purchasers commanding the lowest net price for the item before modification. This computation provides the new maximum price for the item as modified when sold to the class of purchasers commanding the lowest net price.

(3) The maximum price to every other class of purchasers shall then be calculated by applying to the new lowest net price the same percentage price differential as was in effect between the former lowest net maximum price and the former net maximum price to such other class of purchasers.

(4) The new suggested list price, if any, shall be calculated by applying to the new lowest net price the same percentage price differential as was in effect between the former lowest net maximum price and the former suggested list price.

(b) Reports. Prior to or within ten days after first quoting a price for any such modified item, the manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing the following:

(1) The maximum price for the item prior to modification;

(2) The proposed maximum prices as computed in accordance with paragraph (a);

(3) The new suggested list price, f. o. b. factory, and the resulting net prices to the manufacturer, if lower than the maximum prices;

(4) A detailed statement describing the changes in design, specifications, or in equipment and explaining the calculation of the proposed maximum prices. For any modified item which has been sold or offered for sale in modified form prior to the effective date of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246, the foregoing report shall be filed within ten days after such effective date, unless a report has already been filed pursuant to Order No. 51 issued under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(c) Approval of prices. If the Office of Price Administration approves the proposed maximum prices or fails to disapprove them within thirty days after receiving such report, the proposed maximum prices shall become the maximum prices applicable to all subsequent sales and deliveries: Provided, That if the Office of Price Administration later determines that such prices were not calculated in accordance with this Section such prices may at that time be disapproved, but such disapproval shall not be retroactive as to any deliveries made before the date of such disapproval. If the proposed maximum prices are at any time disapproved by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer shall file revised prices properly computed in accordance with the appropriate pricing formula provided in paragraph (a), and the provisions of this section shall apply in all respects to such revised prices. Any disapproval of prices will be embodied in an order upon request made within thirty days of such disapproval.

(d) Interim pricing. Prior to receipt of approval by the Office of Price Administration of any proposed price or prior to the expiration of the thirty-day period after filing the report required in paragraph (b) of this section, the proposed price may be tentatively quoted and/or charged, but no more than 75% of the proposed price may be paid or received until a maximum price has been established, and final settlement shall be made in accordance with such maximum price.

§ 1361.54 Maximum prices; new or "seasonal" items sold by manufacturers. For any item of farm equipment which is an entirely new item and was not manufactured or sold by the manufacturer prior to March 31, 1942, or which has been completely redesigned since that date, or for which the manufacturer had no price in effect on March 31, 1942 for the "1942" season because it was his custom not to issue the season's price for such item until after March 31 in any year, the maximum price applicable to the sale by such manufacturer to any purchaser shall be computed on the basis of the following:

(a) Pricing formula. (1) The price-determining method which was in use on October 1, 1941, or during the selling season last prior to that date, applying the overhead rate or rates, machine hour rate or rates, if any, or other bases of computation which were in use on October 1, 1941, or during the selling season last prior to that date;

(2) To the extent that the price-determining method includes or is based on direct labor costs, the manufacturer shall use labor rates in effect on October 1, 1941;

(3) To the extent that the price-determining method includes or is based on prices for materials or manufacturing services, the manufacturer shall use material prices or prices for manufacturing services in effect on October 1, 1941;

(4) To the extent that the price-determining method includes freight rates paid, the manufacturer shall use freight rates in effect on March 31, 1942;

(5) All applicable extra charges, discounts or other allowances in use on October 1, 1941, or during the selling season last prior to that date, to a purchaser of the same class.

(b) Reports. Prior to or within ten days after first quoting a price determined in accordance with the provisions of the foregoing pricing formula, the manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., containing a description of the item of farm equipment, the proposed maximum prices, the proposed suggested list price and applicable discounts, if any, a description of the nearest equivalent item of farm equipment sold on or before March 31, 1942, with the March 31, 1942, price and applicable discounts for such item, and an explanation of the determination of the proposed maximum price in accordance with the foregoing pricing formula. If the item being priced under this section has been sold or offered for sale prior to the effective date of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246, the foregoing report shall be filed within ten days after such effective date.

(c) Approval of prices. If the Office of Price Administration approves the proposed maximum price or fails to disapprove it within thirty days after receiving such report, the proposed maximum price becomes the maximum price applicable to all subsequent sales and deliveries: Provided, That if the Office of Price Administration later determines that such price was not calculated in accordance with this section such price may at that time be disapproved, but such disapproval shall not be retroactive as to any deliveries made prior to the date of such disapproval. If the proposed maximum price is at any time disapproved by the Office of Price Administration, the manufacturer shall file a revised price properly computed in accordance with the pricing formula provided in paragraph (a) of this section, and the provisions of this section shall apply in all respects to such revised price. In the event that the Office of Price Administration finds that the manufacturer's production experience does not yet warrant the establishment of a permanent maximum price, the Office of Price Administration may give temporary approval to a proposed maximum price and require a further filing under this section at a later date. Any disapproval of prices will be embodied in an order upon request made within thirty days of such disapproval.

(d) Interim pricing. Prior to receipt of approval by the Office of Price Administration of any proposed price or prior to the expiration of the thirty-day period after filing the report required in paragraph (b) of this section, the proposed price may be tentatively quoted and/or charged, but no more than 75% of the proposed price may be paid or received until a maximum price has been established, and final settlement shall be made in accordance with such maximum price.

§ 1361.55 Maximum prices; contracts with other manufacturers, mail-order companies, or government agencies. For any item of farm equipment for the supply of which a contract has been or is entered into subsequent to March 31, 1942, with a government agency, or with a person doing a mail-order or manufacturing business who has filed with the Office of Price Administration a statement that he will not in turn request a price adjustment on the item because of a change in the price to him made in accordance with this section:

(a) The maximum price shall be the last contract price for the item to the same customer agreed upon prior to March 31, 1942, plus a percentage increase equal to the percentage increase, if any, in the manufacturer's price to distributors for the same item made since such last contract was entered into but before March 31, 1942, or, in the case of a modified item, made pursuant to § 1361.53; or

(b) If the maximum price cannot be calculated under paragraph (a) of this section, the maximum price shall be a price calculated pursuant to the formula set forth in paragraph (a) of § 1361.54 and reported pursuant to paragraph (b) thereof.

§ 1361.57 Maximum prices; items sold by wholesale distributors; special cases. Notwithstanding any contrary provisions of § 1361.52 (a), in the circumstances specified in the following paragraphs (a), (b), and (c), maximum prices applicable to sales of farm equipment by wholesale distributors shall be determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of the following paragraphs, except that the maximum price applicable to the sale of any item of farm equipment by a wholesale distributor, including all transfer and handling charges, shall in no event exceed the actual cost of freight to the dealer plus eighty-two percent of the manufacturer's suggested retail price:

(a) For any item of farm equipment for which a wholesale distributor had no price in effect on March 31, 1942, the maximum price to any purchaser shall be determined by applying to the net invoiced cost of the item the percentage markup realized upon the last sale of the item to a purchaser of the same class prior to March 31, 1942, or, if no such sale was made during the year ending on that date, the weighted average percentage markup realized during the month of March 1942, for items of farm equipment of the same general class sold to purchasers of the same class.

(b) For any item of farm equipment for which the manufacturer's price to the distributor has been determined pursuant to § 1361.53, the maximum price applicable to the sale of the item by such distributor to any purchaser shall be determined by dividing the manufacturer's new price to the distributor (determined pursuant to § 1361.53) by the manufacturer's former price to the distributor (for the item before modification) and multiplying the result by the distributor's price to purchasers of the same class for the item before modification.

(c) (1) If for any item of farm equipment a wholesale distributor had a price in effect on March 31, 1942, which was based on a manufacturer's price lower than the manufacturer's price in effect on March 31, 1942, the maximum price applicable to the sale of the item by such distributor shall be the distributor's price to purchasers of the same class in effect on March 31, 1942, plus a percentage increase equal to the percentage increase in the manufacturer's price made prior to March 31, 1942.

(2) On or before December 31, 1942, every wholesale distributor shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for each item of farm equipment for which his maximum price or prices have been determined in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (c), containing the following information: (i) a description of the item; (ii) the maximum price (or prices) determined in accordance with subparagraph (1); (iii) the distributor's price (or prices) in effect on March 31, 1942, and the date such price (or prices) became effective; (iv) the price to the distributor in effect on March 31, 1942, and the date such price became effective; (v) the price to the distributor upon which his March 31, 1942, price was based, and the period during which such price was effective.

§ 1361.59 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1361.60 Reports and records—(a) Reports. Every manufacturer or wholesale distributor of farm equipment shall on or before November 25, 1942, file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., all his price lists and discount sheets in effect on March 31, 1942, for items of farm equipment, together with an affirmation that such price lists and discount sheets were actually issued on or prior to and were in effect on March 31, 1942. Any manufacturer or wholesale distributor who on that date based his prices upon price sheets published by any other person subject hereto need not file such other person's published price sheets but shall file instead a statement identifying the particular price sheets he used on that date, together with his own discount sheets, if any, and a statement of any exceptions to such practice.

(b) Records. Persons subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 shall keep available for inspection by representatives of the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect, the following records:

(1) The manufacturer. Records of each sale and delivery of any item of farm equipment after the effective date of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 and of each manufacturing service performed for another manufacturer; of labor rates, material prices, and overhead rates in effect on October 1, 1941, and on March 31, 1942; of all data showing the calculation of maximum prices in accordance with the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246.

(2) The wholesale distributor. Records of the kind such seller has customarily kept, relating to the prices of items of farm equipment sold after the effective date of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 and in addition all data showing the calculation of maximum prices in accordance with the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246.

(c) Other records and reports. Every person subject to this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 shall keep such other records and submit such other reports, including periodic financial statements as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require in writing, either in addition to or in substitution for records and reports herein required.

§ 1361.61 Transfer of business or stock in trade. If the business assets or stock in trade of any business are sold or otherwise transferred after March 31, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of farm equipment or parts, or to perform the same type of manufacturing services, in the same competitive area and in an establishment separate from any establishment which he may previously have owned or operated, the transferee shall be subject to the same maximum prices as those to which his transferor would have been subject under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246 if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor in such cases shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 246.

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Maximum Rent Regulation 53]

HOUSING ACCOMMODATIONS OTHER THAN HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas set out in § 1388.281 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the designations and rent declarations issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, as amended, on May 26, 1942, on June 3, 1942, on June 26, 1942, on July 29, 1942, and on August 13, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in the said designations and rent declarations.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area on or about March 1, 1942. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53 is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1388.281 to 1388.294, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Housing accommodations situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Dwelling space occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the space is provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the dwelling space is a part;

(3) Rooms or other housing accommodations within hotels or rooming houses, or housing accommodations which have been, with the consent of the Administrator, brought under the control of the Maximum Rent Regulation for Hotels and Rooming Houses pursuant to the provisions of that regulation: Provided, That this Maximum Rent Regulation does apply to entire structures or premises though used as hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.282 Prohibition against higher than maximum rents. (a) Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53 of any housing accommodations within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation, where housing accommodations are heated with fuel oil the landlord of such accommodations may as hereinafter provided enter into an agreement with the tenant providing for payment by the tenant of part or all of the cost of changing the heating unit to use some fuel other than oil or of installing a new heating unit using some fuel other than oil. Prior to making such agreement the landlord shall in writing report the terms of the proposed agreement to the Area Rent Office. The landlord may enter into the agreement either upon its approval by the Administrator or, unless the Administrator has disapproved the proposed agreement within 5 days after the filing of such report, upon the expiration of such 5-day period.

(c) Where a lease of housing accommodations was entered into prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation and the tenant as a part of such lease or in connection therewith was granted an option to buy the housing accommodations which were the subject of the lease, with the further provision that some or all of the payments made under the lease should be credited toward the purchase price in the event such option is exercised, the landlord, notwithstanding any other provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation, may be authorized to receive payments made by the tenant in accordance with the provisions of such lease and in excess of the maximum rent for such housing accommodations. Such authority may be secured only by a written request of the tenant to the Area Rent Office and shall be granted by order of the Administrator if he finds that such payments in excess of the maximum rent will not be inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof. After entry of such order the landlord shall be authorized to demand, receive and retain payments provided by the lease in excess of the maximum rent for periods commencing on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation. After entry of such order, the provisions of the lease may be enforced in accordance with law, notwithstanding any other provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation: Provided, however, That if at the termination of the lease the tenant shall not exercise the option to buy, the landlord may thereafter remove or evict the tenant only in accordance with the provisions of § 1388.286 of this Maximum Rent Regulation. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to authorize the landlord to demand or receive payments in excess of the maximum rent in the absence of an order of the Administrator as herein provided. Where a lease of housing accommodations has been entered into on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, and the tenant as a part of such lease or in connection therewith has been granted an option to buy the housing accommodations which are the subject of the lease, the landlord, prior to the exercise by the tenant of the option to buy, shall not demand or receive payments in excess of the maximum rent, whether or not such lease allocates some portion or portions of the periodic payments therein provided as payments on or for the option to buy.

§ 1388.283 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53 are for housing accommodations including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity and quality as those provided on the date determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than such minimum services the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.285 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.285 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.284 Maximum rents. Maximum rents (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.285) shall be:

(a) For housing accommodations rented on March 1, 1942, the rent for such accommodations on that date.

(b) For housing accommodations not rented on March 1, 1942, but rented at any time during the two months ending on that date, the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period.

(c) For housing accommodations not rented on March 1, 1942 nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53, the first rent for such accommodations after March 1, 1942. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.285 (c).

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after March 1, 1942 and before the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That, where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.285 (c).

(e) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed on or after such effective date so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations not rented at any time between January 1, 1942 and such effective date, the first rent for such accommodations after the change or the effective date, as the case may be. Within 30 days after so renting the landlord shall register the accommodations as provided in § 1388.287. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.285 (c).

(f) For housing accommodations constructed with priority rating from the United States or any agency thereof for which the rent has been heretofore or is hereafter approved by the United States or any agency thereof, the rent so approved, but in no event more than the rent on March 1, 1942, or, if the accommodations were not rented on that date, more than the first rent after that date.

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.285 (c).

(h) For housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department, the rents established on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation by such rent schedule. The Administrator may order an increase in such rents, if he finds that such increase is not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.285 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on March 1, 1942 the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change. In all other cases, except those under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since March 1, 1942. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on March 1, 1942.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53 a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, prior to March 1, 1942 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent on March 1, 1942 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(5) There was in force on March 1, 1942, a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942; or the housing accommodations were not rented on March 1, 1942, but were rented during the two months ending on that date and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, which was in force more than one year prior to March 1, 1942, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation the services provided for housing accommodations are less than those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraphs (c), (d), (e), or (g) of § 1388.284 is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the housing accommodations other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(5) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially lower rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on March 1, 1942.

(e) Where, at the expiration or other termination of an underlying lease or other rental agreement, housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the landlord may rent the entire premises for use by similar occupancy for a rent not in excess of the aggregate maximum rents of the separate dwelling units, or may rent the separate dwelling units for rents not in excess of the maximum rents applicable to such units.

Where housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the tenant may petition the Administrator for leave to exercise any right he would have except for this Maximum Rent Regulation to sell his underlying lease or other rental agreement. The Administrator may grant such petition if he finds that the sale will not result, and that sales of such character would not be likely to result, in the circumvention or evasion of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation. He may require that the sale be made on such terms as he deems necessary to prevent such circumvention or evasion.

(f) Where a petition is filed by a landlord on one of the grounds set out in paragraph (a) of this section, the Administrator may enter an interim order increasing the maximum rent until further order, subject to refund by the landlord to the tenant of any amount received in excess of the maximum rent established by final order upon such petition. The receipt by the landlord of any increased rent authorized by such interim order shall constitute an agreement by the landlord with the tenant to refund to the tenant any amount received in excess of the maximum rent established by final order. The landlord shall make such refund either by repayment in cash or, where the tenant remains in occupancy after the effective date of the final order, by deduction from the next installment of rent, or both.

(g) No adjustment in the maximum rent shall be ordered on the ground that the landlord, since the date or order determining the maximum rent, has, as a part of or in connection with a lease of housing accommodations, granted the tenant an option to buy the accommodations which are the subject of the lease. Where a lease of housing accommodations was in force on the date determining the maximum rent, and the landlord had on that date, as a part of or in connection with such lease, granted the tenant an option to buy the accommodations which are the subject of the lease, the Administrator may, on or after the termination of such lease, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, enter an order fixing the maximum rent on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations not subject to an option to buy on March 1, 1942.

§ 1388.286 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant shall be removed from any housing accommodations, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and regardless of any contract, lease, agreement or obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into which provides for entry of judgment upon the tenant's confession for breach of the covenants thereof or which otherwise provides contrary hereto, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the housing accommodations for the purpose of inspection or of showing the accommodations to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the accommodations is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The tenants' lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination the housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the housing accommodations or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(6) The landlord owned, or acquired an enforceable right to buy or the right to possession of, the housing accommodations prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, and seeks in good faith to recover possession of such accommodations for immediate use and occupancy as a dwelling for himself. If a tenant has been removed or evicted under this paragraph (a) (6) from housing accommodations, the landlord shall file a written report on a form provided therefor before renting the accommodations or any part thereof during a period of six months after such removal or eviction.

(b) (1) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(2) Removal or eviction of a tenant for occupancy by a purchaser who has acquired his rights in the housing accommodations on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, is inconsistent with the purposes of the Act and this Maximum Rent Regulation and would be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof, unless (i) the payment or payments of principal made by the purchaser, excluding any payments made from funds borrowed for the purpose of making such principal payments, aggregate 33⅓% or more of the purchase price, and (ii) a period of three months has elapsed after the issuance of a certificate by the Administrator as hereinafter provided. For the purposes of this paragraph (b) (2), the payments of principal may be made by the purchaser conditionally or in escrow to the end that they shall be returned to the purchaser in the event the Administrator denies a petition for a certificate. If the Administrator finds that the required payments of principal have been made, he shall, on petition of either the vendor or purchaser, issue a certificate authorizing the purchaser to pursue his remedies for removal or eviction of the tenant in accordance with the requirements of the local law at the expiration of three months after the date of issuance of such certificate. In no other case shall the Administrator issue a certificate for occupancy by a purchaser who has acquired his rights in the housing accommodations on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, unless he finds that the vendor has or had a substantial necessity requiring the sale and that a reasonable sale or disposition of the accommodations could not be made without removal or eviction of the tenant, or unless he finds that other special hardship would result; under such circumstances the payment by the purchaser of 33⅓% of the purchase price shall not be a condition to the issuance of a certificate, and the certificate shall authorize the vendor or purchaser to pursue his remedies for removal or eviction of the tenant in accordance with the requirements of the local law.

(c) The provisions of this section do not apply to a subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

(d) (1) Every notice to a tenant to vacate or surrender possession of housing accommodations shall state the ground under this section upon which the landlord relies for removal or eviction of the tenant. A written copy of such notice shall be given to the Area Rent Office within 24 hours after the notice is given to the tenant.

No tenant shall be removed or evicted from housing accommodations, by court process or otherwise, unless, at least ten days prior to the time specified for surrender of possession and to the commencement of any action for removal or eviction, the landlord has given written notices of the proposed removal or eviction to the tenant and to the Area Rent Office, stating the ground under this section upon which such removal or eviction is sought and specifying the time when the tenant is required to surrender possession.

Where the ground for removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent, every notice under this paragraph (d) (1) shall state the rent for the housing accommodations, the amount of rent due and the rental period or periods for which such rent is due. The provisions of this paragraph (d) (1) shall not apply where a certificate has been issued by the Administrator pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant, including an action based upon non-payment of rent, the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title of the case, the number of the case where that is possible, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant, and the ground under this section on which removal or eviction is sought.

(e) No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.287 Registration. Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in triplicate a written statement on the form provided therefor to be known as a registration statement. The statement shall identify each dwelling unit and specify the maximum rent provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain such other information as the Administrator shall require. The original shall remain on file with the Administrator and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord. In any subsequent change of tenancy the landlord shall exhibit to the new tenant his stamped copy of the registration statement, and shall obtain the tenant's signature and the date thereof on the back of such statement. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a notice on the form provided therefor, on which he shall obtain the tenant's signature, stating that there has been a change in tenancy, that the stamped copy of the registration statement has been exhibited to the new tenant and that the rent for such accommodations is in conformity therewith.

No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

When the maximum rent is changed by order of the Administrator, the landlord shall deliver his stamped copy of the registration statement to the Area Rent Office for appropriate action reflecting such change.

The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations under § 1388.284 (g). The owner of such housing accommodations shall file a schedule or schedules, setting out the maximum rents for all such accommodations in the Defense-Rental Area and containing such other information as the Administrator shall require. A copy of such schedule or schedules shall be posted by the owner in a place where it will be available for inspection by the tenants of such housing accommodations.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including any civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations in the Cincinnati Defense-Rental Area.

§ 1388.288. Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of housing accommodations and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the accommodations by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.289 Evasion. The Maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 53 shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of housing accommodations, by way of absolute or conditional sale, sale with purchase money or other form of mortgage, or sale with option to repurchase, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges or by modification of the services furnished with housing accommodations, or otherwise.

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Maximum Rent Regulation 54A]

HOTELS AND ROOMING HOUSES

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within each of the Defense-Rental Areas set out in § 1388.331 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation, as designated in the designations and rent declarations issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, as amended, on May 26, 1942, on June 3, 1942, on June 26, 1942, on July 29, 1942, and on August 13, 1942, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in the said designations and rent declarations.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within each such Defense-Rental Area on or about March 1, 1942. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for rooms in hotels and rooming houses within each such Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Administrator by the Act, this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 54A is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1388.331 to 1388.344, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Rooms situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Rooms occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the rooms are provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the rooms are a part;

(3) Rooms in hospitals, or rooms of charitable or educational institutions used in carrying out their charitable or educational purposes;

(4) Entire structures or premises used as hotels or rooming houses, as distinguished from the rooms within such hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(e) Where a building or establishment which does not come within the definitions of a hotel or rooming house contains one or more furnished rooms or other furnished housing accommodations rented on a daily, weekly or monthly basis, the landlord may, with the consent of the Administrator, elect to bring all housing accommodations within such building or establishment under the control of this Maximum Rent Regulation. A landlord who so elects shall file a registration statement under this Maximum Rent Regulation for all such housing accommodations, accompanied by a written request to the Administrator to consent to such election.

If the Administrator finds that the provisions of this Maximum Rent Regulation establishing maximum rents are better adapted to the rental practices for such building or establishment than the provisions of this Maximum Rent Regulation for Housing Accommodations other than Hotels and Rooming Houses, he shall consent to the landlord's election. Upon such consent, all housing accommodations within such building or establishment which are or hereafter may be rented or offered for rent shall become subject to the provisions of this Maximum Rent Regulation, and shall be considered rooms within a rooming house for the purposes of the provisions relating to eviction.

The landlord may at any time, with the consent of the Administrator, revoke his election, and thereby bring under the control of the Maximum Rent Regulation for Housing Accommodations other than Hotels and Rooming Houses all housing accommodations previously brought under the Maximum Rent Regulation by such election. He shall make such revocation by filing a registration statement or statements under the Maximum Rent Regulation for Housing Accommodations other than Hotels and Rooming Houses, including in such registration statement or statements all housing accommodations brought under this Maximum Rent Regulation by such election. Such registration statement or statements shall be accompanied by a written request to the Administrator to consent to such revocation. The Administrator may defer action on such request if he has taken or is about to take action to decrease the maximum rents of any housing accommodations within such building or establishment. If the Administrator finds that the revocation so requested will not result in substantial increases in the maximum rents of housing accommodations affected by such revocation, he shall give such consent. Upon such consent, all housing accommodations affected by such revocation shall become subject to the provisions of the Maximum Rent Regulation for Housing Accommodations other than Hotels and Rooming Houses.

§ 1388.332 Prohibition. (a) Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 54A of any room in a hotel or rooming house within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) No tenant shall be required to change his term of occupancy if that will result in the payment of a higher amount per day than the maximum rent established for his present term of occupancy. Where, on June 15, 1942, or between that date and the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, a room was regularly rented or offered for rent for a weekly or monthly term of occupancy, the landlord shall continue to offer the room for rent for that term of occupancy, unless he offers another term of occupancy for a rent which results in the payment of an amount no higher per day.

§ 1388.333 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 54A are for rooms including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for rooms are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services, or within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.335 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.335 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.334 Maximum rents. This section establishes separate maximum rents for different terms of occupancy (daily, weekly or monthly) and numbers of occupants of a particular room. Maximum rents for rooms in a hotel or rooming house (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.335) shall be:

(a) For a room rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on March 1, 1942, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during that thirty-day period, or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(b) For a room neither rented nor regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on March 1, 1942, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during the thirty days commencing when it was first offered for rent after March 1, 1942; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(c) For a room rented for a particular term or number of occupants for which no maximum rent is established under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section the first rent for the room after March 1, 1942, for that term and number of occupants, but not more than the maximum rent for similar rooms for the same term and number of occupants in the same hotel or rooming house.

(d) For a room constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942, as determined by the owner of such rooms: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.335 (c) (1).

(e) For a room with which meals were provided during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent without separate charge therefor, the rent apportioned by the landlord from the total charge for the room and meals. The landlord's apportionment shall be fair and reasonable and shall be reported in the registration statement for such room. The Administrator at any time on his own initiative or on application of the tenant may by order decrease the maximum rent established by such apportionment if he finds that the apportionment was unfair or unreasonable.

Every landlord who provides meals with accommodations shall make separate charges for the two. No landlord shall require the taking of meals as a condition of renting any room unless the room was rented or offered for rent on that basis on June 15, 1942.

(f) For a room rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department, the rents established on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation by such rent schedule. The Administrator may order an increase in such rents, if he finds that such increase is not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 54A.

§ 1388.335 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. Except in cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section, every adjustment of a maximum rent shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942: Provided, however, That no maximum rent shall be increased because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, by more than the amount which the Administrator finds would have been on March 1, 1942, the difference in the rental value of the accommodations by reason of such improvement or increase. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since March 1, 1942. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c), (4) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms during the year ending on March 1, 1942.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been, since the thirty-day period or the order determining the maximum rent for the room, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, on or prior to March 1, 1942, and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent during the thirty-day period ending on March 1, 1942, was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the thirty-day period or the order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant, or by an allowance or discount to a tenant of a class of persons to whom the landlord regularly offered such an allowance or discount, and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942.

(5) There was in force on March 1, 1942 a written lease, which had been in force more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942.

(6) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 54A, the services provided for a room are less than those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for the room is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the room other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on March 1, 1942.

§ 1388.336 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant of a room within a hotel or rooming house shall be removed from such room, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 54A; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the room for the purpose of inspection or of showing the room to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the room is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the room for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the room or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the room for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted from a room under this paragraph (a) (5), the landlord shall file a written report on a form provided therefor before renting the room during a period of six months after such removal or eviction.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on non-payment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(d) The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(1) A subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant; or

(2) A tenant occupying a room within a hotel on a daily or weekly basis; or a tenant occupying on a daily basis a room within a rooming house which has heretofore usually been rented on a daily basis.

(3) Rooms rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the war or Navy Department.

(b) Every landlord shall conspicuously display in each room rented or offered for rent a card or sign plainly stating the maximum rent or rents for all terms of occupancy and for all numbers of occupants for which the room is rented or offered for rent. Where the taking of meals by the tenant or prospective tenant is a condition of renting such room, the card or sign shall so state. Should the maximum rent or rents for the room be changed by order of the Administrator the landlord shall alter the card or sign so that it states the changed rent or rents.

The foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to rooms under § 1388.334 (d). The owner of such rooms shall post a copy of the registration statement in a place where it will be available for inspection by the tenants of such rooms.

(c) No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not apply to rooms rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

(e) Every landlord of a room rented or offered for rent shall preserve, and make available for examination by the Administrator, all his existing records showing or relating to (1) the rent for each term and number of occupants for which such room was rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for such room and (2) the rent on any date determining a maximum rent for such room for a particular term and number of occupants under section 4 (c).

Every landlord of an establishment containing more than 20 rooms rented or offered for rent shall keep, preserve, and make available for examination by the Administrator, records showing the rents received for each room, the particular term and number of occupants for which such rents were charged, and the name and permanent address of each occupant; every other landlord shall keep, preserve, and make available for examination by the Administrator, records of the same kind as he has custo-

§ 1388.339 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 54A shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of a room, by requiring the tenant to pay or obligate himself for membership or other fees, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with the room, or otherwise.

§ 1388.340 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 54A are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

(b) The Diamond Match Company shall not change its customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials unless such change shall result in a lower price.

(c) The Diamond Match Company, before or while making each initial sale at these new maximum prices, shall notify its purchasers in writing of its new maximum prices as follows:

> The Office of Price Administration has permitted us to raise our maximum price for sales to you of (insert name of brand, size of container and number of containers to the case) from (insert March ceiling price for such brand, size of container and number of containers to the case delivered to the particular area) to (insert applicable price specified in paragraph (a) for such brand, size of container and number of containers to the case delivered to such area). This amount represents only that part of cost increases which we were unable to absorb and it was granted with the understanding that wholesale and retail prices would not be raised. The Office of Price Administration has not permitted you or any other seller to raise maximum prices for sales of (insert name of brand, size of container and number of containers to the case).

(d) All prayers of the application not granted herein are denied.

(e) This Order No. 69 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This Order No. 69 (§ 1499.869) shall become effective October 22, 1942.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH

[MPR 148]

DRESSED HOGS AND WHOLESALE PORK CUTS

The title and preamble are amended, and §§ 1364.21 to 1364.35, inclusive, are amended to read as set forth below: Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148—Dressed Hogs and Wholesale Pork Cuts.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper, in order to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended and Executive Order No. 9250 issued by the President on October 3, 1942, to maintain as the maximum prices for dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts the prices prevailing with respect thereto during the period March 3, 1942 to March 7, 1942, inclusive. Prices determined as provided in § 1364.22 reflect the prices prevailing during such period. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act and Executive Order. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The maximum prices established herein are not below prices which will reflect to producers of the agricultural commodities from which dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts are produced a price for their products equal to the highest of the prices required by the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and by the Executive Order of October 3, 1942.

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250 and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1[1], issued by the Office of Price Administration, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 is hereby issued.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1364.21 to 1364.35, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1364.21 Prohibition against selling dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts at prices above the maximum. On and after November 2, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver dressed hogs or any wholesale pork cut, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive dressed hogs or any wholesale pork cut at a price higher than the maximum price permitted by § 1364.22; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing. The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts to a purchaser, if, prior to November 2, 1942, such dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts have been received by a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to such purchaser.

§ 1364.22 Maximum prices for dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts. Maximum prices for dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts shall be computed as provided in this section.

(a) Base price. The base price for each wholesale pork cut shall be the price specified in Schedule I of Appendix A (incorporated herein as § 1364.35), minus the required deductions, if any, specified in Schedule II of Appendix A (§ 1364.35), plus the permitted additions, if any, specified in Schedule III of Appendix A (§ 1364.35).

(b) Maximum prices in central price zone. Except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, the maximum price for each wholesale pork cut delivered to the buyer within the Central Price Zone, or delivered outside the Central Price Zone by a local delivery beginning in the Central Price Zone, shall be the base price.

(c) Maximum prices in Chicago price zone. Except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (h) of this section, the maximum price for each wholesale pork cut delivered to the buyer in the Chicago Price Zone, or delivered to the buyer outside the Chicago Price Zone and the Central Price Zone by a local delivery beginning in the Chicago Price Zone, shall be the base price plus $0.25 per cwt.

(d) Maximum prices outside central price zone and Chicago price zone. Except as provided in paragraphs (b), (c) and (h) of this section, the maximum price for each wholesale pork cut delivered to the buyer outside the Central Price Zone and the Chicago Price Zone shall be the base price plus a transportation differential determined as follows:

(1) The seller shall ascertain the point at which local delivery begins, if local delivery is made, or the point of delivery if no local delivery is made. If no carload meat freight rates are established to such point, he shall ascertain the nearest point at which such freight rates are established.

(2) If the point ascertained under paragraph (d) (1) of this section is east of the Mississippi River or in New Orleans, Louisiana, but is not in Minnesota, Wisconsin, or in that part of Michigan lying between Lake Superior and Lake Michigan or Lake Huron, the transportation differential for any fresh wholesale pork cut shall be 115 percent of the lowest frest meat carload freight rate from Chicago, Illinois, to such point adjusted to the nearest $0.25 per cwt. and plus $0.25 per cwt., and the transportation differential for any cured or processed wholesale pork cut shall be 115 percent of the lowest packing house product carload freight rate (applicable to cooked, cured or preserved meats and sausage) from Chicago, Illinois, to such point, adjusted to the nearest $0.25 per cwt. and plus $0.25 per cwt. (Caution: This transportation differential is to be added to the base price, not to the maximum price in the Chicago price zone.)

(3) If the point ascertained under paragraph (d) (1) of this section is in Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana or in those portions of Texas, Oklahoma, or Kansas which lie east of the 99th meridian, but not in New Orleans, Louisiana, the transportation differential for any fresh wholesale pork cut shall be 115 percent of the lowest fresh meat carload freight rate from Kansas City, Missouri, to such point, adjusted to the nearest $0.25 per cwt., and the transportation differential for any cured or processed wholesale pork cut shall be 115 percent of the lowest packing house product carload freight rate (applicable to cooked, cured or preserved meats and sausage) from Kansas City, Missouri, to such point, adjusted to the nearest $0.25 per cwt.

(4) If the point ascertained under paragraph (d) (1) of this section lies in any other part of the United States than those areas referred to in paragraphs (d) (2) and (d) (3) of this section, the seller shall ascertain the lowest of the packing house product carload freight rates (applicable to cooked, cured or preserved meats and sausage) to such point from Kansas City, Missouri, and South St. Paul, Minnesota. The transportation differential for fresh, cured or processed wholesale pork cuts shall be 115 percent of such lowest rate, adjusted to the nearest $0.25 per cwt.

(e) When products are delivered to the buyer. Dressed hogs and wholesale pork cuts shall be deemed to be delivered to the buyer at the point where physical possession is taken by the buyer or his agent or where the dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts, consigned to the buyer, are received by a common carrier whose charges are paid by the buyer.

(f) Maximum prices of wholesale pork cuts not listed in Appendix A. Except as provided in paragraph (h) of this section, if the maximum price for any wholesale pork cut delivered to the buyer cannot be determined under the provisions of the foregoing paragraphs of this section, such maximum price shall be that of the nearest similar wholesale pork cut derived from the same primal cut or combination of primal cuts, making adjustment for the differences in the cost of producing such cuts. Each seller shall file with the Office of Price Administration, within 10 days of computation, each maximum price computed under the provisions of this paragraph (f) together with a sworn statement of the method of such computation and the comparative costs included therein, including costs of labor, materials and overhead, and shrinkage or gain in weight. Any maximum price so computed shall be subject to revision by the Price Administrator.

(g) Maximum prices of dressed hogs. The maximum price for each dressed hog shall be determined as follows:

(1) Where the seller sold dressed hogs, during the 30 day period prior to March 9, 1942, upon the basis of a percentage of the live hog price (hereinafter called a "denominator"), the maximum price shall be the current live hog price multiplied by the average denominator used by the seller in sales during such period of dressed hogs of the same class upon the same specifications to a similar purchaser.

(2) Where the seller sold dressed hogs, during the 30 day period prior to March 9, 1942, but did not sell upon the denominator basis, the maximum price shall be the current live hog price multiplied by the average denominator (determined as hereinafter provided) in such seller's sales during such period of dressed hogs of the same class upon the same specifications to a similar purchaser. Such average denominator shall be determined by dividing the average price of all dressed hogs of the same class sold by the seller during such period upon the same specifications to a similar purchaser by the average price of the live hogs purchased for such dressing.

(3) Where the seller did not sell dressed hogs during the 30 day period prior to March 9, 1942, the maximum price shall be the current live hog price multiplied by the average denominator (for dressed hogs of the same class sold during such period upon the same specifications to a similar purchaser) of the most closely competitive seller.

(4) Where all dressed hogs which the seller sold during the 30 day period prior to March 9, 1942 were derived from hogs fed by the seller after purchase and before slaughter to such an extent as to increase their live weight by 4% or more, the maximum price shall be determined as provided in paragraph (g) (3) of this section. As to all dressed hogs derived from hogs so fed by the seller, the term "current live hog price" shall mean the top price quoted, on the day before the day of shipment of such dressed hogs, at the public market nearest to the place of slaughter for hogs of the same grade and weight, minus $0.10 per cwt.

(h) Maximum prices of products sold for export and canned products. (1) The maximum price at which a person may export any dressed hog or wholesale pork cut shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) The maximum price for each brand and type of canned meat made entirely from pork shall be the highest price at which such brand or type of canned meat was listed in the price list or lists upon the basis of which the seller made sales and deliveries at the delivery point during the period February 16, 1942 to February 20, 1942, inclusive, plus 1½¢ per pound: Provided, (i) That the seller must continue to allow all the deductions or discounts from his price list or lists which were customary during the ninety day period prior to March 9, 1942 and which were based on cost differentials arising from low transportation or packaging costs or any other saving in the cost of handling; and (ii) That the provisions of this paragraph (h) (2) shall not apply to any sales of canned meats to the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation or to any purchasing agency of the armed forces of the United States.

§ 1364.23 Conditional agreements. No seller of dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts shall enter into an agreement permitting the adjustment of the prices to prices which may be higher than the maximum prices provided by § 1364.22, in the event that this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 is amended or is determined by a court to be invalid or upon any other contingency: Provided, That if a petition for amendment has been duly filed, and such petition requires extensive consideration, the Administrator may grant an exception from the provisions of this section permitting the making of contracts adjustable upon the granting of the petition for amendment. Requests for such an exception may be included in the aforesaid petition for amendment.

§ 1364.24 Exempt sales and deliveries. The provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 shall not apply

(a) To sales at retail;

(b) To deliveries made to any political subdivision or agency of any state or of the United States, other than the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, under contracts entered into prior to November 2, 1942: Provided, That this exemption shall not be construed to permit the upward revision of any prices fixed in such contracts;

(c) To deliveries to the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation under contracts entered into prior to October 17, 1942; or

(d) To sales outside of the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

§ 1364.25 Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those provided for in § 1364.22 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

§ 1364.27 Records and reports. (a) Every person making a sale of any dressed hogs or wholesale pork cuts on and after November 2, 1942, in the course of trade or business or otherwise dealing therein, shall make, and preserve for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 remains in effect, complete and accurate records of each such sale, showing the date thereof, the name and address of the buyer and seller, the description, quantity and weight of all wholesale pork cuts sold, and the price charged or received therefor.

(b) Persons subject to or affected by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 shall submit to the Office of Price Administration at Washington, D. C.:

(1) The reports of maximum prices required by § 1364.22 (f), together with a sworn statement that the facts recited therein are true and correct;

(2) On or before November 15, 1942, sworn statements of the denominators in sales by them of dressed hogs, determined in accordance with the provisions of § 1364.22 (g), including a statement of the specifications for dressing to which each denominator applies and a statement of the classes of purchasers to which each denominator applies; and

(3) Such other reports as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

§ 1364.28 Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 or any price schedule, regulation, or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. C.

§ 1364.29 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1364.30 Licensing: Applicability of Supplementary Order No. 14. The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 14 (§ 1305.18), Licensing Sellers of Meat and Meat Products, are applicable to every seller subject to this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 now or hereafter selling any dressed hog or wholesale pork cuts for which maximum prices are established by said regulation. The term "seller" shall have the meaning given it by Supplementary Order No. 14.

§ 1364.31 Applicability of General Maximum Price Regulation. The provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation with respect to sales and deliveries for which maximum prices are established by this regulation.

§ 1364.32 Definitions. (a) When used in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 148, the term:

[Docket Nos. A-1621 and A-1621, Part II]

DISTRICT BOARD NO. 15

PETITION FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF PRICE CLASSIFICATIONS, ETC.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 15 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 15 and for a change in the railroad upon which the coals of the Midway Mine (Mine Index No. 1433) originate for rail shipment.

In the matter of the petition of District Board No. 15 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Sizemore Mine.

Memorandum opinion and order severing Docket No. A-1621 Part II from Docket No. A-1621 and granting temporary relief in Docket No. A-1621 Part II.

The original petition in the above-entitled matter filed with the Division on September 24, 1942, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, prays for the establishment of temporary and permanent price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 15.

As indicated in a separate order entered in Docket No. A-1621, a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of the relief prayed for by the petitioner. However, in accordance with the prayer contained in the original petition, it appears that no final determination should be made at this time with respect to the establishment of permanent price classifications and minimum prices, for truck shipment, for the coals of the Sizemore Mine, Mine Index No. 1629 of the Sizemore Coal Company (Roy Sizemore) located in Production Group No. 3, Adair County, Missouri.

It appears that the coals of the Sizemore Mine, located in Adair County, Missouri, possess marketing factors and qualities similar to those of other coals heretofore classified and priced and presently being produced in that county and that the minimum prices for the coals of the Sizemore Mine, in the respective size groups, should correspond with those in effect for other coals produced in the same county for shipment by truck into all market areas. The coals produced in Adair County, Missouri, and previously priced for shipment by truck, are presently subject to the temporary minimum prices set forth in the order entered October 29, 1940, granting temporary relief in Docket No. A–58.

Pending final determination of the issues in Docket Nos. A–58 and A–179, a petition was filed in Docket No. A–492, wherein it was requested that the minimum prices made effective temporarily in Docket No. A–179 for the coals of Putnam County, Missouri, be made permanent. Docket Nos. A–58, A–179, and A–492 were thereafter consolidated, but, in accordance with a request and stipulation filed therein by all the parties thereto, there has been no change in the above-mentioned orders granting temporary relief and no permanent order has been entered in any of the above-numbered dockets.

In view of the foregoing, it is deemed advisable at this time to establish only temporarily the proposed price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of the Sizemore Mine and that permanent classifications and prices should await final determination of the related issued under consideration in the consolidated Docket Nos. A–58, A–179 and A–492.

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That the portion of Docket No. A–1621 relating to the coals of the Sizemore Mine of the Sizemore Coal Company (Roy Sizemore) be, and it hereby is, severed from the remainder of that docket and designated as Docket No. A–1621, Part II.

It is further ordered, That pending final disposition of Docket No. A–1621, Part II, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 15 For Truck Shipments is supplemented to include the price classifications and minimum prices set forth below for the coals of the Sizemore Mine (Mine Index No. 1629) of the Sizemore Coal Company (Roy Sizemore) for shipment by truck to all market areas.

[1] Prices applicable on coal moving into the State of Iowa.

The price classifications and minimum prices set forth above for the coals of the Sizemore Mine (Mine Index No. 1629) are based upon the price classifications and minimum prices in effect on October 1, 1942, for comparable and analogous coals and already reflect the changes, if any, made in minimum prices by the Acting Director's Order of August 28, 1942, in General Docket No. 21. Except in this regard, the minimum prices set forth above do not differ from the minimum prices proposed by petitioner.

Notice is hereby given that applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is provided in Public Act. No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (hereinafter referred to as the "act"), that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") shall, subject to the provisions of the act, issue orders regulating such handling of certain agricultural commodities (including walnuts) as is in the current of interstate or foreign commerce, or which directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate or foreign commerce in such commodities.

§ 901.1 Findings and determinations—(a) Finding upon the basis of hearing record. Pursuant to the act and the rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR 900.1–900.17; 6 F.R. 6570, 7 F.R. 3350), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the marketing agreement, as amended, and the order, as amended, regulating the handling of walnuts grown in California, Oregon, and Washington. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that this order, amending the aforesaid order, as amended, and all of the terms and provisions hereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to walnuts grown in California, Oregon, and Washington.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that:

(1) The amendment to the marketing agreement, as amended, regulating the handling of walnuts grown in California, Oregon, and Washington, upon which the aforesaid hearing was held, was executed by handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the commodity covered by the said order, as heretofore and hereby amended) who handled not less than 50 percent of the volume of said commodity, covered by this order, produced within the States of California, Oregon, and Washington;

(2) The aforesaid agreement, amending the aforesaid marketing agreement, as amended, has been executed by more than three packers, signatory to said marketing agreement, who, during the preceding crop year, handled not less than 67 percent of the merchantable walnuts packed during such crop year;

(3) The issuance of this order, amending the aforesaid order as amended, is favored and approved by producers of walnuts who, during the 1941–42 crop year (which is hereby determined to be a representative period), produced for market, within the production area specified in said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, at least two-thirds of the volume of such commodity produced for market within such area; and

Chapter VII—Agricultural Adjustment Administration

PROCLAMATION OF COMMERCIAL CORN-PRODUCING AREA FOR THE YEAR 1943

Whereas sec. 327 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides in part as follows:

> Not later than February 1, the Secretary shall ascertain and proclaim the commercial corn-producing area.

Whereas subsection (b) of sec. 301 of said Act provides in part as follows:

> (4) (A) "Commercial corn-producing area" shall include all counties in which the average production of corn (excluding corn used as silage) during the ten calendar years immediately preceding the calendar year for which such area is determined, after adjustments for abnormal weather conditions, is four hundred and fifty bushels or more per farm and four bushels or more for each acre of farm land in the county.
> (B) Whenever prior to February 1 of any calendar year the Secretary has reason to believe that any county which is not included in the commercial corn-producing area determined pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (A), but which borders upon one of the counties in such area, or that any minor civil division in a county bordering on such area, is producing (excluding corn used for silage) an average of at least four hundred and fifty bushels of corn per farm and an average of at least four bushels for each acre of farm land in the county or in the minor civil division, as the case may be, he shall cause immediate investigation to be made to determine such fact. If, upon the basis of such investigation, the Secretary finds that such county or minor civil division is likely to produce corn in such average amounts during such calendar year, he shall proclaim such determination, and, commencing with such calendar year, such county shall be included in the commercial corn-producing area,

And whereas subsection (c) of sec. 301 of said Act provides:

> The latest available statistics of the Federal Government shall be used by the Secretary in making the determinations required to be made by the Secretary under this Act.

And whereas the Secretary of Agriculture, having had reason to believe that certain counties bordering on the commercial corn-producing area as determined under subparagraph (A) of sec. 301 (b) (4) of said Act, and that certain minor civil divisions in certain counties bordering on such area are producing (excluding corn used for silage) an average of at least 450 bushels of corn per farm and an average of at least 4 bushels for each acre of farm land in the county or in the minor civil division, as the case may be, has caused reasonable investigation to be made to determine such facts with respect to such counties and minor civil divisions and to determine which, if any, of such counties or minor civil divisions are likely to produce corn in such average amounts during the calendar year 1943:

Now, therefore, be it known that I, Claude R. Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America, acting under and pursuant to, and by virtue of, the authority vested in me by the Act of Congress known as the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, upon the basis of such investigation and the latest available statistics of the Federal Government, do hereby ascertain, determine, and proclaim that:

§ 57.1 Definitions. (a) The term "service club facilities," as used in these regulations, will refer to the service club, library, cafeteria, and if there is one, the guest house in connection therewith.

(b) Where installed in a service club, the soda fountain will be considered as part of the cafeteria.

(c) "Technical cafeteria service" will include the supervision and operation of the service club cafeteria, including the purchase and procurement of supplies, the preparation and inspection of foods, the employment, supervision, and discharge of kitchen and cafeteria personnel, the arrangement of the dining room, and the collection of and accounting for funds from the operation of said cafeteria.

§ 57.2 Recreational facilities. (a) Service club facilities will be under the control of the post commander who may prescribe such rules not in conflict with these regulations as are necessary to insure the efficient operation of these activities and all installations therein, and for the protection of the property thereof.

§ 57.3 Gambling. No gambling or the use of any device which savors of gambling, such as punchboards, slot machines, etc., will be permitted within or about the service club or any of its facilities. [Par. 4]

§ 57.4 Automatic or mechanical vending machines. (a) Automatic or mechanical merchandise vending or amusement machines which dispense merchandise or entertainment at prices which parallel the price of such merchandise or entertainment elsewhere on the post, camp, or station may be installed in any service club facility when and as approved by the post commander. He may authorize the purchase of such machines, the rental thereof, on a rental purchase plan. Where the company owning or controlling such vending machine is willing to install same without cost to the service club facility and without increasing the usual wholesale cost or the selling price of the product vended, the post commander may permit the installation and operation of such vending machines, provided that the post commander retains sole control of their operation, retains the privilege to remove them at will, and pays and accounts to the company owning or controlling the machines only for the quantity of the product purchased from said machines. All earnings from the operation of such machines will go to the funds of the service club facility and will be accounted for by the director of the service club on the consolidated daily report. When installed, post commanders will be responsible for the protection of such machines against pilferage and destruction in the same manner as though they were Government property of like class or nature.

All persons using such cafeteria will comply with the rules applicable to enlisted personnel. No person other than the hostess and librarian will maintain an office in any of the service club facilities.

(b) Service clubs will in no way supersede company day rooms or Army exchanges.

§ 57.6 Cafeteria service and operation. (a) A complete cafeteria will be operated in the service club either by purchase and hire, by the Army exchange, or by a concessionaire. The operation of a cafeteria by the Army exchange service or a concessionaire is not looked upon with favor, and will be initiated by commanding generals of service commands, only when the nature of extreme circumstances precludes operation by a cafeteria hostess under purchase and hire. Where authority is granted for a cafeteria to be operated by the Army exchange, the cafeteria hostess will be retained as branch manager; where authority is granted for the cafeteria to be operated by a concessionaire, the services of a cafeteria hostess will not be provided or authorized, and any cafeteria hostess on duty at such a cafeteria will be reported to commanding generals of service commands, for reassignment or disposition.

(b) Unless operated by a concessionaire, other than the Army exchange, the cafeteria will be under the immediate direction of a cafeteria hostess who will be responsible for its efficiency, personnel, equipment, supplies, and collections, and who will account direct therefor to, and will deposit all collections therefrom, with the custodian of the post service club fund.

(c) Schedules of charges for meals and soda fountain service, and hours of operation will be determined and published by the post commander.

(d) Under the provisions of AR 30-2290, service club facilities are authorized to purchase on a cash sale or a charge sale basis subsistence stores, other than exceptional articles.

First priority to such accommodations will be allowed to the above categories of personnel visiting hospitalized members of the post, camp, or station.

(b) Except in emergencies determined to exist by the post commander relative to the first priority above, no guest may remain at the guest house for more than three consecutive nights.

(c) A charge of not less than 50 cents and not more than 75 cents per night will be made for the use of a bed in the guest house.

(d) An identification register will be maintained in the guest house. [Par. 11]

§ 57.9 Appointment of hostesses and librarians. (a) Hostesses and librarians are appointed by the commanding generals of service commands under paragraph 13, section IV, Schedule A of the Civil Service Rules and Regulations. Under the provisions of Schedule A, such employees acquire no civil service status; are not selected from civil service registers and may be separated from the service because of reductions in personnel or because of insufficient qualifications. The rules and regulations pertaining to leave of absence, sickness, hospitalization, allowances, travel, and methods of payment which apply to civilians in the classified civil service will apply to hostesses and librarians.

§ 57.12 Selection and assignment. (a) Hostesses and librarians will be selected by commanding generals of service commands, who may delegate such authority to the post commander, initially for a 4-month period which will be in the nature of a training period, the extension of which will depend upon the proficiency of the employee.

(b) At a time not more than 30 days nor less than 15 days prior to the termination of such 4-month period, commanding generals of service commands will determine whether or not such employee has rendered satisfactory service and should be continued on duty as a hostess or librarian.

(c) During the first month of such 4-month period each hostess and librarian, except service command librarian, will pursue such course of instruction and training within a service command as will be prescribed by the commanding general, and upon satisfactory completion thereof will be assigned to duty at a service club or library for the remainder of such 4-month period.

(d) Prior to selecting a hostess or librarian, the commanding general making the selection will cause an investigation to be made as to the loyalty, integrity, and discretion of such hostess or librarian and a physical examination to be conducted by an officer of the Medical Department or the Public Health Service to insure fitness for such appointment.

TITLE 31—MONEY AND FINANCE: TREASURY

Chapter I—Monetary Offices, Department of the Treasury

[Pub. Circ. 20]

PARTS 130 AND 131—APPENDIX

ADMINISTRATION OF BLOCKED ESTATES

OCTOBER 23, 1942.

Under Executive Order 8389, as amended, Executive Order 9193, sections 3 (a) and 5 (b) of the Trading with the enemy Act, as amended by the First War Powers Act, 1941, relating to foreign funds control.[1]

(1) Reference is made to General License No. 30A relative to the administration of estates of decedents.

(2) All transactions incident to the administration of a blocked estate, including the appointment and qualification of a personal representative, the collection and liquidation of assets, the payment of claims, and the distribution to the beneficiaries, may be effected only pursuant to license. As used herein, the term "blocked estate" shall have the meaning prescribed in General License No. 30A.

(3) Attention is directed to the fact that in instances where the decedent was not a national of a blocked country, or was a United States citizen and a national of a blocked country solely by reason of his presence in a blocked country as a result of his employment by or service with the United States Government, or whenever the gross value of the assets within the United States does not exceed $5,000, such general license authorizes the complete administration of a blocked estate. This includes the appointment and qualification of a personal representative, the collection and liquidation of assets, the payment of debts and claims, and the distribution of the remaining assets to the persons entitled thereto. Property distributable to nationals of blocked countries must be distributed in accordance with the provisions of such general license.

(4) In instances where the decedent was a national of a blocked country (other than a United States citizen who was a national of a blocked country solely by reason of his presence in a blocked country as a result of his employment by or service with the United States Government) and the gross value of the assets situated within the United States of the estate of such decedent exceeds $5,000, such general license permits certain limited acts of administration. These acts are confined to transactions incident to the appointment and qualification of a personal representative, the collection and preservation of the assets and the payment of all costs, fees and charges incident thereto, and the payment of funeral expenses and expenses of last illness. All other transactions incident to the administration of such estates, including the liquidation of assets, the payment of claims and the distribution of any of the assets, may be effected only pursuant to special license.

(5) Attention is directed to the fact that no national of a blocked country may, except pursuant to special license, act as personal representative of any estate, nor may he act as attorney or attorney in fact for or represent, directly or indirectly, any personal representative, creditor, heir, next of kin, legatee, devisee, distributee, or beneficiary therein.

(6) In any estate in which distribution is authorized under this general license, property may be transferred to the trustee of any testamentary trust or to the guardian of the estate of a minor or of an incompetent, provided such trustee or guardian is not a national of a blocked country. The administration of such testamentary trust or such estate of a minor or of an incompetent shall conform to all applicable provisions of the order.

(7) General Licenses Nos. 30, 49, 50, 52, and 70 (§§ 131.30, 131.49, 131.50, 131.52, and 131.70) are amended so as to be inapplicable to the administration of decedents' estates.

(8) Application for special license authorizing any transaction, or series of transactions, in connection with any blocked estate not authorized by General License No. 30A may be made to the appropriate Federal Reserve Bank on license application Form TFE–1. Such application should contain a complete statement of all relevant facts, including, as accurately as possible, an inventory of the assets, the names and nationality of all persons who have an interest in, or have made any claim against, the estate, and the probable method of distribution.

(9) General License No. 30A authorizes all transactions incident to the collection, conservation, administration, liquidation, and distribution of any blocked estate engaged in since the effective date of the order, provided such transactions comply with the terms and conditions of such general license.

(10) Attention is directed to the fact that General License No. 30A does not affect any orders, rules or regulations of the Alien Property Custodian relating to estates. In this connection, see General Orders 5 and 6 issued by the Alien Property Custodian.

(4) "Class B cordage" means Manila cordage which contains such a combination of grades of Manila fiber as will give a Becker value not in excess of thirty-nine, such Becker value to be determined according to the methods set forth in said Federal Specification T-R-601a.

(5) "Cordage processor" means any person other than the Navy of the United States who spins, twists, weaves or otherwise uses Manila fiber in the production of Manila cordage.

(6) "Processing" means any use of Manila fiber for the manufacture of any other article or commodity into which the Manila fiber goes or of which it becomes a part.

(7) "Dealer" means any person who procures Manila cordage for storage or for sale, and includes selling agents, and other commerciallly recognized agents acting for their own account or for others, whether or not acquiring title to such Manila cordage, but shall not include an importer.

(8) "Basic monthly poundage" with respect to any cordage processor shall be the average number of pounds per month of Manila cordage sold by such processor during the period January 1, 1939, to December 31, 1939.

(9) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from any foreign country or from any territory or possession of the United States, including the Philippine Islands. (c) Restrictions on deliveries of Manila fiber. No person shall hereafter make or accept delivery of any Manila fiber unless specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations: Provided, however, That deliveries of Manila fiber may be made:

(1) By and to the Navy of the United States.

(2) By and to the Defense Supplies Corporation.

(3) By and to persons importing or otherwise handling Manila fiber in accordance with written instructions from the Navy of the United States or from Defense Supplies Corporation, provided that such Manila fiber is to be delivered, either processed or unprocessed, directly, or through one or more other persons, to the Navy of the United States or to Defense Supplies Corporation.

(4) By importers to cordage processors of Manila fiber rejected by the Navy of the United States or Defense Supplies Corporation as unfit for their use.

(5) By cordage processors to cordage processors of Manila fiber which at the time of any such delivery had been previously imported into the United States.

(d) Restrictions on processing of Manila fiber. (1) No person shall begin the processing of any Manila fiber, including the fiber of grades T, O, W, or Y, as established by the Insular Government of the Philippine Islands, except for the purpose of manufacturing Class A or Class B cordage for sale or delivery to fulfill the orders hereafter specified in paragraph (e) (2), or such cordage as may be required to meet the specifications of orders of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration or its operating or general agents.

(2) No cordage processor shall put into process more Manila fiber during the period from March 2, 1942, to January 1, 1943, than an amount thereof equal to 4.7 times his basic monthly poundage, and, in each month thereafter, no cordage processor shall put into process more Manila fiber than 37 percent of his basic monthly poundage: Provided, however, That any cordage processor keeping his books on a weekly basis shall apply the said percentage to the weekly period of processing most nearly approximating the respective calendar periods mentioned in this paragraph.

(3) Any cordage processor shall, notwithstanding the limitations of paragraphs (d) (2) and (e) (1), and in addition to any action permitted thereunder:

(i) Process into Manila cordage any Manila fiber furnished to the said cordage processor by the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration or its operating or general agents, and sell and deliver such cordage to, or for the account of, the agencies furnishing the fiber.

(ii) Process into Manila cordage such additional amounts of Manila fiber and sell and deliver such additional amounts of Manila cordage as may from time to time be determined by the Director General for Operations to be necessary in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

(e) Restrictions on sales and deliveries of Manila cordage. (1) (i) No cordage processor shall sell or deliver more Manila cordage during the period from March 2, 1942, to January 1, 1943, than an amount thereof equal to five times his basic monthly poundage, and, in each month thereafter, no cordage processor shall sell or deliver more Manila cordage than 41½ percent of his basic monthly poundage: Provided, however, That any cordage processor keeping his books on a weekly basis shall apply the said percentage to the weekly periods of processing most nearly approximating the respective calendar periods mentioned in this paragraph.

(ii) There is excepted from the provisions of paragraph (e) (1) (i) any Manila cordage manufactured on defense order pursuant to paragraph (e) (3) (i) of Amendments No. 3, issued February 20, 1942, and in the possession of a cordage processor and ready for delivery on March 2, 1942, provided failure to make such delivery prior to March 2, 1942, did not result from circumstances under the control of such cordage processor.

(2) In addition to the limitations in paragraphs (e) (1) and (e) (3) no cordage processor or dealer shall sell or deliver any Manila cordage and no person shall purchase or accept delivery of any Manila cordage except to fill the following:

(i) Orders for Manila cordage for delivery to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration or its operating or general agents, or for physical incorporation in other products to be delivered to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration or its general or operating agents. Every such purchase order for physical incorporation into products to be delivered to or for the account of the foregoing named agencies shall be accompanied by a certificate in substantially the following form:

"Supply" as used in this paragraph means the average monthly amount of Manila cordage withdrawn from the inventory of such person, which has been resold or put into actual use by such person, in the three calendar months immediately preceding the calendar month in which said order is placed or delivery is accepted, or in the three calendar months of the previous year which immediately follow the calendar month of that year corresponding with the month in which said order is placed or delivery is accepted, whichever shall be the higher: Provided, however, No person shall be entitled to count as withdrawn from inventory and resold or put into actual use, for the purpose of calculating his permitted supply, any lots of Manila cordage purchased expressly for and resold or delivered to the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the Defense Supplies Corporation, or the Metals Reserve Company, but every such person shall be entitled to include in the said calculation as withdrawn from inventory and resold or put into actual use any lots of Manila cordage sold to any of the foregoing from his general supply of Manila cordage where such lots, or their equivalent, were not purchased by him expressly for such resale: And provided further, That nothing herein contained shall prohibit the importation of, or restrict the inventory of, imported Manila cordage which may be held by any dealer for whose account such Manila cordage was imported.

(f) Control of stocks of Manila fiber. Control is hereby taken of the distribution and use of Manila fiber. Any Manila fiber at any time hereafter in the inventory of any person shall be sold and delivered by such person if and as specifically directed in any order of the Director General for Operations which may be issued whenever the Director General for Operations shall determine that a shortage of any particular grade of Manila fiber for defense, or for private account and for export, renders it necessary or appropriate so to allocate such Manila fiber in the public interest or to promote the national defense by so directing its sale and delivery by such person. Any such sale shall be made at the established prices and terms of sale and payment therefor. No person shall dispose of or use Manila fiber in any manner inconsistent with any such order.

(5) Delivery by or to any person having temporary custody of Manila cordage or Manila fiber solely for the purposes of transportation or the public warehousing thereof.

(h) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of Manila fiber conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion for nondefense work to defense work, may appeal to the Director General for Operations by letter or telegram Ref: M-36, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief, or upon such form or forms as may hereafter be prescribed. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate. Applications for specific exceptions from the limitations of paragraph (e) (3) should be made in writing by the person desiring to use the cordage.

(1) "Quarter of a quarter-quarter section" means the northeast, northwest, southeast, or southwest one-quarter of a quarter-quarter section: Provided, That such quarter of a quarter-quarter section is approximately square.

(b) Oil wells drilled in the State of Illinois and a portion of the State of Indiana. The provisions of paragraph (b) of Conservation Order M-68, as amended, shall not apply where material is to be used to drill or complete (or provide additions to) any oil well which is drilled to any sand formation in the State of Illinois, or in the Counties of Clay, Daviess, Dubois, Gibson, Greene, Knox, Martin, Perry, Pike, Posey, Spencer, Sullivan, Vanderburgh, Vigo, or Warrick in the State of Indiana: Provided, That:

(1) As to any such oil well which is drilled or completed at a depth of not more than 2,500 feet:

(i) Such well is drilled within 30 feet of the center of a drilling unit consisting of a quarter of a quarter-quarter section upon which quarter no drilling or producible well other than such well is or is to be located: Provided, That, where any other well has been located either approximately in the center of a quarter-quarter section (attributable solely to such well) or in the center of half of a quarter-quarter section (attributable solely to such well), such other well shall be deemed to have been drilled on an adjacent quarter of a quarter-quarter section; and

(ii) The proposed drilling unit upon which such well is or is to be located consists entirely of acreage which is not attributable to any drilling or producible well (located within the same lease or property) other than such well; (The acreage attributable to any well "spudded" subsequent to December 23, 1941, which offsets such well and is drilled to a depth of not more than 2,500 feet, shall be the quarter of a quarter-quarter section upon which such offset well is located. The acreage attributable to any well "spudded" subsequent to December 23, 1941, which offsets such well and is drilled to a depth of more than 2,500 feet, shall be the one-half of a quarter-quarter section (north, south, east, or west halves) upon which such offset well is located. The acreage attributable to any well "spudded" on or before December 23, 1941, which offsets such well, shall be determined by assigning to such offset well an acreage equivalent to that in the existing well density or drilling pattern contiguous to such offset well.)

(iii) All separate property interests in the proposed drilling unit shall have been consolidated prior to the actual commencement of operations at the designated drilling location of such well;

(iv) Such well is drilled at least 330 feet from any lease line, property line, or subdivision line which separates unconsolidated property interests; and

(v) The tubing and casing (other than the "surface pipe") required to drill, complete, or provide additions to such well is on hand or is obtained without the use of priorities assistance.

(2) As to any such oil well which is drilled or completed at a depth of more than 2,500 feet:

(i) Such well is drilled on a drilling unit of not less than one-half of a quarter-quarter section (north, south, east, or west halves) upon which no drilling or producible well other than such well is or is to be located;

(ii) The proposed drilling unit upon which such well is or is to be located consists entirely of acreage which is not attributable to any drilling or producible well (located within the same lease or property) other than such well; (The acreage attributable to any drilling or producible well which offsets such well shall be determined in accordance with the applicable provisions of paragraph (b) (1) (ii).)

(iii) All separate property interests in the proposed drilling unit shall have been consolidated prior to the actual commencement of operations at the designated drilling location of such well;

(iv) Such well is drilled within 30 feet of the center of a quarter of a quarter-quarter section;

(v) Where other wells "spudded" in the field subsequent to December 23, 1941, and in conformity with the provisions of Conservation Order M-68 (as amended from time to time) have been located approximately in the centers of corresponding quarters of quarter-quarter sections, such well is drilled with respect to the quarter-quarter section upon which it is located either at a location which conforms to the location of such other wells or within 30 feet of the center of the quarter of a quarter-quarter section which is diagonally opposite such corresponding quarter of a quarter-quarter section;

(vi) Where other wells "spudded" in the field subsequent to December 23, 1941, and in conformity with the provisions of Conservation Order M-68 (as amended from time to time) have been located approximately in the centers of corresponding halves (north, south, east, or west halves) of quarter-quarter sections, any such well, other than the first well spudded in such field subsequent to the issuance of this supplementary order, is drilled at least 725 feet from any drilling or producible well which is or is to be drilled to a depth of more than 2,500 feet; and

(a) Such well shall bear the same geographic relationship to the quarter-quarter section upon which it is located as such first well bears to the quarter-quarter section upon which such first well is located, or

(b) Such well shall be drilled on the quarter of a quarter-quarter section diagonally opposite the quarter of a quarter-quarter section on which such geographic relationship can be attained.

(vii) Where paragraphs (b) (2) (v) and (b) (2) (vi) are not applicable, any such well, other than the first well "spudded" in such field subsequent to the issuance of this supplementary order, shall bear either the same geographic relationship to the quarter-quarter section upon which it is located as such first well bears to the quarter-quarter section upon which such first well is located, or such well shall be drilled on the quarter of a quarter-quarter section diagonally opposite the quarter of a quarter-quarter section on which such geographic relationship can be attained.

(viii) Such well is drilled at least 330 feet from any lease line, property line or subdivision line which separates unconsolidated property interests; and

(ix) The tubing and casing (other than the "surface pipe") required to drill, complete, or provide additions to such well is on hand or is obtained without the use of priorities assistance.

The acreage attributable to any well "spudded" subsequent to December 23, 1941, which offsets such well and is drilled to a depth of more than 2,500 feet, shall be 20 surface acres. The acreage attributable to any well "spudded" on or before December 23, 1941, which offsets such well, shall be determined by assigning to such offset well an acreage equivalent to that in the existing well density or drilling pattern contiguous to such offset well.)

(iii) All separate property interests in the proposed drilling unit shall have been consolidated prior to the actual commencement of operations at the designated drilling location of such well;

(iv) Such well is drilled at least 600 feet from any drilling or producible well;

C., Ref.: L-28, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

Part 3109—Medical Equipment and Supplies Simplification

[General Limitation Order L–214]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply for defense, for private account and for export of the materials entering into the production of medical equipment and supplies and in the facilities available for the production of medical equipment and supplies; and the following order and the schedules issued pursuant hereto are deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the war effort:

§ 3109.1 General Limitation Order L–214—(a) Issuance of schedules simplifying lines of medical equipment and supplies. The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue schedules establishing simplified practices with respect to the types, sizes, forms, specifications or other qualifications for medical equipment, supplies, instruments and materials, and other similar products. After the issuance of any such schedule no such materials or products shall be produced, fabricated, processed or assembled except such as conform to the issued schedule and except as specifically permitted by such schedule. Any schedule issued pursuant hereto may also contain any other restrictions concerning such materials and products that may be deemed necessary and appropriate, such as restrictions on the sale, purchase, transfer, delivery and/or uses thereof.

(b) Appeals. Any person affected by this order or any schedule issued pursuant hereto who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a serious problem of unemployment in the community, or that compliance with this order or such schedule would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from nondefense to defense work, may apply for relief by addressing a letter to the War Production Board (Reference: L–214) setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(c) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order (and any schedule issued pursuant hereto) and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(d) Records. All persons affected by this order, or any schedule issued pursuant hereto, shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production, sales, and deliveries.

(e) Reports. All persons affected by this order, or any schedule issued pursuant hereto, shall file such reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board.

(f) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, or any schedule issued pursuant hereto, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Health, Safety and Technical Supplies Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref: L–214.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or any schedule issued pursuant hereto, or who, in connection with this order, or any such schedule, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

CAR-MOR METAL CO., INC.

Car-Mor Metal Company, Inc., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is a corporation engaged in business as a scrap dealer, ingot maker and babbitt maker, and melts approximately fifteen (15) tons of copper and copper base alloy scrap per month. During the month of April, 1942, the company melted approximately 24,000 pounds of copper and copper base alloy scrap without having first obtained specific authorization from the Director of Industry Operations. This constituted a violation of Supplementary Order No. M–9–b.[2]

During the period June 15, 1942 to August 1, 1942, the company made numerous deliveries of brass ingot to various purchasers without having first received evidence from said purchasers of their specific authority from the Director of Industry Operations to receive said material. These deliveries were made subsequent to a time when the company had knowledge that said deliveries could not be made without its first having received a Form PD–518–a certificate granting the necessary authority to the purchaser to receive said materials. These deliveries constituted violations of Supplementary Order No. M–9–b.

These violations of Supplementary Order M–9–b have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.115 Suspension Order S–115. (a) Car-Mor Metal Company, Inc., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, its successors and assigns, are hereby prohibited from melting or processing any copper, copper base alloy and copper scrap in excess of seven (7) tons in any calendar month. Nothing contained in this paragraph shall be deemed as authority to melt copper, copper base alloy and copper scrap, but Car-Mor Metal Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall make application for authority to melt copper, copper base alloy and copper scrap, in accordance with the applicable orders and regulations of the Director General for Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Car-Mor Metal Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision, contained in any order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations, or the Director General for Operations, whether now in force or hereafter issued, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on November 1, 1942, and shall expire on January 31, 1943, at which time the restriction contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 24th day of October 1942.

Director General for Operations.

Part 1364—Fresh, Cured, and Canned Meat and Fish

DOMESTIC CANNED CRABMEAT

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for the sale of domestic canned crabmeat. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of domestic canned crabmeat prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The maximum prices established herein are not below the average price of such commodities in the year 1941.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1364.251 to 1364.267, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1364.251 Prohibition against dealing in domestic canned crabmeat at prices above the maximum. On and after October 30, 1942, regardless of any contract, agreement, or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver any domestic canned crabmeat, and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any domestic canned crabmeat at prices higher than the maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 247; and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing. The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to sales or deliveries of domestic canned crabmeat to a purchaser if, prior to October 30, 1942, such canned crabmeat has been received by a carrier, other than a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to such purchaser.

§ 1364.252 Canner's maximum prices for domestic canned crabmeat. (a) The canner's maximum prices per dozen f. o. b. factory for each kind, grade, and container size of domestic crabmeat of the 1942 pack and subsequent packs shall be those set forth below:

(1) Blue crabmeat and sand crabmeat, fancy or white fancy, No. ½ flats, $3.50.

(2) Blue crabmeat and sand crabmeat, brown claw fancy, No. ½ flats, $3.00.

(3) Dungeness crabmeat, fancy, No. ½ flats, $4.00.

(b) For container sizes or styles of pack or types of domestic canned crabmeat not listed in § 1364.252 (a), the canner's maximum price shall be a price determined by the Office of Price Administration to be in line with the prices listed in § 1364.252 (a). Such determination shall be made upon written request, addressed to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and accompanied by a sworn statement showing costs and usual differentials.

(c) Every canner shall maintain his customary allowances, discounts, or other price differentials.

§ 1364.253 Wholesalers' and retailers' maximum prices for standard domestic canned crabmeat. (a) The maximum prices applicable to sales and deliveries of domestic canned crabmeat by any person other than the canner thereof or the agent, or other person acting on behalf, or under the control, of such canner shall be (1) in the case of persons selling at wholesale the sum obtained by adding to the seller's maximum prices per dozen in effect prior to the issue of this regulation the amount of twenty-four cents per dozen as to any sale or delivery of dungeness crabmeat and the amount of eighty-four cents per dozen as to any sale or delivery of blue crabmeat and sand crabmeat, and (2) in the case of persons selling at retail the sum obtained by adding to the seller's maximum prices per can in effect prior to the issue of this regulation the amount of two cents per can as to any sale or delivery of dungeness crabmeat and the amount of seven cents per can as to any sale or delivery of blue crabmeat or sand crabmeat.

[General Docket No. 26]

REVISION OF MARKETING RULES AND REGULATIONS

NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

In the matter of marketing rules and regulations incidental to the sale and distribution of coal by code members, established by the Division for Districts 1-20, inclusive, 22 and 23; in re a proposal to review and revise the marketing rules and regulations as established by the Division.

The Director of the Bituminous Coal Division having, on the 8th day of August 1940 in General Docket No. 15, established Marketing Rules and Regulations for the sale and distribution of coal by code members in all districts, pursuant to the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937; and

The Bituminous Coal Division having received inquiries regarding the reasonableness of requiring distributors to specify in their contracts, spot orders or written confirmation of spot orders, the name of the code member and the name of the originating mine or mines as provided in Rule 3 of section V and Rule 1 of section VI of the Marketing Rules and Regulations; and

It appearing desirable that evidence be received relating to the reasonableness of and the necessity for revising Rule 3 of section V and Rule 1 of section VI so as to permit registered distributors to comply with these rules without specifying the name of the code member and the name of the originating mine or mines in contracts, spot orders or written confirmation of spot orders;

It is therefore ordered, That on November 17, 1942, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at a hearing room of the Bituminous Coal Division, Washington, D. C., a hearing will be held at which time evidence will be received relating to the reasonableness and the necessity for the revision and amendment of Rule 3 of section V and Rule 1 of section VI of the Marketing Rules and Regulations as hereinbefore provided. On such day the Chief of the Records Section will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Charles S. Mitchell or any other officer or officers of the Bituminous Coal Division duly designated for that purpose shall preside at a hearing in such matter. The officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to conduct said hearing, to administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take evidence, to continue said hearing from time to time, and to prepare and submit to the Director proposed findings of fact and conclusions and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises, and to perform all other duties in connection therewith authorized by law.

Notice of such hearing is hereby given to all persons who may have an interest in the subject matter thereof. Any person desiring to be heard at such hearing shall file a notice to that effect on or before November 12, 1942, setting forth therein the nature of his interest and a concise statement of the matter he intends to present.

All persons are further notified that the hearing in the above-entitled matter and any orders therein, may concern, in addition to the matters specifically stated herein, other matters necessarily incidental and related thereto which may be raised by petitions of interested parties, or otherwise, or which may be necessary corollaries to the proposed amendment and revision of Rule 3 of section V and Rule 1 of section VI of the Marketing Rules and Regulations.

Dated: October 23, 1942.

[Suspension Order 144]

CROWN GAS AND OIL COMPANY

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Crown Gas and Oil Company, Dealer operating Dealer Outlet in Somerville, Massachusetts, herein called respondent, is a Massachusetts Corporation, is regularly engaged in the business of transferring gasoline directly to consumers and is subject to the gasoline rationing regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration. There was duly served on respondent a notice of specific charges of violations of the Emergency Gasoline Rationing Regulations, and a notice of hearing thereon. Pursuant to said notice a hearing on said charges was held on August 31, 1942, in Boston, Massachusetts. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to said charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. Such evidence having been considered by the Deputy Administrator, it is determined that:

(1) Respondent has violated the Emergency Gasoline Rationing Regulations in that on July 2, on July 3, 1942, and on numerous other occasions between May 15 and July 21, 1942, it transferred to consumers at Somerville, Massachusetts, various quantities of gasoline without the exhibition of any gasoline rationing card Class X or without the cancellation of any unit of any gasoline rationing card Class A or B, the gasoline so transferred being delivered into the fuel tanks of motor vehicles clearly identifiable as private passenger vehicles.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in the Massachusetts area, violations of the Emergency Gasoline Rationing Regulations necessarily resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to national defense. It further appears to the Deputy Administrator from the evidence before him that further violations of the Gasoline Rationing Regulations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken, It is therefore ordered:

(a) During the period in which this suspension order shall be in effect, respondent, its successors and assigns, shall not sell, transfer, or deliver any gasoline to any consumer.

(b) Any terms used in this order that are defined in the Emergency Gasoline Rationing Regulations shall have the meaning therein given them.

(c) This suspension order shall become effective 12:01 A. M. October 26, 1942, and unless sooner terminated, shall expire 12:01 A. M. December 25, 1942.

[Suspension Order 145]

JAMES FREEMAN

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

James Freeman, hereinafter called respondent, was duly served with a notice of specific charges of violations by him of the Emergency Gasoline Rationing Regulations and a notice of hearing thereon. Pursuant to said notice a hearing on said charges was held on August 31, 1942 in Boston, Massachusetts. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration; respondent did not appear in person but appeared by counsel. The evidence pertaining to said charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. Such evidence having been considered by the Deputy Administrator, it is determined that:

(a) Respondent has violated the Emergency Gasoline Rationing Regulations in that on numerous occasions between May 15, and July 21, 1942, respondent as an employee of Crown Gas and Oil Company in Somerville, Massachusetts, transferred gasoline to divers consumers, said transfers being made into the fuel tanks of motor vehicles clearly identifiable as private passenger vehicles and said transfers being made without the exhibition of any gasoline rationing card Class X or without the cancellation of any unit of any gasoline rationing card Class A or B.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in the Massachusetts area respondent's violations of the Emergency Gasoline Rationing Regulations necessarily resulted in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to national defense. It further appears to the Deputy Administrator from the evidence before him that violations of the Gasoline Rationing Regulations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action is taken: It is therefore ordered:

During the period in which this suspension order shall be in effect, respondent shall not, either as principal or as agent, sell, transfer, or deliver any gasoline to any consumer.

(b) Any terms used in this order that are defined in the Emergency Gasoline Rationing Regulations shall have the meaning therein given them.

(c) This suspension order shall become effective 12:01 A. M. October 26, 1942, and unless sooner terminated shall expire 12:01 A. M. October 26, 1943.

(Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.; Sec. 2 (a) of Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Law 89, 77th Cong. and by Pub. Law 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. No. 9125 (7 F.R. 2719); W.P.B. Directive No. 1 and Supplementary Directive No. 1H (7 F.R. 562, 3478, 3477))

Issued this 24th day of October 1942.

SPEED OIL COMPANY OF ATLANTA, INC.

ORDER RESTRICTING TRANSACTIONS

Speed Oil Company of Atlanta, Incorporated, a corporation, hereinafter called respondent, was served with a notice of charges of violations of the Gasoline Rationing Regulations, issued by the Office of Price Administration. Pursuant to said notice, a hearing on said charges was held on September 15, 1942, in Atlanta, Georgia. There appeared a representative of the Office of Price Administration and respondent. The evidence pertaining to such charges was presented before an authorized presiding officer. Such evidence having been considered by the Deputy Administrator, it is hereby determined that:

Respondent has violated the Gasoline Rationing Regulations in that on the 22nd day of August, 1942, at a filling station operated by it at 210 Peters Street, S.W., Atlanta, Georgia, respondent transferred gasoline to a consumer and into the fuel tank of a motor vehicle without requiring the presentation of a gasoline coupon book and without detaching therefrom any coupons.

Because of the great scarcity and critical importance of gasoline in the United States, violations of the Gasoline Rationing Regulations necessarily result in the diversion of gasoline from military and essential civilian uses into non-essential uses, in a manner contrary to the public interest and detrimental to national defense. It appears to the Deputy Administrator on the evidence before him that further violations of the Gasoline Rationing Regulations by respondent are likely unless appropriate administrative action be taken: It is hereby ordered:

(a) That during the period in which this suspension order shall be in effect, respondent shall not sell, transfer, or deliver any gasoline at its filling station at 210 Peters Street, S. W., Atlanta, Georgia.

(b) Any terms used in this suspension order that are defined in the Gasoline Rationing Regulations shall have the meaning therein given them.

(c) This suspension order shall become effective October 30, 1942, and unless sooner terminated, shall expire November 14, 1942.

PART 323—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 3

FINDINGS OF FACT, ETC.

Findings of fact, conclusions of law, memorandum opinion and order in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 3 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 3.

This is a proceeding instituted upon a petition filed with the Bituminous Coal Division (the "Division") on July 10, 1942, by District Board No. 3, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act (the "Act") of 1937, requesting revisions in and additions to the price classifications and minimum prices presently effective for shipment by rail of the coals of certain mines in District No. 3.

An Order of the Acting Director was entered August 5, 1942, granting temporary relief.

After due notice to interested persons, a hearing was held in this matter on August 19 and 20, 1942, before W. A. Cuff, a duly designated Examiner of the Bituminous Coal Division, at a hearing room thereof in Washington, D. C., at which interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses and otherwise be heard. Appearances were entered by the petitioner and by the Consumer's Counsel of the Bituminous Coal Division. The preparation and filing of a report by the Examiner were waived, and the matter thereupon submitted to the Director.

The petition requests relief for two groups of mines, all of which had been previously classified. In the first group it was requested that:

(1) The classification of the coals of the Moore No. 1 and Moore No. 2 Mines (Mine Index Nos. 1102 and 337) of C. L. Moore and Son Coal Company be changed from "F" [1] to "D" in Size Groups

1 to 10, inclusive, and an additional classification of "B" be established for coals in Size Groups 11 to 16, inclusive; (2) the classification of the coals of Foster No. 31 Mine (Mine Index No. 590) of T. E. Foster be changed from "J" to Size Groups 1 to 6, inclusive, and "H" in Size Groups 7 to 10, inclusive, to "D" in Size Groups 1 to 10, inclusive, and an additional classification of "B" be established for coals in Size Groups 11 to 13, inclusive, and of "A" in Size Groups 14 to 16, inclusive; and that (3) the classification of the coals of Bolair Mine (Mine Index No. 762) of Russell Talbert [2] be changed from "J" to "D" in Size Groups 1 to 10, inclusive, and an additional classification of "B" be established for coals in Size Groups 11 to 16, inclusive.

In support of these requests, the uncontroverted testimony of Daniel T. Buckley, Chairman of District Board No. 3, was to the following effect. An analysis of the coals in these four mines shows them to be in practically every respect like the No. 5 Block Seam coals. These coals compete with the mid-volatile high fusion coals of District No. 1 and also with the high grade, high fusion, high volatile coals of District No. 2. The coals of these mines would seek their markets in the East because the older types of burning equipment there require a coal of extremely high fusion to operate many of the plants. The low fusion Pittsburgh Seam coal would not perform satisfactorily in plants which could successfully burn this coal. No Pittsburgh Seam operator has objected to the classifications in question because they would have no effect on his business. While the coals of the Tioga Coal Company Mine, the only mine in the No. 5 block coal in Northern West Virginia that produces a substantial amount of tonnage, have an "A" classification for Sizes 14 to 16, inclusive, and while that classification has been given in those sizes to the coals of Foster No. 31 Mine, "B" in those sizes is more nearly correct and will allow freer and more equal competition. Sizes 14 to 16 in Foster No. 31 Mine should be classified "A" for by-product use.

In the second group of mines, District Board 3 requested that:

(1) The classification of the coals of Morgan Brothers No. 1 and No. 2 Mines (Mine Index Nos. 1236 and 687) of Donald Morgan be changed from "F" in Size Groups 1 to 10, inclusive, to "DE" in Size Groups 1 to 6, inclusive, and to "DF" in Size Groups 7 to 10, inclusive, and an additional classification of "B" be established for coals in Size Groups 11 to 16, inclusive; and (2) the classification of the coals of Joe Morgan Mine (Mine Index No. 946) of Joe Morgan be changed from "F" in Size Groups 1 to 10, inclusive, to "DE" in Size Groups 1 to 6, inclusive, and "DF" in Size Groups 7 to 10, inclusive, and an additional classification of "B" be established for coals in Size Groups 11 to 16,[3] inclusive.

The coals of the Morgan Brothers No. 1 and No. 2 Mines and of the Joe Morgan Mine are about the same in all factors of analysis as the low sulphur Pittsburgh Seam coals. The analyses show the coals of these three mines not to be the high sulphur coals of the "F" grade now given them. The classifications requested in the petition are similar to the classifications of other low volatile District No. 3 "D" coals, i. e., coals of under 1.35 sulphur.[4] Witness Buckley stated it to be his opinion that in view of the analyses made by the District 3 laboratory, and the market history of coals in District No. 3, the requested changes should be made in the classifications of the coals in both groups of mines.

Interested parties, including the mine owners, have been notified, and no objections have been presented.

Upon the basis of the uncontroverted evidence, I find and conclude: (1) that the relief sought herein is reasonable and necessary to enable the coals of the Moore No. 1 and Moore No. 2 Mines (Mine Index Nos. 1102 and 337), the Foster No. 31 Mine (Mine Index No. 590), the Bolair Mine (Mine Index No. 762), Morgan Bros. No. 1 and No. 2 Mines (Mine Index Nos. 1236 and 687), and the Joe Morgan Mine (Mine Index No. 946) to compete upon a fair and competitive basis with coals of other producers in District No. 3; (2) that the relief prayed for by the petitioner is necessary to effectuate the purposes of section 4 II (a) and 4 II (b) of the Act and to comply with the standards thereof; and (3) that, therefore, the temporary relief granted by the Order of the Acting Director dated August 5, 1942, should be made permanent.

It is therefore ordered That, effective fifteen (15) days from the date of this Order, § 323.6 (Alphabetical list of code members) in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 3 for All Shipments Except Truck be, and it hereby is, amended in accordance with the classifications and minimum prices set forth in Supplement R which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof.

Dated October 13, 1942.

[SEAL] DAN H. WHEELER,

[1] The "F" classification was given to the coals of Moore No. 1 and Moore No. 2 Mines in Docket No. A-1083 on October 20, 1941, 6 F.R. 5665, pending an investigation of the quality of the coals; they were given the "F" classification because they were above 30 volatile. No analysis has been made of the coals in Moore Mine No. 1 because the laboratory of District Board 3 was unable to get samples of the coals. Since it is the same seam and contiguous to the Moore Mine No. 2, Witness Buckley is of the opinion that it should be given a like classification.

[2] Mine 762 was erroneously named in Supplement R of the Acting Director's Order of August 5, 1942, as the Talbert Mine with W. A. Talbert given as the code member. The record shows that it is in fact the Bolair Mine, and that the code member is Russell Talbert.

[3] It appeared at the hearing that the Size "17" on page 4 of the petition and on page 2 of the Notice of and Order for Hearing and Order of August 5, 1942, 7 F.R. 6152, Granting Temporary Relief was an error, and in the petition it was intended to request that the mine be given a "B" classification in Sizes 11 to 16, inclusive.

[4] A considerable amount of time has been spent trying to find new sources of coal for the Dupont plant at Morgantown, West Virginia, now making materials essential to the war effort. The plant, which is owned by the United States Army and run by the Ordnance Department, is trying to raise its stock pile of coal in accordance with a directive order of the War Department. It can use anything up to $1.50 sulphur in its by-product ovens, but the coal must have a classification permitting the producer to ship by-product coal.

NOTE: The material contained in this supplement is to be read in the light of the classifications, prices, instructions, exceptions and other provisions contained in Part 323, Minimum Price Schedule for District No. 3 and supplements thereto.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this Order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

The price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the Schedule attached hereto are based upon the price classifications and minimum prices in effect on October 1, 1942, for comparable and analogous coals and already reflect the changes made in minimum prices by the Acting Director's Order of August 28, 1942, 7 F.R. 6943, in General Docket No. 21. The minimum prices in the attached Schedule do not differ, except in this regard, from the minimum prices proposed by petitioner.

[General Preference Order M-254]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of para-phenyl-phenol resins for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3125.1 General Preference Order M-254—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Para-phenyl-phenol resins" means resins manufactured from para-phenyl-phenol, whether or not modified with other materials, including but not limited to those resins designated by the trade names and sales numbers BR-254, BK-3962X, BR-17,000, (manufactured by Bakelite Corporation) and Super-Beckacite 3000 (manufactured by Reichold Chemical Company). The term para-phenyl-phenol resins shall not include such resins incorporated into protective or technical coatings.

(2) "Producer" means any person who produces para-phenyl-phenol resins.

(b) Restrictions on use and delivery of para-phenyl-phenol resins. (1) On and after October 26, 1942, no producer shall deliver and no person shall accept from a producer para-phenyl-phenol resins except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations upon application pursuant to paragraph (d) or as provided in paragraph (b) (3).

(2) On and after October 26, 1942, no person shall use, consume, deliver or accept delivery of stocks of para-phenyl-phenol resins designated by the trade symbols BR-254, BK-3962X, BR-17,000, or Super-Beckacite 3000, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations upon application pursuant to paragraph (d), or except as provided in paragraph (b) (3): Provided, however, That nothing contained in this order shall prevent use and consumption by the United States Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration of stocks of para-phenyl-phenol resins held by such departments or agencies on the date of issuance of this order.

(3) Specific authorization of the Director General for Operations shall not be required with respect to use, consumption or acceptance of delivery from a producer by any person in any calendar month of five pounds or less of para-phenyl-phenol resins; and the delivery of para-phenyl-phenol resins by the producer thereof in lots of five pounds, provided that in the aggregate no such producer shall deliver more than one-tenth of one percent of his monthly production of para-phenyl-phenol resins to fill such small orders.

(4) Each person specifically authorized to accept delivery of para-phenyl-phenol resins shall use such para-phenyl-phenol resins for the purpose authorized, except as otherwise specifically directed by the Director General for Operations.

(c) Special directions with respect to para-phenyl-phenol resins. The Director General for Operations in his discretion may at any time issue special directions to any person with respect to the production, use or delivery of para-phenyl-phenol resins by such persons.

(d) Applications and reports. (1) Each person seeking authorization to use or accept delivery of para-phenyl-phenol resins shall file application on Form PD-600 in the manner prescribed therein, subject to the following instructions for the purpose of this order:

With respect to use and delivery thereafter, application shall be made on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the month for which authorization for use or delivery is sought. In emergency, application may be made by wire and special authorization may be granted by return wire. Such emergency applications and temporary authorizations must be confirmed by application as soon as possible thereafter on Form PD-600, which will be returned with final authorization signed by the Director General for Operations.

A set of five copies should be prepared; three copies filled out completely and the fourth copy with tables II and III blank (omit where supplier is "own stocks") shall be certified and sent to the War Production Board, Chemicals Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-254; and the fifth complete copy shall be retained by the applicant. After having been signed by the Director General for Operations, one copy will be returned to the applicant and another (with tables II and III blank) to the supplier, unless supplier is "own stocks."

Number of sets. A separate set of PD-600 application forms shall be submitted for each preferred supplier and for each different delivery destination or plant of the applicant. The preferred supplier is the supplier from whom the applicant has regularly procured, or prefers to procure para-phenyl-phenol resins.

FIRESTONE TIRE AND RUBBER CO.

Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, whose principal place of business is at Akron, Ohio, is engaged in the operation of service stations for the sale of motor fuel in and about Boston, Massachusetts. It owns and operates several service stations in the Boston District which are supplied with gasoline from bulk plants owned by the Company. Its supplier of motor fuel established a quota under Limitation Order L-70 for each of its bulk plants, but the company, although it was a supplier, did not establish any quotas for its service stations. The company distributed the motor fuel delivered by its supplier among its service stations without regard to their proper quotas. This resulted in substantial over-deliveries of motor fuel to the company's service station located in Brockton, Massachusetts, during the months of April and May, 1942. The company also made over-deliveries to other service stations during these months because of its failure to compute quotas for such stations, but in subsequent months attempted to compensate for this by under-deliveries to these stations.

The over-deliveries of motor fuel to these service stations constituted a wilful violation of Limitation Order L-70, which has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing; It is hereby ordered:

§ 1010.103 Suspension Order S-103. (a) Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, its successors and assigns, shall not sell or deliver to any person any motor fuel, as defined in Limitation Order L-70, at the service station owned and operated by it, located in Brockton, Massachusetts, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent herewith.

[1] General Preference Order M-186 also defines "district".

(c) This order shall take effect on October 28th, 1942, and shall expire on December 28, 1942, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 26th day of October 1942.

CRESCENT ELECTRIC CO.

J. B. Roxburgh, an individual doing business as Crescent Electric Company, of San Francisco, California, is engaged in the business of distributing electrical supplies as a wholesaler. It is a warehouse, as defined in General Preference Order M-9-a.

From April 30, 1942, to May 6, 1942, J. B. Roxburgh, doing business as Crescent Electric Company, accepted and filled wholesale orders for 72,279 feet of copper wire, having a value of $558.70, which did not bear a preference rating of A-10 or higher, notwithstanding the fact that he had knowledge of said Order. These acts constituted wilful violations of General Preference Order M-9-a, as amended on February 6, 1942.

From May 7, 1942, to June 1, 1942, J. B. Roxburgh, doing business as Crescent Electric Company, accepted and filled wholesale orders for 88,204 feet of copper wire, having a value of $1,331.00, which did not bear a preference rating of A-1-k or higher, notwithstanding the fact that he had knowledge of said order. These acts constituted wilful violations of General Preference Order M-9-a, as amended on May 7, 1942.

On February 27, 1942, and May 28, 1942, J. B. Roxburgh, doing business as Crescent Electric Company, applied preference ratings of A-10 under Preference Rating Order P-100 to certain purchase orders for copper wire, certifying that such material was for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies. 342,105 feet of copper wire, included in the purchase order of February 27, 1942, and 15,750 feet of copper wire included in the purchase order of May 28, 1942, were not for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, as defined in Preference Rating Order P-100, and the applications of the rating to these purchase orders constituted violations of Preference Rating Order P-100 and misrepresentations to the War Production Board.

These violations of General Preference Order M-9-a and Preference Rating Order P-100 have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce material to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts; It is hereby ordered:

§ 1010.123 Suspension Order S-123. (a) Deliveries of material to J. B. Roxburgh, doing business as Crescent Electric Company or otherwise, or his successors and assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference ratings shall be assigned or applied to such deliveries by means of Preference Rating Certificates, Preference Rating Orders, General Preference Orders, or any other orders or regulations of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) No allocation shall be made to J. B. Roxburgh, doing business as Crescent Electric Company or otherwise, his successors or assigns, of any material the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(c) This order shall take effect on October 31, 1942, and shall expire on January 31, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 26th day of October 1942.

ERNEST KANZLER,
Director General for Operations.

RICHARD STIEGLER

Richard Stiegler, 230 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, bought certain property on Liberty Street in Springfield, Massachusetts in December, 1941, on which he planned to erect a super market which was to be rented to the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company (hereinafter referred to as "A & P"). Construction of this store had not been commenced on April 9, 1942, and due to Conservation Order L-41 it became necessary for Mr. Stiegler to obtain authorization from the War Production Board for such construction. On April 17, 1942, Mr. Stiegler signed an application on Form PD-200 for authorization to build this store which application was granted May 9, 1942. Question 15 of Form PD-200 requests the applicant to explain in detail what consideration has been given either to temporarily using other available facilities or to reconditioning existing facilities. In answer to this question Mr. Stiegler stated "none available". In signing the application he also certified that there was no omission of any material fact.

At the time this application was filed, A & P was operating another super market within a half mile of the proposed new store. The company on completion of the new building planned to cancel its lease on the existing store which it considered inadequate and unsatisfactory. Despite the fact that Mr. Stiegler knew that other facilities were in fact available and presently occupied by A & P, he made no qualification or explanation of his answer to Question 15 in the PD-200 form. Prior to the filing of this application he had been informed by a representative of the War Production Board that such application would probably not be granted if other facilities were available so he knew that his answer to this question was inadequate and misleading.

Construction on the store commenced in July, 1942, pursuant to the authorization which had been given and had reached an advanced stage when halted by an order from the Director General for Operations. Joseph Chiarelli of Springfield, Massachusetts, is the general contractor.

The inadequate and misleading statement made by Mr. Stiegler on the application form prevented full consideration of the application, which might not have been approved if the facts had been fully disclosed; and has made it appropriate to suspend the effectiveness of the authorization for a period of time. In view of the foregoing; It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.125 Suspension Order S-125. (a) Neither Richard Stiegler nor Joseph Chiarelli nor any other person shall order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory, or in any other manner secure or use material or construction plant in order to continue construction on the property located at 761 Liberty Street, Springfield, Massachusetts, except as specifically authorized in writing by the Regional Compliance Chief of the Boston Regional Office of the War Production Board for the purpose of protecting the said premises from the elements.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Richard Stiegler or Joseph Chiarelli or any other person from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on October 28, 1942, and shall expire January 28, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 26th day of October 1942.

ERNEST KANZLER,
Director General for Operations.

[Suspension Order S-126]

PHILADELPHIA BREWING COMPANY

Philadelphia Brewing Company, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, is engaged in the production and selling of malt beverages. It uses closures made of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate (hereinafter simply referred to as "closures") in the bottling of such beverages. The use of closures for this purpose is restricted by Conservation Order M-104.

Shortly after the issuance of Conservation Order M-104, the Company filed an appeal from the restrictions of the order and was specifically authorized on June 12, 1942, by a telegram signed by the Director of Industry Operations to use, during June and July, 1942, not more than 100% of its corresponding consumption of closures in June and July, 1941, for the bottling of malt beverages. In June, 1941, the Company had used 4,803 gross of closures and in July, 1941, 5,190 gross. In June, 1942, it used 9,582 gross of closures in the bottling of malt beverages and in July, 1942, 11,755 gross in violation of Conservation Order M-104 as modified by the telegram of June 12, 1942, despite the fact that its appeal for relief had been granted. During August, 1942, the Company was permitted to use only 3,240 gross of closures in the bottling of malt beverages but despite this restriction used 11,281 gross of closures in that month for such purpose. At all times during June, July, and August, 1942, the Company was fully aware of the restrictions contained in Conservation Order M-104 and its excessive use of closures constituted a wilful violation of that order.

These violations of Conservation Order M-104 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing; It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.126 Suspension Order S-126. (a) Philadelphia Brewing Company, its successors and assigns, shall not use any closures made of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate (as said terms are defined in Conservation Order M-104, as amended September 26, 1942) in the bottling of malt beverages, except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Philadelphia Brewing Company, its successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision of any other order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on October 28, 1942, and shall expire on February 28, 1943, at which time the restrictions contained in this order shall be of no further effect.

Issued this 26th day of October 1942.

Director General for Operations.

PART 3037—ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L-183-a]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of electronic equipment for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3037.2 General Limitation Order L-183-a—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Electronic equipment" means any electrical apparatus or device involving the use of vacuum or gaseous tubes and electrical equipment used for communications, detection and signaling.

(2) "Producer" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not, to the extent engaged in the production or assembly of electronic equipment which is manufactured for delivery to or for the account of:

(i) The Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, the Panama Canal, the Coast Guard, and the Civil Aeronautics Administration; or

(ii) The government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom, including its dominions, Crown Colonies and Protectorates, and Yugoslavia; or

(iii) Any other country, including those of the Western Hemisphere, now or hereafter designated, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941, entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(3) "Precedence list" is the schedule issued, and as amended from time to time by the Joint Communications Board of the Army and Navy, which sets forth by numerical designation the relative urgency of deliveries of certain types and quantities of electronic equipment. The order of urgency established by this list is:

PLA1.
PLA1a, etc.
PLA2, etc.
PLB1, etc.; PLA1 being the highest urgency presently assigned.

(b) Operation of the precedence list. (1) The numerical designations of the precedence list shall establish the relative urgency of certain deliveries of types and quantities of electronic equipment and of those components and parts referred to in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph, within any single category of preference rating. Any delivery bearing a lower numerical designation in any category of preference rating shall be deferred to the extent necessary to assure, within the time specified, those deliveries bearing higher designations within the same category of preference rating, even though such deferment may cause default in deliveries bearing lower designations.

(2) The assignment of a precedence list designation shall not affect production or delivery under any order (including an order for electronic equipment or components or parts thereof) which does not bear a precedence list designation. The sequence of deliveries among such orders bearing no precedence list designation and as between any order bearing no precedence list designation and any order bearing a precedence list designation shall be determined pursuant to Priorities Regulation No. 1 in accordance with the preference ratings which such orders respectively bear.

(3) Each producer shall review his production and delivery schedules for electronic equipment to which numerical designations under the precedence list have been applied; and on January 1, 1943, and thereafter, notwithstanding the provisions of any other applicable priorities regulations or orders of the War Production Board, he shall schedule or reschedule within each category of preference rating his production schedules of deliveries of types and quantities of electronic equipment to which numerical designations of urgency have been applied, in relation to each other only, and in accordance with such designations, so that, as to deliveries of those bearing lower designations, production shall be deferred to the extent necessary to assure those deliveries bearing higher designations within the time specified.

(4) When numerical designations of urgency have been applied to deliveries by a producer, such producer shall immediately transmit such designations, in writing, to his suppliers and fabricators of components or parts to be incorporated into such deliveries of the producer. The numerical designations of urgency shall be applied only to deliveries of fabricated and semifabricated components and parts but not to deliveries of raw materials.

(5) Any such supplier or fabricator receiving such numerical designations of urgency, from one or more producers, shall thereupon schedule or reschedule, within each category of preference rating, his production schedules of deliveries of types and quantities of components or parts to which such designations apply, in relation to each other only, and in accordance with such designations, so that, as to deliveries of those bearing lower designations, production shall be deferred to the extent necessary to assure those deliveries bearing higher designations in accordance with the purchase orders therefor.

(6) The Director General for Operations may from time to time issue special orders or directions varying or changing dates of deliveries or production schedules of electronic equipment and parts and components therefor, and such orders or directions when issued shall be complied with irrespective of preference ratings or Precedence List designations.

(c) Records. All producers and suppliers and fabricators affected by this order shall keep and preserve, for not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning production deliveries and orders for electronic equipment and components and parts therefor, deliveries of which are governed by this order.

(d) Reports. All producers and suppliers and fabricators affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board shall from time to time prescribe.

(e) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time, except as specifically provided to the contrary in paragraph (b) hereof.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priorities control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him, or that it would result in a serious problem of unemployment, in the community, may apply for relief by addressing a letter to the War Production Board, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(h) Communications. All reports to be filed, appeals and other communications concerning this order should be addressed to: War Production Board, Radio and Radar Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref: L-183-a.

Director General for Operations.

§ 991.1 General Preference Order M-40—(a) Definition. For the purpose of this order "sperm oil" means that oil obtained from the head or body of the sperm whale, alone or combined, including sperm oil which has been winterized, pressed, distilled, deodorized, sulphonated, sulphurized, sulfo-chlorinated, sulphated, blown or otherwise physically or chemically treated, but excluding crude and refined spermaceti.

(b) Restriction on use, processing and delivery of sperm oil. No person shall use, process, deliver or accept delivery of sperm oil except as specifically authorized by the Director General for Operations upon application of the user, processor or deliveree on Form PD-481, or except as provided in paragraph (c).

(c) Exemptions. Specific authorization of the Director General for Operations shall not be required with respect to:

(1) The delivery by any one person of 2,000 pounds or less of sperm oil in any one calendar month (in lots of not more than 100 pounds to any one person in any one calendar month).

(2) The use, processing, and acceptance of delivery of 100 pounds or less of sperm oil by any one person in any one calendar month.

(3) The delivery of sperm oil by (but not to), and the use or processing of sperm oil by, the United States Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration.

(d) Restriction on use of sperm oil in lubricating oils and greases. (1) No person shall, in the production of lubricating or cutting oils or compounds, use sulphurized sperm oil having a sulphur content of less than ten percent (10%) by weight (including in the weight of such sulphurized sperm oil, the weight of any unsulphurized sperm oil used in conjunction therewith); and

(2) No person shall, in the production of lubricating or cutting oils or compounds, use sperm oil to an extent which will increase the sulphur content of such oil or compound to an amount in excess of that of the same grade of such oil or compound as prepared by the producer thereof during the 30-day period immediately prior to May 16, 1942.

(e) Reports. (1) Each person who shall bring sperm oil into the United States or its possessions shall file a letter with the War Production Board, Chemicals Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-40, within ten days after such importation, stating the port of entry, place of storage, ownership, grade and amount of such sperm oil.

(2) Each person affected by this order shall file such other reports as may from time to time be required by the Director General for Operations.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board priorities regulations, as amended from time to time.

(2) Intra-company deliveries. The prohibitions and restrictions of this order with respect to deliveries of sperm oil shall apply not only to deliveries to other persons, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also deliveries from one branch, division or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

(3) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who wilfully furnishes false information to the War Production Board in connection with this order is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the Director General for Operations.

(4) Appeal. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him or that it would result in a degree of unemployment which would be unreasonably disproportionate compared with the amount of sperm oil conserved, or that compliance with this order would disrupt or impair a program of conversion from nondefense to defense work, may appeal to the Director General for Operations by addressing a letter in triplicate to the War Production Board, Chemicals Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-40, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons he considers that he is entitled to relief. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate.

(5) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Chemicals Branch, Washington, D. C., Ref: M-40.

PART 1085—MAINTENANCE AND OPERATION OF PLANTS CANNING OR PROCESSING FRUITS, VEGETABLES, OR FISH

[Preference Rating Order P-115, as Amended October 27, 1942]

Part 1085 (formerly entitled "Maintenance and Expansion of Plants Canning Fruits and Vegetables") is hereby amended to read "Part 1085, Maintenance and Operation of Plants Canning or Processing Fruits, Vegetables or Fish," and Preference Rating Order P-115 (§ 1085.1) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 1085.1 Preference Rating Order P-115—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Producer" means any person located in the United States, its territories and possessions, engaged in the business of canning or otherwise processing fruits, vegetables, or fish, or any person, located in the Dominion of Canada, to whom and in whose name a copy of this order is specifically issued.

(2) "Canning" means the preparation of fruits, vegetables, or fish for market by packing such fruits, vegetables, or fish (either alone or in combination with other commodities) in hermetically sealed containers and sterilizing by the use of heat and includes all operations required for or usually incidental to such preparation.

(3) "Processing" means the primary preparation of fruits, vegetables, or fish for market by freezing, dehydration, and fresh packing in a processing plant.

(4) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind, used in the canning or processing of fruits, vegetables or fish, but does not include any planting or harvesting equipment, fishing vessels, or fishing equipment, or equipment used in the transportation of food products from the producer's plant.

(5) "Maintenance" means minimum upkeep necessary to enable the producer's existing plant and equipment to be used at its maximum rate of operation permissible under Conservation Order M-81 (To Conserve the Supply and Direct the Distribution of Tin Plate and Terne Plate) and other like orders.

(6) "Repair" means restoration of a producer's machinery, plant or equipment to sound working condition after physical depreciation, wear and tear, damage, destruction of parts or the like have impaired its fitness for service but not to an extent involving major reconstruction.

[1] 7 F.R. 7485.

(7) "Material required for operation" means operating supplies including strapping and stitching wire but not including metal containers and closures, fuel, and office supplies.

(8) "Replacement" means substitution of new machinery or equipment for existing machinery or equipment, when not constituting repair.

(9) "Material required for more efficient operation" means material necessary for the most effective use of machinery in existing production lines, and material required to adapt such lines to the requirements of Order M-81, as amended from time to time, and other orders restricting permitted uses of containers and closures.

(10) "Supplier" means any person with whom a contract or purchase order has been placed for delivery of material to a producer or to another supplier.

(11) "Fish" includes shellfish.

(b) Assignment of preference ratings. Preference ratings are hereby assigned, subject to the restrictions and conditions of paragraphs (c) and (d) hereof:

(1) AA-2X to deliveries, to a producer, of material directly required for emergency maintenance or repair, to avert spoilage of fruit, vegetables or fish because of an actual breakdown or suspension of a producer's operations.

(2) AA-5 to deliveries, to a producer, of material required for repair, maintenance or operation.

(3) AA-3 to deliveries, to a producer, of material required for replacement, or for more efficient operation, excluding, however, any deliveries:

(i) For the construction of new buildings, or the establishment of new plants.

(ii) For the establishment of new production lines.

(iii) For any other purpose that, in the opinion of the Director General for Operations at the time application is made, as provided in paragraph (d) (3) below, is not in the public interest, does not promote the national defense, or is in conflict with the policy of Conservation Order M-81 (To Conserve the Supply and Direct the Distribution of Tin Plate and Terne Plate) or other like orders.

(c) Restrictions on application of ratings by producer. (1) The producer shall not apply any preference rating assigned by (b) (1) above to deliveries of material to replace other material withdrawn from his inventory of stores for maintenance, repair or operation.

(2) The producer shall not apply any preference rating assigned by (b) (2) above, if, in view of the current rate of consumption of his inventory of stores for repair and maintenance or operation, the delivery of the material to be rated would increase his inventory or stores above the minimum permitted or provided in paragraph (e) below.

(3) The producer shall not apply any preference rating hereunder unless the material to be delivered cannot be secured when required without such rating.

(4) The producer may apply the rating only to those quantities and kinds of materials necessary to enable him to maintain his canning or processing schedules up to the end of the calendar year 1943.

(d) Application of preference rating. (1) A producer or any supplier, in order to apply or extend the preference ratings assigned hereunder shall comply with Priorities Regulation No. 3, as it may be amended from time to time.

(2) If preference rating AA-2X is applied, for emergency maintenance or repair, the producer must, immediately upon placing his order for such material, telegraph to the War Production Board the following with respect to such order:

(i) The name and address of the supplier;

(ii) Brief statement of what necessitated application of rating for emergency maintenance and repair;

(iii) A specific description of the material included in the order, and

(iv) The invoice cost of each item of such material.

(3) If the material is required for replacement or more efficient operation, the producer shall not apply preference rating AA-3, unless he shall have communicated with the War Production Board, describing the material needed and the nature of the proposed replacement or addition, and shall have received from the Director General for Operations a specific authorization to apply such rating, notwithstanding the fact that he may have previously been authorized to apply a rating of A-3, or A-1-c. Such application for authorization may be made by a written statement on Form PD-285 or, in any emergency, by telegram giving substantially the information called for by said Form PD-285.

(e) Inventory provisions. A producer shall not accept deliveries (whether rated hereunder or not) of material for repair and maintenance or operation which will increase the inventory or stores available to the producer for such purposes to an amount greater than the minimum necessary for repair and maintenance and to sustain the current level of operations of the producer, and the ratio of such inventory and stores to current operations shall in no event exceed the ratio of average inventory to average operation for the years 1938, 1939, and 1940.

(f) Records. In addition to the records required to be kept under Priorities Regulation No. 1, a producer, and each supplier placing or receiving any purchase order or contract rated hereunder, shall each retain, for a period of two years, for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, endorsed copies of all such purchase orders or contracts, whether accepted or rejected segregated from all other purchase orders or contracts or filed in such a manner that they can be readily segregated for such inspection.

(g) Reports. Each producer who applies a preference rating hereunder shall file such reports as may be required from time to time by the War Production Board; and until further notice any producer who applies a preference rating hereunder for "emergency maintenance or repair", or for "repair, maintenance or operation" shall file with the War Production Board on or before the 10th day of each month copies of all purchase orders on which such ratings have been applied during the previous month.

(h) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Food Branch, Washington, D. C. Ref.: P-115.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(j) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended at any time as to any producer or any supplier. In the event of revocation, deliveries already rated pursuant to this order shall be completed in accordance with said rating, unless the rating has been specifically revoked with respect thereto. No additional applications of the rating to any other deliveries shall thereafter be made by the producer or supplier affected by such revocation.

(k) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1405—FERRO-ALLOYS

[MPR 248]

MANGANESE ORES

In the judgment of the Price Administrator it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for sales of manganese ores by a specific maximum price regulation. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of manganese ores prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industries which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been prepared, issued simultaneously herewith, and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 248 is hereby issued.

(b) The Administrator will entertain no petition or application for amendment, adjustment, exception or other relief from the maximum prices established for standard ferromanganese by Maximum Price Regulation No. 138,[3] or for any other product of manganese ores, to the extent that such petition or application is based directly or indirectly, on delivered costs of manganese ores, purchased by the petitioner or applicant pursuant to paragraph (a) of this § 1405.55, which are in excess of what the delivered costs would have been if the petitioner or applicant had purchased ores of equivalent grade for which maximum prices are established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 248.

§ 1405.56 Sales or deliveries of domestic battery or chemical manganese ores. Neither the provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 248, other than § 1405.59, nor the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation shall apply to the sale or delivery of domestic battery or chemical manganese ores.

§ 1405.58 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 248 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt, of or relating to manganese ores, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

(2) "Manganese ore" means any metallurgical, battery or chemical manganese ore as defined below.

(3) "Metallurgical manganese ore" means any mineral substance in a crude state used chiefly as a source of manganese in the production of ferro-alloys or manganese metal. It includes such ore even though it has been concentrated or beneficiated. It shall not include any ore which contains less than 35% metallic manganese by weight, nor shall it include any ore which is sold for use in the dry battery or chemical industries or for resale for such use.

(4) "Battery manganese ore" means any mineral substance in a crude state which is sold for use or for resale for use in the dry battery industry as a source of manganese dioxide. It includes such ore even though it has been concentrated, beneficiated, or sized.

(5) "Chemical manganese ore" means any mineral substance in a crude state which is sold for use or for resale for use in the chemical industry as a source of manganese or any compound of manganese. It includes such ore even though it has been concentrated, beneficiated, or sized.

(6) "Long ton unit" means one one-hundredth part of a long or gross ton of 2240 pounds.

(7) "Continental United States" means the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(8) "Domestic battery or chemical manganese ore" means any battery or chemical manganese ore mined within the continental United States.

(9) "Import" means to bring into the continental United States from any place outside the continental United States.

(10) "Buyer's receiving point" means the place at which the buyer will convert or process a particular lot of ore, or at which he will stockpile it for conversion, processing or resale at some future time.

(11) "Buyer's most favorable basing point" means that one of the basing points listed from which a delivery of the particular lot of manganese ore to the buyer's receiving point would yield the buyer the lowest delivered cost. The delivered costs shall be computed by adding to the base price applicable to the particular basing point the rail freight for delivering the particular lot of ore from such basing point to the buyer's receiving point.

(12) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or under different conditions of sale.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 shall apply to other terms used in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 248.

§ 1405.64 Effective date. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 248 (§§ 1405.51 to 1405.66, inclusive) shall become effective November 9, 1942.

§ 1405.65 Appendix A: Maximum prices for metallurgical manganese ores. (a) The maximum prices for metallurgical manganese ores shall be determined by using the following base prices and base analysis with the premiums and penalties herein prescribed:

Base Analysis on Dry Basis

Manganese—48%;
Iron—6%;
Silica plus alumina—11%;
Phosphorus—.18%.

Maximum Base Price Per Long Ton Unit of Contained Manganese, Duty, if any, Paid

96¢ f. o. b. railroad cars Fontana, California, Pueblo, Colorado, or Provo, Utah.

Premiums

Iron content below 6%: ½¢ for each 1%.

Silica plus alumina content below 11%: nothing.

Phosphorus below .18%: nothing.

Penalties

Manganese Content

Below 48%: 1¢ for each 1% down to and including 44%.

Below 44%: 4¢, plus 1½¢ for each 1% down to and including 40%.

Below 40%: 10¢, plus 2¢ for each 1% down to and including 35%.

Iron Content

Above 6%: 1¢ for each 1% up to and including 8%.

Above 8%: 2¢, plus ¾¢ for each 1%.

Silica plus alumina content

Above 11%: 1¢ for each 1% up to and including 15%.

Above 15%: 4¢, plus ¾¢ for each 1%.

Phosphorus Content

Above .18%: ⅓¢ for each .01%.

The above premiums and penalties shall be applied pro rata to variations of a fraction of 1%.

The basing point to be used in the determination of the maximum price for particular lots of metallurgical manganese ore shall be the buyer's most favorable basing point. If metallurgical ore is sold on a delivered price basis and the buyer's receiving point is located at a place elsewhere than the buyer's most favorable basing point, the maximum delivered price shall be the applicable base price, plus rail freight from such basing point to the buyer's receiving point. If, however, ore is sold f. o. b. a point other than the buyer's most favorable basing point or the buyer's receiving point, the maximum price shall be the applicable base price, plus rail freight from the buyer's most favorable basing point to the buyer's receiving point, minus rail freight from the f. o. b. point to the buyer's receiving point.

(b) Quantity differential. The maximum prices set forth in paragraph (a), above, may be increased by 10¢ per long ton unit of contained manganese if the seller, at the request of and for the convenience of the buyer, sells and delivers metallurgical manganese ore in lots of one carload or less.

(c) Analysis. In any case where the buyer contracts for or requests settlement for a particular lot of metallurgical manganese ore on the basis of an independent analysis, the buyer may pay, in addition to the maximum price as determined under paragraphs (a) and (b), above, an amount equal to but not exceeding one-half the actual expenses of such analysis incurred pursuant to such contract or request: Provided, That, if the buyer pays more than one-half the cost of such independent analysis, the maximum price shall be adjusted downward by an amount equal to the amount by which such payment exceeds one-half the actual expenses of such analysis.

(d) Credit. The maximum prices set forth above shall not be increased by any charges for the extension of credit.

§ 1405.66 Appendix B: Maximum prices for battery and chemical manganese ores. (a) The maximum prices for battery and chemical manganese ores, other than domestic battery and chemical ores, shall be:

(1) The highest price which the seller charged for such kind and grade of ore delivered by him to a purchaser of the same class during March 1942; or

(2) If the seller did not deliver such kind and grade of ore to a purchaser of the same class during March 1942, the highest price quoted in the seller's price list, or, if he had no price list, the highest price which the seller regularly quoted in any other manner, for delivery of such kind and grade of ore to a purchaser of the same class during March 1942; or

(3) If the maximum price for such kind and grade of ore cannot be determined under the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (a), a price approved by the Administrator, which shall be in line with the level of maximum prices established by subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph (a). Pending such approval by the Administrator, any person may sell or deliver, and any person may buy or receive, such ore at the price submitted for approval. If, however, the Administrator disapproves the price submitted, the contract price shall be revised downward to the maximum price which the Administrator shall approve, and, if any payment has been made at a price higher than that so approved, the seller shall refund the excess: Provided, That the price submitted by the seller for approval shall be deemed to be approved unless the Administrator specifically disapproves such price and establishes an approved maximum price within 20 days from the date on which the report required herein is received by the Office of Price Administration, or, if further information is requested from the seller within such 20-day period, then within 20 days from the date on which all such information is received by the Office of Price Administration.

(4) On and after November 9, 1942, every person selling ores pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (3) of this paragraph (a) shall report every such sale to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. within five days from the date thereof, stating:

(i) The name and address of the buyer;

(ii) The source and analysis of the ore;

(iii) The quantity sold;

(iv) The date of purchase and the cost of the ore to the seller;

(v) The use for which the buyer is purchasing; and

(vi) The price submitted for approval.

(5) The provisions of subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph (a) shall not apply to sales of any kind and grade of ore at a price previously reported to and approved by the Administrator, for a sale of such kind and grade of ore to a purchaser of the same class, in accordance with the provisions of subparagraphs (3) and (4), above. Whenever the price proposed for a particular kind and grade of ore has been so approved, the price so approved shall be the maximum price at which such person may thereafter sell such ore to a purchaser of the same class. Nothing contained herein, however, shall be construed to prevent the Administrator from adjusting any price so approved when in his judgment such adjustment is warranted.

(b) Sales of imported battery or chemical manganese ores. (1) Any person may sell battery or chemical manganese ores, imported after March 31, 1942, at prices higher than the maximum prices for such ores which are established by subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (a) of this § 1405.66 or which would have been approved by the Administrator pursuant to subparagraph (3) thereof: Provided, That (i) the seller, at the time when he offers to sell such ores, shall advise the buyer that such higher prices are being charged pursuant to this paragraph (b) and shall inform him of the provisions of this paragraph (b); and (ii) if the seller delivered or offered such ores for delivery, during March 1942, the increase in price shall not exceed the amount by which his delivered costs for such ores exceed his delivered costs for the same kind and grade of ores which he delivered, or offered for delivery, during March 1942; or (iii) if the seller did not deliver such ores, or offer them for delivery, during March 1942, the prices charged by him shall be subject to revision or adjustment by the Administrator if, in the opinion of the Administrator, such prices exceed the maximum prices which, in the absence of this paragraph (b), would have been approved by the Administrator pursuant to the provisions of subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a) of this § 1405.66, plus a fair allowance for increases in the costs of importation over the importation costs which prevailed during March 1942.

(2) Within 10 days after the first delivery made pursuant to the first sale at a higher price permitted by this paragraph (b), the seller shall report such sale to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., stating:

(i) The name and address of the buyer;

(ii) The source and analysis of such ore and the uses for which the buyer purchased it;

(iii) The price and terms of sale;

(iv) The dates at which such ore was bought by the seller and at which it was imported into the continental United States;

(v) The price at which the person who imported such ore purchased it, the terms of his purchase, and the charges for freight, insurance and duties incurred by him in connection with such purchase;

(vi) The delivered cost to him of ore of the same kind and grade if he delivered, or offered such ore for delivery during March 1942; and

(vii) The maximum price to which the seller would have been limited under paragraph (a) of this § 1405.66, except for the provisions of this paragraph (b). If it would have been necessary for him to submit a price for approval pursuant to subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a), he shall so state.

(3) The Administrator will entertain no petition or application for amendment, adjustment, exception or other relief from the maximum prices established for any commodity made from or with imported battery or chemical manganese ores to the extent that such petition or application is based, directly or indirectly, on delivered costs of imported battery or chemical manganese ores, purchased by the petitioner or applicant pursuant to paragraph (b) of this § 1405.66, which are in excess of what the delivered costs would have been if the petitioner or applicant had purchased ores of equivalent grade at the maximum prices for such ores which are established by subparagraphs (1) and (2) of paragraph (a) of this § 1405.66, or which would have been approved by the Administrator pursuant to subparagraph (3) thereof.

Issued this 26th day of October 1942.

Sec.
1351.765 Appendix B: Form for listing maximum prices computed under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1351.751 to 1351.765, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1351.751 Applicability of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249—(a) What commodities may be priced under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 applies only to the particular seasonal food products listed in Appendix A (§ 1351.764) of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249.

(b) To what types of sellers this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 applies. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 applies only to sellers at wholesale of seasonal food products (hereinafter referred to as wholesalers).

(c) Geographical applicability of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 applies to the continental United States and the District of Columbia, but not to the territories and possessions of the United States.

§ 1351.752 Prohibition against selling and buying at higher than maximum prices. On and after October 26, 1942, the date this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 takes effect, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person is permitted to sell or deliver at wholesale any item of the seasonal food products listed in § 1351.754, Appendix A, at a price which is higher than the maximum price established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249, and no person is permitted to buy or receive any item of these seasonal food products from a wholesaler in the course of trade or business at a price which is higher than that maximum price. Lower prices than the maximum prices may be charged and paid.

§ 1351.753 How a wholesaler calculates his maximum price for seasonal food products listed in Appendix A. The wholesaler shall calculate his maximum price for each item of a seasonal food product (that is, for each kind, style or type, grade, brand, container type and size) listed in Appendix A as follows:

(a) The maximum price rule. The wholesaler shall first find his "net cost" of the item of the seasonal food product he is pricing. He must then multiply that "net cost" by his "1941 percentage markup". The meanings of "net cost" and "1941 percentage markup" are explained in paragraphs (b) and (c) which follow.

(b) The meaning of "net cost". "Net cost" as used in the maximum price rule above means the amount the wholesaler paid for the item delivered at his customary receiving point less all discounts and all allowances allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for local unloading or local trucking shall be included in "net cost". "Net cost" shall be based on the first lot delivered to the wholesaler after August 1, 1942 of a customary quantity from a customary supplier and by the customary mode of transportation: Provided, that if the cost to the wholesaler of a seasonal food product is adjusted by any regulation issued after August 1, 1942, by the Office of Price Administration, then "net cost" shall be based on the first lot delivered to the wholesaler at prices subject to the new regulation.

(c) The meaning of "1941 percentage markup". The percentage which the wholesaler shall use as his "1941 percentage markup" depends upon whether or not in 1941 he sold the same item of the seasonal food product being priced:

(1) If the wholesaler did sell the item being priced during 1941, he shall:

(i) Select the class of purchasers to whom he made the largest proportion of total sales of all merchandise during 1941, then

(ii) Take the price at which he made the first sale of the item being priced to a customer in this class out of stocks received after January 1, 1941, and

(iii) Divide this price by his net cost[1] of the item in the first shipment received in 1941.

The resulting figure is the wholesaler's "1941 percentage markup" for that class of purchasers.

(2) If the wholesaler did not sell the item being priced during 1941, but did sell another item of the same seasonal food product, he shall use his "1941 percentage markup" calculated as in (c) (1) above, on the largest volume item of that seasonal food product which he did sell during 1941.

(d) Prices for other classes of purchasers. If a wholesaler had a practice during March, 1942 of giving to different classes of purchasers, allowances, discounts or other price differentials, he shall add to or subtract from the maximum price he has set for the particular class of purchasers under paragraph (c) as follows: (1) For each class to whom the wholesaler customarily sells at higher prices, he adds to the maximum price first calculated the amount of his customary percentage increase and thus obtains the maximum price for that class. (2) For each class to whom the wholesaler customarily sells at a lower price, he subtracts from the maximum price first calculated the amount of his customary percentage discount and thus obtains the maximum price for that class.

(e) If the wholesaler did not sell any item of that seasonal food product during 1941, his maximum price for any item of a seasonal food product listed in Appendix A shall be the same as the maximum price determined under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 for that item by his most closely competitive seller of the same class to the same class of purchasers, or if this competitor has not established a maximum price for the same item, his maximum price determined for a similar item. A similar item is one which is of the same kind, quality and quantity and would ordinarily sell in the same price line as the item being priced.

§ 1351.754 Maximum prices cannot be changed. Once established, a maximum price determined under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 may not be changed except with the written permission of a district, state or regional office of the Office of Price Administration, in cases of clerical error or other formal mistakes. A wholesaler's maximum price is "established" as soon as he has listed a price for an item in accordance with § 1351.755, or has disclosed it by offer of sale or notice of any kind.

§ 1351.755 Maximum prices must be listed. Before making any sales of any seasonal food product covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249, every wholesaler shall list in writing his maximum prices for that seasonal food product on a form similar to the form set out in Appendix B (§ 1351.765), and shall preserve this form for examination by the Office of Price Administration. In addition to the records required by § 1499.11 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, every wholesaler shall keep all records and invoices from which he calculated his maximum prices under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

§ 1351.756 Maximum prices where rules of § 1351.753 cannot be applied. If a wholesaler cannot determine his maximum price for any item of a seasonal food product under the provisions of § 1351.753 he shall file an application with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration setting forth (a) a description in detail of the item of a seasonal food product for which a maximum price is sought; (b) a statement of the reasons why the maximum price cannot be determined under the provisions of § 1351.753; (c) a statement of the nature of applicant's business, pricing methods and customary markups on comparable items; and (d) a request that a maximum price be established for that item of that seasonal food product for applicant.

§ 1351.757 Fractions of cents. If the calculation of a maximum price for a customary unit of sale, i. e., case, carton, dozen, etc., under this regulation results in a fraction of less than one-half cent, the maximum price shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent; if the calculation results in a fraction of one-half cent or more, it shall be increased to the nearest higher cent.

§ 1351.758 Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation and other Maximum Price Regulations. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation or any other applicable price regulation, order or supplementary regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration with respect to sales and deliveries of the seasonal food products listed in Appendix A (§ 1351.764). However, the following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as the amendments to them, shall continue to be applicable to every wholesaler selling such seasonal food product:

(b) Federal and state taxes (§ 1499.7).

§ 1351.759 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of or relating to any of the commodities covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or by way of any commission, service, transportation or other trade understanding, or by calculating "net cost" on purchases from non-customary suppliers, purchases by non-customary modes of transportation, or otherwise.

§ 1351.760 Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249, is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

§ 1351.761 Export sales. The maximum prices at which a person may export any commodity covered by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 249 shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Revised Maximum Export Regulations[2] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

INSTRUCTIONS TO WHOLESALERS IN PREPARING RECOMMENDED FORM FOR RECORDING MAXIMUM PRICES COMPUTED ON SEASONAL FOOD PRODUCTS

Prices shown on this form should apply to the wholesaler's largest class of customers.

Attach a statement to the form showing customary allowances, discounts or price differentials in effect during March, 1942.

Two horizontal lines, A and B, should be used on the form for each item. Line A should show the information regarding the new item offered in the 1942 holiday season. Line B should show the corresponding information for the corresponding item offered in the 1941 season.

Column 1. Date of Calculating New Ceiling Price. Write the date you calculate your ceiling price for this item. You can make no sales until you have calculated your new price and made this entry.

Column 2. Commodity Description. Write the name of the item and weight or container size. Also show any other information affecting price, such as brand, package, type, etc.

Column 3. Name of Supplier. Write the name of the processor or distributor from whom you first received this item each season.

Column 4. Net Cost of First Lot. Write the net cost for the first shipment you received at the beginning of the 1941 and 1942 seasons. "Net cost" means the price you paid delivered at your customary receiving point, less all discounts, except discount for prompt payment. See § 1351.753.

Column 5. Opening Sale Price. Write the price at which you made your first sale of this item in the 1941 holiday season to the customer shown in column 6, line B. (Leave line A, 1942, blank.)

> Important.—For column 5. The 1941 sale to which you refer must be the first sale to a customer in your largest class of customers. For example, if you do a cash and carry business, but you have a few customers to whom you offer delivery service, you must refer to your first cash and carry sale in the 1941 season, even though you sold to some of your "delivery" customers before making a sale to a "cash and carry" customer.

Column 6. Percentage Mark-Up Used. Divide your 1941 selling price for this item (col. 5) by your 1941 net cost (col. 4, line B) and show this mark-up in col. 6, line B. Show this same figure in col. 6, line A.

Column 7. 1942 Maximum Price. Multiply the percentage mark-up shown in col. 6, line A by the 1942 net cost shown in col. 4, line A. The figure so obtained will be your 1942 maximum price. (Leave line B, 1941, blank.)

If the maximum price is determined by using a competitor's 1942 ceiling price, show the following information:

Line A. Fill out as explained above.

Line B. Show the date of calculating the price in column 1; write a description of the commodity your competitor stocks in column 2; write your competitor's name and address in column 3 and his maximum price in column 7.

Issued this 26th day of October 1942.

Administrator.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, it is necessary and proper to establish maximum prices for the sale at retail of certain seasonal food products which were not generally sold at retail during March 1942.

The maximum prices established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 are, in the judgment of the Price Administrator, generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

AUTHORITY: §§ 1351.851 to 1351.865, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong., E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1351.851 Applicability of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250—(a) What commodities may be priced under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 applies only to the particular seasonal food products listed in Appendix A (§ 1351.865) of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250.

(b) To what types of sellers this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 applies. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 applies only to sellers at retail of seasonal food products (hereinafter referred to as retailer).

(c) Geographical applicability of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250. This Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 applies to the continental United States and the District of Columbia, but not to the territories and possessions of the United States.

§ 1351.852 Purpose. The purpose of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 is to permit a retailer to take the same percentage markup on certain seasonal food products sold after the effective date of this regulation as he obtained on the same items in 1941.

§ 1351.853 Prohibition against selling and buying at higher than maximum prices. On and after October 26, 1942, the date this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 takes effect, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person is permitted to sell or deliver at retail any item of the seasonal food products listed in § 1351.865, Appendix A, at a price which is higher than the maximum price established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250, and no person is permitted to buy or receive any item of these seasonal food products from a retailer in the course of trade or business at a price which is higher than that maximum price. Lower prices than the maximum prices may be charged and paid.

§ 1351.854 How a retailer calculates his maximum price for seasonal food products listed in Appendix A. The retailer shall calculate his maximum price for each item of a seasonal food product (that is, for each kind, style or type, grade, brand, container type and size) listed in Appendix A as follows:

(a) The maximum price rule. The retailer shall first find his "net cost" of the item of the seasonal food product he is pricing. He must then multiply that "net cost" by his "1941 percentage markup." The meanings of "net cost" and "1941 percentage markup" are explained in paragraphs (b) and (c) which follow.

(b) The meaning of "net cost". "Net cost" as used in the maximum price rule above means the amount the retailer paid for the item delivered at his customary receiving point less all discounts and all allowances allowed him, except the discount for prompt payment. No charge or cost for local unloading or local trucking shall be included in "net cost." "Net cost" shall be based on the first lot delivered to the retailer after August 1, 1942 of a customary quantity from a customary supplier and by the customary mode of transportation: Provided, That if the cost to the retailer of a seasonal food product is adjusted by any regulation issued after August 1, 1942, by the Office of Price Administration, then "net cost" shall be based on the first lot delivered to the retailer at prices subject to the new regulation.

(c) The meaning of "1941 percentage markup". The percentage which the retailer shall use as his "1941 percentage markup" depends upon whether or not in 1941 he sold the same item of the seasonal food product being priced:

(1) If the retailer did sell the item being priced during 1941, he shall:

(i) Take the price at which he made the first sale of the item being priced, out of stocks received after January 1, 1941 and

(ii) Divide this price by his net cost[1] of the item in the first shipment received in 1941.

The resulting figure is the retailer's "1941 percentage markup." This is the figure by which the retailer should multiply his 1942 "net cost" to arrive at his ceiling price.

Example: A retailer purchases from his supplier a shipment of Blank brand of plum pudding at a net cost of 24 cents per package in November 1942. Last year he made his first purchase of Blank plum pudding at a net cost of 20 cents per package and his first sales were made at a retail price of 25 cents.

He shall find his 1942 ceiling price for Blank plum pudding as follows:

(a) He divided 25 cents (his 1941 opening retail price) by 20 cents (his net cost on the first shipment received in 1941).

---

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

[1] Net cost in 1941 shall be defined as in paragraph (b) of § 1351.854, except that it shall be based on the first shipment received during 1941.

         ---

The resulting figure of 1.25 is his "1941 percentage markup" over net cost.

(b) He multiplies 24 cents (his 1942 net cost) by 1.25 (his "1941 percentage markup")

        -----

(c) 30 cents is his 1942 ceiling price.

(2) If the retailer did not sell the item being price during 1941, but did sell another item of the same seasonal food product, he shall use his "1941 percentage markup" calculated as in (c) (1) above, on the largest volume item of that seasonal food product which he did sell during 1941.

(d) Adjustment of maximum prices for different classes of purchasers. If a retailer had a practice during March 1942 of giving to different classes of purchasers allowances, discounts or other price differentials, he is required to reduce his maximum price calculated for any food product by the amount of such allowances, discounts or price differentials. No retailer shall change his customary allowances, discounts and price differentials if the change results in a higher net price.

(e) If the retailer did not sell any item of that seasonal food product during 1941, his maximum price for any item of a seasonal food product listed in Appendix A shall be the same as the maximum price determined under this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 for that item by his most closely competitive seller of the same class, or if this competitor has not established a maximum price for the same item, his maximum price determined for a similar item. A similar item is one which is of the same kind, quality and quantity and would ordinarily sell in the same price line as the item being priced.

§ 1351.856 Records required; maximum prices must be added to base-period records. (a) On the same day that a retailer calculates his maximum price under this regulation, he shall record this price on his base-period record, required in § 1499.11 of the General Maximum Price Regulation. If he had an old maximum price, the record of this old price shall not be destroyed.

(b) The retailer shall preserve the records of how he arrived at his "1941 percentage markup" and his 1942 ceiling price, including all appropriate invoices, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect. It is recommended that he write directly on his 1942 invoice—that is, the invoice from which he has taken his 1942 net cost for any seasonal food product—the "percentage markup" he has calculated and used.

§ 1351.857 Maximum prices where rules of § 1351.853 cannot be applied. If a retailer cannot determine his maximum price for any item of a seasonal food product under the provisions of § 1351.853 he shall file an application with the appropriate Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration setting forth (a) a description in detail of the item of a seasonal food product for which a maximum price is sought; (b) a statement of the reasons why the maximum price cannot be determined under the provisions of § 1351.854; (c) a statement of the nature of applicant's business, pricing methods and customary markups on comparable items; and (d) a request that a maximum price be established for that item of that seasonal food product for applicant.

§ 1351.858 Fractions of cents. If the calculation of a maximum price for a customary unit of sale, i. e., can, package, bottle, jar, pounds, etc., under this regulation results in a fraction of less than one-half cent, the maximum price shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent; if the calculation results in a fraction of one-half cent or more, it shall be increased to the nearest higher cent.

§ 1351.859 Applicability of the General Maximum Price Regulation and other Maximum Price Regulations. The provisions of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 250 supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation or any other applicable price regulation, order or supplementary regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration with respect to sales and deliveries of the seasonal food products listed in Appendix A (§ 1351.865). However, the following sections of the General Maximum Price Regulation, as well as the amendments to them, shall continue to be applicable to every retailer selling such seasonal food product:

[Order 15 Under § 1499.158 of MPR 188]

KEASBEY & MATTISON CO.

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 15 under § 1499.158 of Maximum price Regulation No. 188—Manufacturers' Maximum Price for Specified Building Materials and Consumers' Goods Other Than Apparel.

On August 8, 1942, Keasbey & Mattison Company of Ambler, Pennsylvania filed an application with the Office of Price Administration seeking a specific authorization pursuant to § 1499.158 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 to determine maximum prices for certain "custom-made" products (as defined in paragraph (b) below) and for instructions as to the method to be used in determining maximum prices for such products to be manufactured by them.

Authorization for Keasbey & Mattison Company to determine maximum prices for certain custom-made products. (a) The maximum price which may be charged by Keasbey & Mattison Company for custom-made products shall be determined in accordance with the following formula:

(1) Determine the unit cost of the direct labor involved in the production of the custom-made product based upon the highest wage rates in effect in the company's plant for any substantial portion of March 1942, for each class of labor involved in the production of the article.

(2) Add to this sum the unit cost of the direct materials used in manufacturing the custom-made product based upon the highest price charged during March 1942, by the manufacturer's supplier to the Keasbey & Mattison Company or, failing a sale to Keasbey & Mattison Company, to a purchaser of the same class as the Keasbey & Mattison Company; except that if the Office of Price Administration has established a lower maximum price for the sale of the material to the manufacturer by his supplier, such lower price shall govern.

(3) Add to the amounts determined under (1) and (2) above the sum arrived at by applying to the cost of the direct labor and material for the particular custom-made product being priced, as determined under (1) and (2) above, the percentage mark-up in effect during March 1942, as filed in the Office of Price Administration, for each of the following types of products:

Asbestos paper and millboard.
High and low pressure insulations.
Cements, insulating and adhesive.
Sprayed "Limpet" fibre.
Asbestos-cement wallboards.
Corrugated asbestos and asbestos lumber.
Impregnated and plain asbestos-cement sheets used for electrical purposes.
Asbestos-cement shingles and siding.
Asbestos-cement "Century" pipe and accessories.

(4) The price so determined shall be the maximum price for the custom-made product being priced. All freight equalization practices and allowances, all trade or cash discounts applicable to the sale of any type of custom-made product, whether based on quantity, class of purchaser, or any other cause, shall be applicable to the sale of any custom-made products whose maximum prices are determined under this order.

(b) The term "custom-made product" as used in this order No. 15 shall include all items manufactured by Keasbey & Mattison Company of the types designated in paragraph (a) (3) above, which are subject to Maximum Price Regulation No. 188; and

(1) Which are not part of, and will not become a part of, Keasbey & Mattison Company's standard line of products; or

(2) Which were not delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942, by Keasbey & Mattison Company; or

(3) Whose prices cannot be determined upon the basis of prices which Keasbey & Mattison Company had in effect for standard items and for special processing during March 1942; or

(4) Which may not be priced under § 1499.155 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(c) Within ten days after a maximum price has been determined in accordance with this order, the Keasbey & Mattison Company shall report that price to the Office of Price Administration, stating that the price was determined in accordance with the formula set forth in paragraph (a) hereof and setting forth in detail the calculations made in determining that price, including a description of the product and the labor and materials used. This report shall be filed under oath or affirmation and shall be filed in triplicate.

(d) Any selling price determined under this order shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(e) This Order No. 15 may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

(f) This Order No. 15 shall become effective October 27, 1942.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD.

[P-19-a, Serial No. 1775-A]

CONSOLIDATED BUILDERS, INC., MASON CITY, WASHINGTON

REVOCATION OF PREFERENCE RATING

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of metals, lumber and other materials used in construction, for defense, for private account and for export, and of construction machinery and other facilities used in construction; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense: It is therefore ordered:

1. Revocation of project ratings. Preference Rating Order P-19-a, Serial No. 1775-A, heretofore issued and assigned under date of October 18, 1941, to deliveries to the above-named Builder, and to deliveries to his Suppliers, is hereby revoked, insofar as it applies to the following described part of the Defense Project described and defined in said serially numbered order (which part is hereinafter referred to as "the project"):

All of that part of the project related to the Right (East) Power House. Completion of that portion of the Grand Coulee Dam and the Left (West) Power House necessary to place the hydro-generators authorized for installation in the left power house in effective operation is not included in this revocation.

2. Revocation of other ratings. All preference rating certificates of any character heretofore issued to the Builder or to any of his Suppliers are hereby revoked, insofar as they apply to purchase orders or contracts for materials to be incorporated in or used upon the project.

3. Effect of revocation. This revocation shall apply to ratings heretofore applied and extended as well as to ratings which have not yet been applied or extended, except with respect to rated orders and contracts which have been filled completely. For the purpose of extension by Suppliers, as well as for the purpose of original application by the Builder of any such rating, all purchase orders and contracts so rated, except orders or contracts which have been completely filled, shall have the status of unrated orders or contracts.

4. Prohibition of construction. The Builder shall neither perform nor permit the performance of any further construction or installation on the project, except that until November 15, 1942, and thereafter if expressly permitted by the Director General for Operations, construction may be continued solely for purposes of safety or health or to avoid undue damage to or deterioration of materials.

5. Prohibition of deliveries of material. Effective immediately the Builder, and effective October 28, 1942, all Suppliers, shall cease delivering or accepting delivery of any materials to be used in connection with the construction of or any installation on the project. This paragraph shall not, however, prohibit the delivery to their immediate destination of any materials which are now in transit, or the acceptance of any such delivery.

6. Notice to suppliers. The Builder shall promptly advise its Suppliers of the terms of this order, and each Supplier shall in turn notify his Suppliers.

7. Application for exception. The Builder or any Supplier who considers that compliance with this order would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may apply to the Director General for Operations for an exception, setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why he considers he is entitled to the relief requested. The Director General for Operations may thereupon take such action as he deems appropriate, including the restoration or temporary restoration of any rating herein revoked.

8. Effect on prior orders. This order supersedes all previous orders and directives of the War Production Board relative to the project.

9. Communications. All communications concerning this revocation, including applications for exception under paragraph 7, shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Facility Review Committee, Washington, D. C.

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That the above-entitled matters are herein consolidated.

Part 1388—Defense-Rental Areas

[Maximum Rent Regulation 55]

ORLANDO DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area set out in § 1388.381 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55, as designated in the designation and rent declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, as amended, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in the said designation and rent declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area on or about October 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation for housing accommodations within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

Authority: §§ 1388.381 to 1388.394, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1388.381 Scope of regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55 applies to all housing accommodations within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area, consisting of the County of Orange in the State of Florida (referred to hereinafter in this Maximum Rent Regulation as the "Defense-Rental Area"), as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration (§§ 1388.1201 to 1388.1205, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, as amended, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Housing accommodations situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Dwelling space occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the space is provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the dwelling space is a part;

(3) Rooms or other housing accommodations within hotels or rooming houses, or housing accommodations which have been, with the consent of the Administrator, brought under the control of the Maximum Rent Regulation for Hotels and Rooming Houses pursuant to the provisions of that regulation: Provided, That this Maximum Rent Regulation does apply to entire structures or premises though used as hotels or rooming houses.

[1] 7 F.R. 5013.

[2] 7 F.R. 5043.

[3] 7 F.R. 562.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.382 Prohibition against higher than maximum rents. (a) Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55 of any housing accommodations within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation, where housing accommodations are heated with fuel oil the landlord of such accommodations may as hereinafter provided enter into an agreement with the tenant providing for payment by the tenant of part or all of the cost of changing the heating unit to use some fuel other than oil or of installing a new heating unit using some fuel other than oil. Prior to making such agreement, the landlord shall in writing report the terms of the proposed agreement to the Area Rent Office. The landlord may enter into the agreement either upon its approval by the Administrator or, unless the Administrator has disapproved the proposed agreement within 5 days after the filing of such report, upon the expiration of such 5-day period.

(c) Where a lease of housing accommodations was entered into prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation and the tenant as a part of such lease or in connection therewith was granted an option to buy the housing accommodations which were the subject of the lease, with the further provision that some or all of the payments made under the lease should be credited toward the purchase price in the event such option is exercised, the landlord, notwithstanding any other provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation, may be authorized to receive payments made by the tenant in accordance with the provisions of such lease and in excess of the maximum rent for such housing accommodations. Such authority may be secured only by a written request of the tenant to the Area Rent Office and shall be granted by order of the Administrator if he finds that such payments in excess of the maximum rent will not be inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof. After entry of such order the landlord shall be authorized to demand, receive and retain payments provided by the lease in excess of the maximum rent for periods commencing on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation. After entry of such order, the provisions of the lease may be enforced in accordance with law, notwithstanding any other provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation: Provided, however, That if at the termination of the lease the tenant shall not exercise the option to buy, the landlord may thereafter remove or evict the tenant only in accordance with the provisions of § 1388.386 of this Maximum Rent Regulation. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to authorize the landlord to demand or receive payments in excess of the maximum rent in the absence of an order of the Administrator as herein provided. Where a lease of housing accommodations has been entered into on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, and the tenant as a part of such lease or in connection therewith has been granted an option to buy the housing accommodations which are the subject of the lease, the landlord, prior to the exercise by the tenant of the option to buy, shall not demand or receive payments in excess of the maximum rent, whether or not such lease allocates some portion or portions of the periodic payments therein provided as payments on or for the option to buy.

§ 1388.383 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55 are for housing accommodations including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for housing accommodations are less than such minimum services the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.385 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases except as provided in § 1388.385 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.384 Maximum rents. Maximum rents (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.385) shall be: (a) For housing accommodations rented on October 1, 1941, the rent for such accommodations on that date.

(b) For housing accommodations not rented on October 1, 1941, but rented at any time during the two months ending on that date, the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period.

(c) For housing accommodations not rented on October 1, 1941 nor during the two months ending on that date, but rented prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55, the first rent for such accommodations after October 1, 1941. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in §1388.385 (c).

(d) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented after October 1, 1941 and before the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed between those dates so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations changed between those dates from unfurnished to fully furnished, or from fully furnished to unfurnished, or (4) housing accommodations substantially changed between those dates by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, the first rent for such accommodations after such construction or change: Provided, however, That where such first rent was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of a major capital improvement, the maximum rent shall be the first rent after termination of such lease. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.385 (c).

(e) For (1) newly constructed housing accommodations without priority rating first rented on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or (2) housing accommodations changed on or after such effective date so as to result in an increase or decrease of the number of dwelling units in such housing accommodations, or (3) housing accommodations not rented at any time between August 1, 1941 and such effective date, the first rent for such accommodations after the change or the effective date, as the case may be. Within 30 days after so renting the landlord shall register the accommodations as provided in § 1388.387. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.385 (c).

(f) For housing accommodations constructed with priority rating from the United States or any agency thereof for which the rent has been heretofore or is hereafter approved by the United States or any agency thereof, the rent so approved, but in no event more than the first rent for such accommodations.

(g) For housing accommodations constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on October 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such accommodations: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.385 (c).

(h) For housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department, the rents established on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation by such rent schedule. The Administrator may order an increase in such rents, if he finds that such increase is not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.385 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. In those cases involving a major capital improvement, an increase or decrease in the furniture, furnishings or equipment, an increase or decrease of services, or a deterioration, the adjustment in the maximum rent shall be the amount the Administrator finds would have been on October 1, 1941 the difference in the rental value of the housing accommodations by reason of such change. In all other cases, except those under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section, the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on October 1, 1941. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since October 1, 1941. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (6) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations during the year ending on October 1, 1941.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55 a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, prior to October 1, 1941 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the housing accommodations by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent on October 1, 1941 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, funiture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on October 1, 1941.

(5) There was in force on October 1, 1941 a written lease, which had been in force for more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on October 1, 1941; or the housing accommodations were not rented on October 1, 1941, but were rented during the two months ending on that date, and the last rent for such accommodations during that two-month period was fixed by a written lease, which was in force more than one year prior to October 1, 1941, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on October 1, 1941.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation the services provided for housing accommodations are less than those provided on the date determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for housing accommodations under paragraphs (c), (d), (e), or (g) of § 1388.384 is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on October 1, 1941.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the housing accommodations other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the housing accommodations since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant and as a result was substantially higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on October 1, 1941.

(5) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially lower rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(6) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such housing accommodations. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations on October 1, 1941.

(e) Where, at the expiration or other termination of an underlying lease or other rental agreement, housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the landlord may rent the entire premises for use by similar occupancy for a rent not in excess of the aggregate maximum rents of the separate dwelling units, or may rent the separate dwelling units for rents not in excess of the maximum rents applicable to such units.

Where housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons occupying under a rental agreement with the tenant, the tenant may petition the Administrator for leave to exercise any right he would have except for this Maximum Rent Regulation to sell his underlying lease or other rental agreement. The Administrator may grant such petition if he finds that the sale will not result, and that sales of such character would not be likely to result, in the circumvention or evasion of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation. He may require that the sale be made on such terms as he deems necessary to prevent such circumvention or evasion.

(f) Where a petition is filed by a landlord on one of the grounds set out in paragraph (a) of this section, the Administrator may enter an interim order increasing the maximum rent until further order, subject to refund by the landlord to the tenant of any amount received in excess of the maximum rent established by final order upon such petition. The receipt by the landlord of any increased rent authorized by such interim order shall constitute an agreement by the landlord with the tenant to refund to the tenant any amount received in excess of the maximum rent established by final order. The landlord shall make such refund either by repayment in cash or, where the tenant remains in occupancy after the effective date of the final order, by deduction from the next installment of rent, or both.

(g) No adjustment in the maximum rent shall be ordered on the ground that the landlord, since the date or order determining the maximum rent, has, as a part of or in connection with a lease of housing accommodations, granted the tenant an option to buy the accommodations which are the subject of the lease. Where a lease of housing accommodations was in force on the date determining the maximum rent, and the landlord had on that date, as a part of or in connection with such lease, granted the tenant an option to buy the accommodations which are the subject of the lease, the Administrator may, on or after the termination of such lease, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, enter an order fixing the maximum rent on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable housing accommodations not subject to an option to buy on October 1, 1941.

§ 1388.386 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant shall be removed from any housing accommodations, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and regardless of any contract, lease, agreement or obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into which provides for entry of judgment upon the tenant's confession for breach of the covenants thereof or which otherwise provides contrary hereto, unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and conditions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the housing accommodations for the purpose of inspection or of showing the accommodations to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the accommodations is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the housing accommodations for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The tenant's lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated, and at the time of termination the housing accommodations or a predominant part thereof are occupied by one or more subtenants or other persons who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the housing accommodations or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(6) The landlord owned, or acquired an enforceable right to buy or the right to possession of, the housing accommodations prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, and seeks in good faith to recover possession of such accommodations for immediate use and occupancy as a dwelling for himself. If a tenant has been removed or evicted under this paragraph (a) (6) from housing accommodations, the landlord shall file a written report on a form provided therefore before renting the accommodations or any part thereof during a period of six months after such removal or eviction.

(b) (1) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(2) Removal or eviction of a tenant for occupancy by a purchaser who has acquired his rights in the housing accommodations on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, is inconsistent with the purposes of the Act and this Maximum Rent Regulation and would be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof, unless (i) the payment or payments of principal made by the purchaser, excluding any payments made from funds borrowed for the purpose of making such principal payments, aggregate 33⅓% or more of the purchase price, and (ii) a period of three months has elapsed after the issuance of a certificate by the Administrator as hereinafter provided. For the purposes of this paragraph (b) (2), the payments of principal may be made by the purchaser conditionally or in escrow to the end that they shall be returned to the purchaser in the event the Administrator denies a petition for a certificate. If the Administrator finds that the required payments of principal have been made, he shall, on petition of either the vendor or purchaser, issue a certificate authorizing the purchaser to pursue his remedies for removal or eviction of the tenant in accordance with the requirements of the local law at the expiration of three months after the date of issuance of such certificate. In no other case shall the Administrator issue a certificate for occupancy by a purchaser who has acquired his rights in the housing accommodations on or after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, unless he finds that the vendor has or had a substantial necessity requiring the sale and that a reasonable sale or disposition of the accommodations could not be made without removal or eviction of the tenant, or unless he finds that other special hardship would result; under such circumstances the payment by the purchaser of 33⅓% of the purchase price shall not be a condition to the issuance of a certificate, and the certificate shall authorize the vendor or purchaser to pursue his remedies for removal or eviction of the tenant in accordance with the requirements of the local law.

(c) The provisions of this section do not apply to a subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant, where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

(d) (1) Every notice to a tenant to vacate or surrender possession of housing accommodations shall state the ground under this section upon which the landlord relies for removal or eviction of the tenant. A written copy of such notice shall be given to the Area Rent Office within 24 hours after the notice is given to the tenant.

No tenant shall be removed or evicted from housing accommodations, by court process or otherwise, unless, at least ten days prior to the time specified for surrender of possession and to the commencement of any action for removal or eviction, the landlord has given written notices of the proposed removal or eviction to the tenant and to the Area Rent Office, stating the ground under this section upon which such removal or eviction is sought and specifying the time when the tenant is required to surrender possession.

Where the ground for removal or eviction of a tenant is non-payment of rent, every notice under this paragraph (d) (1) shall state the rent for the housing accommodations, the amount of rent due and the rental period or periods for which such rent is due. The provisions of this paragraph (d) (1) shall not apply where a certificate has been issued by the Administrator pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant, including an action based upon non-payment of rent, the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title of the case, the number of the case where that is possible, the court in which it is filled, the name and address of the tenant, and the ground under this section on which removal or eviction is sought.

§ 1388.387 Registration. Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55, or within 30 days after the property is first rented, whichever date is the later, every landlord of housing accommodations rented or offered for rent shall file in triplicate a written statement on the form provided therefor to be known as a registration statement. The statement shall identify each dwelling unit and specify the maximum rent provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation for such dwelling unit and shall contain such other information as the Administrator shall require. The original shall remain on file with the Administrator and he shall cause one copy to be delivered to the tenant and one copy, stamped to indicate that it is a correct copy of the original, to be returned to the landlord. In any subsequent change of tenancy the landlord shall exhibit to the new tenant his stamped copy of the registration statement, and shall obtain the tenant's signature and the date thereof on the back of such statement. Within five days after renting to a new tenant, the landlord shall file a notice on the form provided therefor, on which he shall obtain the tenant's signature, stating that there has been a change in tenancy, that the stamped copy of the registration statement has been exhibited to the new tenant and that the rent for such accommodations is in conformity therewith.

No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

When the maximum rent is changed by order of the Administrator the landlord shall deliver his stamped copy of the registration statement to the Area Rent Office for appropriate action reflecting such change.

The foregoing provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations under § 1388.384 (g). The owner of such housing accommodations shall file a schedule or schedules, setting out the maximum rents for all such accommodations in the Defense-Rental Area and containing such other information as the Administrator shall require. A copy of such schedule or schedules shall be posted by the owner in a place where it will be available for inspection by the tenants of such housing accommodations.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to housing accommodations rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including any civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

§ 1388.388 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of housing accomodations and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the accommodations by the Administrator as he may, from time to time, require.

§ 1388.389 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55 shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of housing accommodations, by way of absolute or conditional sale, sale with purchase money or other form of mortgage, or sale with option to repurchase, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with housing accommodations, or otherwise.

§ 1388.390 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55 are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.392 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 55 may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

PART 1388—DEFENSE-RENTAL AREAS

[Maximum Rent Regulation 56A]

ORLANDO DEFENSE-RENTAL AREA

In the judgment of the Administrator, rents for housing accommodations within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area set out in § 1388.431 (a) of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A, as designated in the designation and rent declaration issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, as amended, have not been reduced and stabilized by State or local regulation, or otherwise, in accordance with the recommendations set forth in the said designation and rent declaration.

It is the judgment of the Administrator that by April 1, 1941, defense activities had not yet resulted in increases in rents for housing accommodations within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Administrator has therefore ascertained and given due consideration to the rents prevailing for housing accommodations within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area on or about October 1, 1941; and it is his judgment that the most recent date which does not reflect increases in rents for such housing accommodations inconsistent with the purposes of the Act is on or about that date. The Administrator has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability in respect of such housing accommodations, including increases or decreases in property taxes and other costs.

In the judgment of the Administrator, the maximum rents established by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A for rooms in hotels and rooming houses within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1388.431 to 1388.444, inclusive, issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871.

§ 1388.431 Scope of regulation. (a) This Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A applies to all rooms in hotels and rooming houses within the Orlando Defense-Rental Area consisting of the County of Orange in the State of Florida (referred to hereinafter in this Maximum Rent Regulation as the "Defense-Rental Area"), as designated in the Designation and Rent Declaration (§§ 1388.1201 to 1388.1205, inclusive) issued by the Administrator on April 28, 1942, as amended, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) This Maximum Rent Regulation does not apply to the following:

(1) Rooms situated on a farm and occupied by a tenant who is engaged for a substantial portion of his time in farming operations thereon;

(2) Rooms occupied by domestic servants, caretakers, managers, or other employees to whom the rooms are provided as part of their compensation and who are employed for the purpose of rendering services in connection with the premises of which the rooms are a part;

(3) Rooms in hospitals, or rooms of charitable or educational institutions used in carrying out their charitable or educational purposes;

(4) Entire structures or premises used as hotels or rooming houses, as distinguished from the rooms within such hotels or rooming houses.

(c) The provisions of any lease or other rental agreement shall remain in force pursuant to the terms thereof, except insofar as those provisions are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(d) An agreement by the tenant to waive the benefit of any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation is void. A tenant shall not be entitled by reason of this Maximum Rent Regulation to refuse to pay or to recover any portion of any rents due or paid for use or occupancy prior to the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation.

(e) Where a building or establishment which does not come within the definitions of a hotel or rooming house contains one or more furnished rooms or other furnished housing accommodations rented on a daily, weekly or monthly basis, the landlord may, with the consent of the Administrator, elect to bring all housing accommodations within such building or establishment under the control of this Maximum Rent Regulation. A landlord who so elects shall file a registration statement under this Maximum Rent Regulation for all such housing accommodations, accompanied by a written request to the Administrator to consent to such election.

If the Administrator finds that the provisions of this Maximum Rent Regulation establishing maximum rents are better adapted to the rental practices for such building or establishment than the provisions of the Maximum Rent Regulation for Housing Accommodations other than Hotels and Rooming Houses, he shall consent to the landlord's election. Upon such consent, all housing accommodations within such building or establishment which are or hereafter may be rented or offered for rent shall become subject to the provisions of this Maximum Rent Regulation, and shall be considered rooms within a rooming house for the purposes of the provisions relating to eviction.

The landlord may at any time, with the consent of the Administrator, revoke his election, and thereby bring under the control of the Maximum Rent Regulation for Housing Accommodations other than Hotels and Rooming Houses all housing accommodations previously brought under this Maximum Rent Regulation by such election. He shall make such revocation by filing a registration statement or statements under the Maximum Rent Regulation for Housing Accommodations other than Hotels and Rooming Houses, including in such registration statement or statements all housing accommodations brought under this Maximum Rent Regulation by such election. Such registration statement or statements shall be accompanied by a written request to the Administrator to consent to such revocation. The Administrator may defer action on such request if he has taken or is about to take action to decrease the maximum rents of any housing accommodations within such building or establishment. If the Administrator finds that the revocation so requested will not result in substantial increases in the maximum rents of housing accommodations affected by such revocation, he shall give such consent. Upon such consent, all housing accommodations affected by such revocation shall become subject to the provisions of the Maximum Rent Regulation for Housing Accommodations other than Hotels and Rooming Houses.

§ 1388.432 Prohibitions. (a) Regardless of any contract, agreement, lease or other obligation heretofore or hereafter entered into, no person shall demand or receive any rent for use or occupancy on and after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A of any room in a hotel or rooming house within the Defense-Rental Area higher than the maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation; and no person shall offer, solicit, attempt, or agree to do any of the foregoing. Lower rents than those provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation may be demanded or received.

(b) No tenant shall be required to change his term of occupancy if that will result in the payment of a higher amount per day than the maximum rent established for his present term of occupancy. Where, on June 15, 1942, or between that date and the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, a room was regularly rented or offered for rent for a weekly or monthly term of occupancy, the landlord shall continue to offer the room for rent for that term of occupancy, unless he offers another term of occupancy for a rent which results in the payment of an amount no higher per day.

§ 1388.433 Minimum services. The maximum rents provided by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A are for rooms including, as a minimum, services of the same type, quantity, and quality as those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent. If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation, the services provided for rooms are less than such minimum services, the landlord shall either restore and maintain the minimum services, or within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition pursuant to § 1388.435 (b) for approval of the decreased services. In all other cases, except as provided in § 1388.435 (b), the landlord shall provide the minimum services unless and until an order is entered pursuant to that section approving a decrease of such services.

§ 1388.434 Maximum rents. This section establishes separate maximum rents for different terms of occupancy (daily, weekly or monthly) and numbers of occupants of a particular room. Maximum rents for rooms in a hotel or rooming house (unless and until changed by the Administrator as provided in § 1388.435) shall be:

(a) For a room rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on October 1, 1941, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during that thirty-day period, or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(b) For a room neither rented nor regularly offered for rent during the thirty days ending on October 1, 1941, the highest rent for each term or number of occupants for which the room was rented during the thirty days commencing when it was first offered for rent after October 1, 1941; or, if the room was not rented or was not rented for a particular term or number of occupants during that period, the rent for each term or number of occupants for which it was regularly offered during such period.

(c) For a room rented for a particular term or number of occupants for which no maximum rent is established under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section the first rent for the room after October 1, 1941 for that term and number of occupants, but not more than the maximum rent for similar rooms for the same term and number of occupants in the same hotel or rooming house.

(d) For a room constructed by the United States or any agency thereof, or by a State of the United States or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the State or any of its political subdivisions, and owned by any of the foregoing, the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on October 1, 1941, as determined by the owner of such rooms: Provided, however, That any corporation formed under the laws of a State shall not be considered an agency of the United States within the meaning of this paragraph. The Administrator may order a decrease in the maximum rent as provided in § 1388.435 (c) (1).

(e) For a room with which meals were provided during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent without separate charge therefor, the rent apportioned by the landlord from the total charge for the room and meals. The landlord's apportionment shall be fair and reasonable and shall be reported in the registration statement for such room. The Administrator at any time on his own initiative or on application of the tenant may by order decrease the maximum rent established by such apportionment if he finds that the apportionment was unfair or unreasonable.

Every landlord who provides meals with accommodations shall make separate charges for the two. No landlord shall require the taking of meals as a condition of renting any room unless the room was rented or offered for rent on that basis on June 15, 1942.

(f) For a room rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department, the rents established on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A by such rent schedule. The Administrator may order an increase in such rents, if he finds that such increase is not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation.

§ 1388.435 Adjustments and other determinations. In the circumstances enumerated in this section, the Administrator may issue an order changing the maximum rents otherwise allowable or the minimum services required. Except in cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section, every adjustment of a maximum rent shall be on the basis of the rent which the Administrator finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on October 1, 1941: Provided, however, That no maximum rent shall be increased because of a major capital improvement or an increase in services, furniture, furnishings or equipment, by more than the amount which the Administrator finds would have been on October 1, 1941, the difference in the rental value of the accommodations by reason of such improvement or increase. In cases involving construction due consideration shall be given to increased costs of construction, if any, since October 1, 1941. In cases under paragraphs (a) (7) and (c) (4) of this section the adjustment shall be on the basis of the rents which the Administrator finds were generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms during the year ending on October 1, 1941.

(a) Any landlord may file a petition for adjustment to increase the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) There has been, since the thirty-day period or the order determining the maximum rent for the room, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance.

(2) There was, on or prior to October 1, 1941 and within the six months ending on that date, a substantial change in the room by a major capital improvement as distinguished from ordinary repair, replacement and maintenance, and the rent during the thirty-day period ending on October 1, 1941 was fixed by a lease which was in force at the time of such change.

(3) There has been a substantial increase in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the thirty-day period or the order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was materially affected by the blood, personal or other special relationship between the landlord and the tenant, or by an allowance or discount to a tenant of a class of persons to whom the landlord regularly offered such an allowance or discount, and as a result was substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on October 1, 1941.

(5) There was in force on October 1, 1941 a written lease, which had been in force more than one year on that date, requiring a rent substantially lower than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on October 1, 1941.

(6) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent was established by a lease or other rental agreement which provided for a substantially higher rent at other periods during the term of such lease or agreement.

(7) The rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially lower than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(b) If, on the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A, the services provided for a room are less than those provided on the date or during the thiry-day period determining the maximum rent, the landlord shall either restore the services to those provided on the date or during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent and maintain such services or, within 30 days after such effective date, file a petition requesting approval of the decreased services. Except as above provided, the landlord shall maintain the minimum services unless and until he has filed a petition to decrease services and an order permitting a decrease has been entered thereon; however, if it is impossible to provide the minimum services, he shall file a petition within five days after the change of services occurs. The order on any petition under this paragraph may require an appropriate adjustment in the maximum rent.

(c) The Administrator at any time, on his own initiative or on application of the tenant, may order a decrease of the maximum rent otherwise allowable, only on the grounds that:

(1) The maximum rent for the room is higher than the rent generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on October 1, 1941.

(2) There has been a substantial deterioration of the room other than ordinary wear and tear since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(3) There has been a substantial decrease in the services, furniture, furnishings or equipment provided with the room since the date or order determining its maximum rent.

(4) The rent on the date determining the maximum rent for the room was substantially higher than at other times of year by reason of seasonal demand for such room. In such cases the Administrator's order may if he deems it advisable provide for different maximum rents for different periods of the calendar year.

(d) If the rent on the date determining the maximum rent, or any other fact necessary to the determination of the maximum rent, is in dispute between the landlord and the tenant, or is in doubt, or is not known, the Administrator on petition of the landlord filed within 30 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation or at any time on his own initiative, may enter an order fixing the maximum rent by determining such fact; or if the Administrator is unable to ascertain such fact he shall enter the order on the basis of the rent which he finds was generally prevailing in the Defense-Rental Area for comparable rooms on October 1, 1941.

§ 1388.436 Restrictions on removal of tenant. (a) So long as the tenant continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled, no tenant of a room within a hotel or rooming house shall be removed from such room, by action to evict or to recover possession, by exclusion from possession, or otherwise, nor shall any person attempt such removal or exclusion from possession, notwithstanding that such tenant has no lease or that his lease or other rental agreement has expired or otherwise terminated unless:

(1) The tenant, who had a written lease or other written rental agreement, has refused upon demand of the landlord to execute a written extension or renewal thereof for a further term of like duration but not in excess of one year but otherwise on the same terms and conditions as the previous lease or agreement except insofar as such terms and condition are inconsistent with this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A; or

(2) The tenant has unreasonably refused the landlord access to the room for the purpose of inspection or of showing the room to a prospective purchaser, mortgagee or prospective mortgagee, or other person having a legitimate interest therein: Provided, however, That such refusal shall not be ground for removal or eviction if such inspection or showing of the room is contrary to the provisions of the tenant's lease or other rental agreement; or

(3) The tenant (i) has violated a substantial obligation of his tenancy, other than an obligation to pay rent, and has continued, or failed to cure, such violation after written notice by the landlord that the violation cease, or (ii) is committing or permitting a nuisance or is using or permitting a use of the room for an immoral or illegal purpose; or

(4) The landlord seeks in good faith to recover possession for the immediate purpose of demolishing the room or of substantially altering or remodeling it in a manner which cannot practicably be done with the tenant in occupancy and the plans for such alteration or remodeling have been approved by the proper authorities, if such approval is required by local law; or

(5) The landlord seeks in good faith not to offer the room for rent. If a tenant has been removed or evicted from a room under this paragraph (a) (5), the landlord shall file a written report on a form provided therefor before renting the room during a period of six months after such removal or eviction.

(b) No tenant shall be removed or evicted on grounds other than those stated above unless, on petition of the landlord, the Administrator certifies that the landlord may pursue his remedies in accordance with the requirements of the local law. The Administrator shall so certify if the landlord establishes that removals or evictions of the character proposed are not inconsistent with the purposes of the Act or this Maximum Rent Regulation and would not be likely to result in the circumvention or evasion thereof.

(c) At the time of commencing any action to remove or evict a tenant (except an action based on non-payment of a rent not in excess of the maximum rent) the landlord shall give written notice thereof to the Area Rent Office stating the title and number of the case, the court in which it is filed, the name and address of the tenant and the grounds on which eviction is sought.

(d) The provisions of this section do not apply to:

(1) A subtenant or other person who occupied under a rental agreement with the tenant where removal or eviction of the subtenant or other such occupant is sought by the landlord of the tenant, unless under the local law there is a tenancy relationship between the landlord and the subtenant or other such occupant; or

(2) A tenant occupying a room within a hotel on a daily or weekly basis; or a tenant occupying on a daily basis a room within a rooming house which has heretofore usually been rented on a daily basis.

(3) Rooms rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Departments.

No provision of this section shall be construed to authorize the removal of a tenant unless such removal is authorized under the local law.

§ 1388.437 Registration and records. (a) Within 45 days after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A every landlord of a room rented or offered for rent shall file a written statement on the form provided therefor, containing such information as the Administrator shall require, to be known as a registration statement. Any maximum rent established after the effective date of this Maximum Rent Regulation under paragraphs (b) or (c) of § 1388.434 shall be reported either on the first registration statement or on a statement filed within 5 days after such rent is established.

(b) Every landlord shall conspicuously display in each room rented or offered for rent a card or sign plainly stating the maximum rent or rents for all terms of occupancy and for all numbers of occupants for which the room is rented or offered for rent. Where the taking of meals by the tenant or prospective tenant is a condition of renting such room, the card or sign shall so state. Should the maximum rent or rents for the room be changed by order of the Administrator, the landlord shall alter the card or sign so that it states the changed rent or rents.

The foregoing provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to rooms under § 1388.434 (d). The owner of such rooms shall post a copy of the registration statement in a place where it will be available for inspection by the tenants of such rooms.

(c) No payment of rent need be made unless the landlord tenders a receipt for the amount to be paid.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not apply to rooms rented to either Army or Navy personnel, including civilian employees of the War and Navy Departments, for which the rent is fixed by the national rent schedule of the War or Navy Department.

(e) Every landlord of a room rented or offered for rent shall preserve, and make available for examination by the Administrator, all his existing records showing or relating to (1) the rent for each term and number of occupants for which such room was rented or regularly offered for rent during the thirty-day period determining the maximum rent for such room and (2) the rent on any date determining a maximum rent for such room for a particular term and number of occupants under § 1388.434 (c).

Every landlord of an establishment containing more than 20 rooms rented or offered for rent shall keep, preserve, and make available for examination by the Administrator, records showing the rents received for each room, the particular term and number of occupants for which such rents were charged, and the name and permanent address of each occupant; every other landlord shall keep, preserve, and make available for examination by the Administrator, records of the same kind as he has customarily kept relating to the rents received for rooms.

§ 1388.438 Inspection. Any person who rents or offers for rent or acts as a broker or agent for the rental of a room and any tenant shall permit such inspection of the room by the Administrator as he may, from time to time require.

§ 1388.439 Evasion. The maximum rents and other requirements provided in this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A shall not be evaded, either directly or indirectly, in connection with the renting or leasing or the transfer of a lease of a room, by requiring the tenant to pay or obligate himself for membership or other fees, or by modification of the practices relating to payment of commissions or other charges, or by modification of the services furnished with the room or otherwise.

§ 1388.440 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A are subject to criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for treble damages as provided for by the Act.

§ 1388.441 Procedure. All registration statements, reports and notices provided for by this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A shall be filed with the Area Rent Office. All landlords' petitions and tenants' applications shall be filed with such office in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

§ 1388.442 Petitions for amendment. Persons seeking any amendment of general applicability to any provision of this Maximum Rent Regulation No. 56A may file petitions therefor in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 3 (§§ 1300.201 to 1300.247, inclusive).

(b) Tyer Rubber Company, in computing the maximum prices for sales to different classes of purchasers, shall adjust the amount established as the maximum price for one general class of purchasers to reflect all allowances, discounts, and other price differentials which it had in effect during March, 1942, for the commodity used as a basis for determining the maximum price of the ¼-ounce neoprene prophylaxis bulb.

(c) Within ten days after a maximum price has been determined in accordance with this order, Tyer Rubber Company shall report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the maximum price as computed by it. The report shall set forth a detailed explanation of the computation of direct costs and the maximum price. It shall also contain a description of the commodity which determines the bases and rates used in the calculation of the gross margin of the ¼-ounce neoprene prophylaxis bulb and the maximum price, direct costs, and an explanation of the reasons for the selection of that commodity.

(d) Any selling price determined under this order shall be subject to adjustment at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) This Order No. 109 may be revoked or amended by the Office of Price Administration at any time.

§ 4001.2 Authority of National War Labor Board. The Board shall, subject to the provisions of sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, and 9 of Title II of Executive Order No. 9250, of October 3, 1942, have authority to determine whether any

(b) Salary payments to an employee totaling in amount not in excess of $5,000 per annum where such employee

(1) In his relations with his employer is represented by a duly recognized or certified labor organization, or

(2) Is not employed in a bona fide executive, administrative or professional capacity

are made in contravention of the Act, or any rulings, orders or regulations promulgated thereunder. Any such determination by the Board, made under rulings and orders issued by it, that a payment is in contravention of the Act, or any rulings, orders, or regulations promulgated thereunder, shall be conclusive upon all Executive Departments and agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. Any determination of the Board made pursuant to the authority conferred on it shall be final and shall not be subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings.

§ 4001.3 Rules, orders and regulations of Board. The Board may make such rulings and issue such orders or regulations as it deems necessary to enforce and otherwise carry out the provisions of the regulations in this part.

§ 4001.4 Authority of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. The Commissioner shall have authority to determine, under regulations to be prescribed by him with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, whether any salary payments other than those specified in § 4001.2 (b) are made in contravention of the Act, or any regulations or rulings promulgated thereunder. Any such determination by the Commissioner, made under such regulations, that a payment is in contravention of the Act, or any rulings or regulations promulgated thereunder, shall be conclusive upon all Executive Departments and agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulations, either heretofore or hereafter enacted or promulgated, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses under any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. Any determination of the Commissioner made pursuant to the authority conferred on him shall be final and shall not be subject to review by The Tax Court of the United States or by any court in any civil proceedings. No increase in a salary rate approved by the Commissioner shall result in any substantial increase of the level of costs or shall furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

§ 4001.5 Rules and regulations of Commissioner. The Commissioner may prescribe such regulations with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury, and make such rulings as he deems necessary, to enforce and otherwise carry out the provisions of these regulations.

§ 4001.6 Salary increases. In the case of a salary rate of $5,000 or less per annum existing on the date of the approval of these regulations by the President and in the case of a salary rate of more than $5,000 per annum existing on October 3, 1942, no increase shall be made by the employer except as provided in regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated under the authority of the regulations in this part. Except as herein provided, any increase made after such respective dates shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated thereunder from the date of the payment if such increase is made prior to the approval of the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be.

In the case, however, of an increase made in accordance with the terms of a salary agreement or salary rate schedule and as a result of:

(a) Individual promotions or reclassifications,

(b) Individual merit increases within established salary rate ranges,

(c) Operation of an established plan of salary increases based on length of service,

(d) Increased productivity under incentive plans,

(e) Operation of a trainee system, or

(f) Such other reasons or circumstances as may be prescribed in orders, rulings, or regulations, promulgated under the authority of the regulations in this part, no prior approval of the Board or the Commissioner is required. No such increase shall result in any substantial increase of the level of costs or shall furnish the basis either to increase price ceilings of the commodity or service involved or to resist otherwise justifiable reductions in such price ceilings.

§ 4001.7 Decreases in salaries of less than $5,000. In the case of a salary rate existing as of the close of October 3, 1942, under which an employee is paid a salary of less than $5,000 per annum for any particular work, no decrease shall be made by the employer below the highest salary rate paid for such work between January 1, 1942, and September 15, 1942, unless to correct gross inequities or to aid in the effective prosecution of the war. Any decrease in such salary rate after October 3, 1942, shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations, rulings, or orders promulgated thereunder if such decrease is made prior to the approval of the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be.

§ 4001.8 Decreases in salaries of over $5,000. In the case of a salary rate existing as of the close of October 3, 1942, under which an employee is paid a salary of $5,000 or more per annum, no decrease in such rate made by the employer shall be considered in contravention of the Act and the regulations promulgated thereunder (see section 5 (b) of the Act): Provided, however, That if by virtue of such decrease the new salary paid to the employee is less than $5,000 per annum, then the validity of such decrease below $5,000 shall be determined under the provisions of § 4001.7.

§ 4001.9 Limitation on certain salaries. (a) No amount of salary (exclusive of any amounts allowable under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section) shall be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year which, after reduction by the Federal income taxes on the amount of such salary, would exceed $25,000. The amount of such Federal income taxes shall be determined (1) by applying to the total amount of salary (exclusive of any amounts allowable under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section) paid or accrued during the taxable year, undiminished by any deductions, the rates of taxes imposed by Chapter 1 of the Code (not including section 466) as if such amount of salary were the net income (after the allowance of credits applicable thereto), the surtax net income, and the Victory tax net income, respectively, and (2) without allowance of any credits against any of such taxes.

(b) In any case in which an employee establishes that his income from all sources is insufficient to meet payments customarily made to charitable, educational or other organizations described in section 23 (o) of the Code, without resulting in undue hardship, then an additional amount sufficient to meet such payments may be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year even though it exceeds the amount otherwise computed under paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) In any case in which an employee establishes that, after resorting to his income from all sources, he is unable, without disposing of assets at a substantial financial loss resulting in undue hardship, to meet payments for the following:

(1) Required payments (excluding accelerated payments) by the employee during the taxable year on any life insurance policies on his life which were in force on October 3, 1942,

(2) Required payments (excluding accelerated payments) made by the employee during the taxable year on any fixed obligations for which he was obligated on October 3, 1942,

(3) Federal income taxes of the employee for prior taxable years which are paid during the taxable year, not including Federal income taxes on the allowance under paragraph (a) of this section for any prior year, an additional amount sufficient to meet such payments may be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him during the taxable year, even though it exceeds the amount otherwise computed under paragraph (a) of this section.

(d) In the case of an individual who is an employee of more than one person, the aggregate of the salaries received by such individual shall, under such circumstances as may be set forth in regulations promulgated under the authority of these regulations, be treated as if paid by a single employer.

(e) No amount of salary shall be paid or authorized to be paid to or accrued to the account of any employee or received by him after the date of approval of these regulations by the President and before January 1, 1943, if the total salary paid, authorized, accrued or received for the calendar year 1942 exceeds the amount of salary which would otherwise be allowable under paragraph (a) of this section and also exceeds the total salary paid, authorized, accrued or received for the calendar year 1941.

(f) Except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section, the provisions of this section shall be applicable to salary paid or accrued after December 31, 1942, regardless of when authorized and regardless of any contract or agreement made before or after such date.

§ 4001.10 Effect of unlawful payments. (a) If any wage or salary payment is made in contravention of the Act or the regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, as determined by the Board or the Commissioner, as the case may be, the entire amount of such payment shall be disregarded by the Executive Departments and all other agencies of the Government in determining the costs or expenses of any employer for the purpose of any law or regulation, including the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, or any maximum price regulation thereof, or for the purpose of calculating deductions under the revenue laws of the United States, or for the purpose of determining costs or expenses of any contract made by or on behalf of the United States. The term "law or regulations" as used herein includes any law or regulation hereafter enacted or promulgated. In the case of wages or salaries decreased in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the amount of the wage or salary paid or accrued. In the case of wages or salaries increased in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the amount of the wage or salary paid or accrued and not merely an amount representing an increase in such wage or salary. In the case of a salary in excess of the amount allowable under § 4001.9 which is paid or accrued to an employee during his taxable year in contravention of the Act or regulations, rulings or orders promulgated thereunder, the amount to be disregarded is the full amount of such salary and not merely the amount representing the excess over the amount allowable under such § 4001.9.

(b) Payments made or received in violation of any regulations, rulings or orders promulgated under the authority of the Act are subject to the penal provisions of the Act.

§ 4001.11 Exempt employers. The provisions of §§ 4001.6, 4001.7 and 4001.8 shall apply only in the case of an employer who employs more than eight individuals.

§ 4001.12 Salary allowances under Internal Revenue Code. No provision of the regulations in this part shall preclude the Commissioner from disallowing as a deduction in computing Federal income tax any compensation paid by an employer (regardless of the number of employees and of the amount paid to any employee) in excess of a "reasonable allowance" in accordance with the provisions of section 23 (a) of the Code.

§ 4001.13 Statutory salaries and wages. The regulations in this part shall be applicable to any salary or wages paid by the United States, any State, Territory or possession, or political subdivision thereof, the District of Columbia, or any agency or instrumentality of any one or more of the foregoing, except where the amount of such salary or wages is fixed by statute.

§ 4001.14 Territories and possessions. The Board and the Commissioner shall have the authority to exempt from the operation of the regulations in this part any wages or salaries paid in any Territory or possession of the United States where deemed necessary for the effective administration of the Act and the regulations in this part.

§ 4001.15 Regulations of Economic Stabilization Director. The Director shall have authority to issue such regulations as he deems necessary to amend or modify the regulations in this part.

§ 4001.16 Effect of Executive Order No. 9250. To the extent that the provisions of Executive Order No. 9250, dated October 3, 1942 (7 F.R. 7871) are inconsistent with the regulations in this part, such provisions are hereby superseded.

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

COAL SHIPMENTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of October, A. D. 1942.

It appearing, That, due to the existing state of war, an emergency exists, which in the opinion of the Commission requires immediate action to prevent delay to railroad equipment and to expedite the movement and prompt handling of cars used in the transportation of coal consigned to various ports on Lake Michigan, Lake Ontario, and Lake Erie, and to the ports of New York, N. Y., Philadelphia, Pa., Baltimore, Md., and Hampton Roads, Va., for transshipment by vessels:

It is ordered, That:

§ 95.3 Coal shipments consigned to lake ports for transshipment—(a) Restriction on movement of cars. No common carrier by railroad shall move a car loaded with coal consigned to Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, or Lake Michigan ports for transshipment by vessels, except that such carriers may move the cars loaded with coal to said ports upon permit issued by a person to be designated by this Commission as its Agent to exercise its directions as to car service.

(b) Designation of agent at lake ports; outline of duties. W. J. McGarry, Manager of the Ore & Coal Exchange at Cleveland, Ohio, is hereby designated and appointed as Agent of the Commission and vested with authority to control the movement of railroad cars used in the transportation of coal for transshipment by vessels at Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, and Lake Michigan ports. As Agent, he is hereby authorized to issue permits for the movement of coal to the Lake Erie, Lake Ontario, and Lake Michigan ports for transshipment by vessels in such manner as to prevent the accumulation of cars of coal at the lake ports by any transshipper in excess of the ability of such transshipper to provide vessel capacity for the prompt dumping of the coal. In issuing such permits the Commission's Agent shall also give consideration to promotion of the prompt dumping of coal from cars to vessels and reduction in the detention of railroad cars held under load at the lake ports. As Agent, he is also authorized and directed to promote the voluntary consolidation, for transshipment, of various grades and consignment designations of coal. As Agent, he is not authorized to issue any permit which would conflict with the terms of General Order O. D. T. No. 9 (§§ 502.5 to 502.8 of this title) or any permit issued under the terms of that order. Permits may be in blanket form or otherwise, authorizing the shipment of a number of cars or tons of coal. Permits may be revoked by said Agent to carry out the purposes as set forth in this order.

C. C. No. A–751, or in Trunk Line Tariff Bureau Tariff No. 138–B I. C. C. No. A–750, or supplements thereto. As Agent, he is hereby authorized to represent the Commission in the regulation of the shipment of coal to piers in such manner as to prevent the accumulation of cars of coal at such piers and storage yards by any transshipper in excess of the ability of such transshipper to provide vessel capacity for the prompt dumping of the coal. As Agent, he is authorized and directed to determine and advise the Commission in the establishment of the maximum number of cars which any transshipper may have on hand at any pier or storage yard or in transit from point of origin to said piers and storage yards. In arriving at said maximum number of cars said Agent shall give consideration to past performance in dumping, as well as any other circumstances which will affect the ability of the transshipper to unload from cars to vessels. As Agent, he is also authorized and directed to promote voluntary consolidation, for transshipment, or various grades and consignment designations of coal and to promote the reduction of the number of grades and consignment designations of coal to a minimum. As Agent, he is also authorized and directed to take the necessary action to bring about embargoes of transshippers, piers, or ports, to properly control the movement of cars used in the transportation of coal.

§ 95.32 Designation of agent at Hampton Roads, Va., ports; outline of duties. E. D. Enney, Bureau Manager Hampton Roads Coal Emergency Committee, 616 Royster Bldg., Norfolk, Va., is hereby designated and appointed as Agent of the Commission and vested with authority to control the movement of railroad cars used in the transportation of coal for transshipment by vessels at Hampton Roads, Va., ports and storage yards named in Trunk Line Tariff Bureau Tariff 139–C I. As Agent, he is hereby authorized to represent the Commission in the regulation of the shipment of coal to piers in such manner as to prevent the accumulation of cars of coal at such piers and storage yards by any transshipper in excess of the ability of such transshipper to provide vessel capacity for the prompt dumping of the coal. As Agent, he is directed to determine and advise the Commission in the establishment of the maximum number of cars which any transshipper may have on hand at any pier or storage yard or in transit from point of origin to said piers and storage yards. In arriving at said maximum number of cars said agent shall give consideration to past performance in dumping, as well as any other circumstances which will affect the ability of the transshipment to unload from cars to vessels. As Agent, he is also authorized and directed to promote voluntary consolidation, for transshipment, of various grades and consignment designations of coal, and to promote the reduction of the number of grades and consignment designations of coal to a minimum. As Agent, he is also authorized and directed to take the necessary action to bring about embargoes of transshippers, piers, or ports, to properly control the movement of cars used in the transportation of coal.

And it is further ordered, That this order shall become effective November 1, 1942, and shall remain in force until further order of the Commission; and that copies of this order and direction be served upon all railroads, transporting coal to the above-mentioned ports, for transshipment by vessels and car floats, and upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the carriers subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy of it in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VII—Agricultural Adjustment Agency

[ACP–1941–19]

PART 701—AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

SUBPART C—1941

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, the 1941 Agricultural Conservation Program, as amended,[1] is further amended as follows:

1. Section 701.201 (c) (8) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Peanuts. * * *

(8) Deduction. $30.00 per ton of the normal yield for the farm for each acre of peanuts for market in excess of its peanut acreage allotment less the acreage, if any, by which the farm cotton acreage allotment (or an erroneously issued cotton allotment when such allotment is used for determining performance in accordance with § 701.210, paragraph (g)) exceeds the acreage planted to cotton on the farm, but not to exceed the maximum peanut payment computed for the farm unless the county committee determines that the producer failed to show the disposition of any peanuts grown on the farm, or failed to pay the penalty due upon any excess peanuts under the marketing quota program: Provided, That nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed as reducing the acreage of excess peanuts upon which deduction is computed even though the amount of the deduction is reduced to the maximum computed peanut payment: Provided further, That no deduction will be made if the acreage of peanuts for market on the farm is one acre or less.

2. Section 701.201 (g) (6) (ii) is amended to read as follows:

(g) Commercial vegetables. * * *

(6) Deduction. * * * (ii) (Farms in the commercial vegetable counties in non-vegetable allotment areas having a special crop acreage allotment other than a wheat allotment on a non-wheat allotment farm) $20.00 per acre of land devoted to commercial vegetables in excess of the larger of the usual acreage of commercial vegetables determined for the farm or three acres.

3. Section 701.201 (k) (6) is amended to read as follows:

(k) Miscellaneous. * * *

(6) Minimum acreage of erosion-resisting crops. In New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania, except counties in the commercial corn area, and in other counties, groups of counties, or States, upon recommendation of the State committee and approval of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, a deduction of $5.00 shall be made for each acre by which the acreage of erosion-resisting crops and land uses on the farm is less than the required acreage of such crops and land uses. Such deduction shall be made in the case of farms for which a special soil-depleting acreage allotment (other than a commercial vegetable allotment or a wheat allotment on a non-wheat allotment farm) is determined. The required acreage of erosion-resisting crops and land uses shall be a percentage of the cropland on the farm equal to the percentage obtained by dividing the acreage of cropland in the county, group of counties, or State which is in excess of the total soil-depleting allotment under the 1940 program for such area by the total acreage of cropland on all farms in the area or, where such percentage is not available, a comparable percentage determined by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, but in no case will the required acreage of erosion-resisting crops and land uses be less than 15 percent nor more than 30 percent of the cropland on the farm: Provided, That the provisions

SUBPART D—1942

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended, the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program, as amended,[1] is further amended as follows:

1. Section 701.301 (c) is amended by deleting item (6) thereof.

2. Sec. 701.301 (g) (5), (6) and (8) are amended to read as follows:

§ 701.301 Allotments, yields, grazing capacities, payments and deductions. * * *

(g) Wheat. * * *

(5) "Non-wheat-allotment farm" means any farm (i) for which no wheat allotment is determined; (ii) for which a wheat allotment of 15 acres or less is determined and the acreage planted to wheat exceeds the allotment by 10 percent or more; (iii) in the East Central Region and in the Southern Region except Texas and Oklahoma, from which no wheat is sold from the farm and the acreage of wheat normally harvested for grain or for any other purpose after reaching maturity is not in excess of 3 acres per family living on the farm and having an interest in the wheat crop grown thereon and the county committee approves, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, the classification of the farm for the purposes of the 1942 program as a non-wheat-allotment farm; or (iv) any farm for which a wheat allotment of more than 15 acres is determined and on which wheat is normally planted for green manure, hay, or pasture, or will be planted for such use in 1942, and the county committee approves, in accordance with instructions issued by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency, the classification of such farm for the purposes of the 1942 program as a non-wheat-allotment farm.

(6) "Acreage planted to wheat" means (i) any acreage of land devoted to seeded wheat (except when such crop is seeded in a mixture designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency upon recommendation of the State Committee as a mixture which may reasonably be expected to produce a crop containing such proportions of plants other than wheat that the crop cannot be harvested as wheat for grain or seed); (ii) any acreage of volunteer wheat which reaches maturity provided that, on any farm on which the acreage seeded to wheat does not exceed the farm wheat acreage allotment, the acreage of volunteer wheat will not be regarded as acreage planted to wheat for any producer if (a) he places in farm storage and agrees to hold in storage until it may be marketed free of marketing quota penalty an amount of wheat equal to the smaller of his share of the wheat produced on the farm in excess of his share of the normal production of the acreage allotment, or his share of the normal production of the number of acres by which the sum of the acreage of seeded wheat and the acreage of volunteer wheat which reaches maturity exceeds the wheat acreage allotment; (b) he does not seed in excess of the 1943 wheat acreage allotment on the farm; and (c) his aggregate share of the wheat seeded for 1943 on all farms in the county in which he has an interest in the wheat crop does not exceed his aggregate share of the farm wheat acreage allotments or permitted acreages; provided that for any person who does not comply with the above provisions, the acreage of volunteer wheat which reaches maturity shall be regarded as acreage planted to wheat only for the purpose of determining the acreage on which a deduction should be computed; (iii) any acreage which is seeded to a mixture containing wheat designated under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph on which the crops other than wheat fail to reach maturity and the wheat reaches maturity: Provided, That all or any part of any acreage determined by the county committee to have been totally destroyed by any cause beyond the control of the operator may be considered as not having been planted to wheat if it cannot be reseeded and, with prior approval of the county committee, is later replaced by other acreage of seeded or volunteer wheat.

* * * * *

(8) Deduction—(i) Wheat-allotment farms. Ten times the payment rate for each acre planted to wheat in excess of the wheat allotment except that for any person who does not comply with the volunteer wheat provisions of § 701.301 (d) (6) (ii) above, the deduction shall be (a) ten times the payment rate for each acre by which the sum of the acreage seeded to wheat and the acreage of volunteer wheat which reaches maturity is in excess of the allotment times his percentage share (applicable if the wheat allotment exceeds 15 acres or if the sum of the acreage seeded to wheat and the acreage of volunteer wheat which reaches maturity is less than 110% of the wheat allotment) or (b) the sum of the wheat payment for the farm and 10 times the payment rate for each acre of wheat harvested in excess of 15 acres times his percentage share (applicable if wheat allotment is 15 acres or less and sum of acreage seeded to wheat and acreage of volunteer wheat which reaches maturity equals or exceeds 110% of wheat allotment): Provided, however, That on any farm in the Southern region except Oklahoma and Texas, which comprised more than one farm under the 1941 Agricultural Conservation Program, but which was determined by the county committee after the wheat was seeded for harvest in 1942 to comprise only one farm, the deduction for excess wheat acreage for the combined farm shall not exceed the larger of (1) the deduction which would have been computed had there been no combination for 1942 and (2) the wheat payment for the combined farm.

3. Section 701.302 (f) is amended by striking out the words "during a period of not more than 12 months" as they appear in first sentence thereof.

4. Section 701.303 (a) (4) is amended to read as follows:

§ 701.303 Division of payments and deductions—(a) Payments and deductions in connection with crop acreage allotments and restoration land. * * *

(4) Notwithstanding any other provisions herein, any deduction computed for failure to comply with the volunteer wheat provisions of § 701.301 (g) (6) shall be considered as a personal deduction for the person who failed to comply.

5. Section 701.309 (e), the last paragraph, is amended to read as follows:

§ 701.309 General provisions relating to payments. * * *

(e) Excess cotton acreage. * * *

Any person who knowingly plants cotton, or causes cotton to be planted, on his farm in 1942 on acreage in excess of the cotton allotment under section 344 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938 for the farm for 1942 shall not be eligible for any payment whatsoever, on that farm or any other farm, under the provisions of the 1942 program. No person shall be deemed to have knowingly overplanted cotton on his farm if the acreage planted to cotton on the farm in 1942 does not exceed such farm cotton allotment by more than the larger of three acres or three percent of such farm cotton allotment. Any person having an interest in the cotton crop on a farm on which the acreage planted to cotton in 1942 exceeds such farm cotton allotment by more than the amount specified in the last preceding sentence shall be presumed to have knowingly planted cotton on his farm on acreage in excess of such farm cotton allotment if notice of the farm allotment is mailed to him prior to the completion of the planting of cotton on the farm, unless the farmer establishes the fact that the excess acreage was planted to cotton due to his lack of knowledge of the number of acres in the tract(s) planted to cotton. Such notice, if mailed to the operator of the farm, shall be deemed to be notice to all persons sharing in the production of cotton on the farm in 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 28th day of October, 1942. Witness my hand and the seal of the Department of Agriculture.

SUBPART D-1942

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the item entitled "Parity Payments" contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1942 (Pub. Law 144, 77th Cong., approved July 1, 1942; 55 Stat. 446), and pursuant to the provisions of sections 301 and 303 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (Pub. Law 430, 75th Cong.; 52 Stat. 38, 45, 7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 1301, 1303), the 1942 Parity Payment Regulations, as amended,[1] are hereby amended as follows:

1. Section 741.301 is amended to read as follows:

§ 741.301 Eligibility for payment. An application for parity payment with respect to a commodity may be made by any person for whom under the provisions of § 741.303, a share of the payment with respect to a commodity may be computed. Applications for payment with respect to a farm may be made for one or more of the commodities listed in § 741.302 hereof prior to determination of performance of all such commodities, in which case the applicant shall agree that, after determination of performance of all such commodities, he will refund all or any part of the payment received by him in excess of that to which he is entitled.

2. Section 741.303 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

Notwithstanding any other provision herein, any deduction computed under these regulations for failure to comply with the volunteer wheat provisions of § 701.301 (g) (6) of the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program Bulletin shall be considered as a personal deduction for the person who fails to comply.

3. Section 741.306 is amended by adding the following subparagraph (e) at the end thereof:

§ 741.306 General provisions relating to payments. * * *

(e) Payments will be made only with respect to farms which are being operated during the 1942 program year: Provided, however, That in areas designated by the Agricultural Adjustment Agency as areas in which substantial numbers of farms are determined to be farms on which the farming operations were so far short of full operation that, under such instructions as may have been issued prior to September 1, 1942, they would have been regarded as not operated and, that the shortage of operation was brought about by causes beyond the control of the operators of such farms, payments with respect to such farms may be computed and made for each crop for which parity payments are authorized for 1942 on the basis of the smaller of (1) the acreage allotment for the commodity and (2) 125 percent of the planted acreage of the commodity.

4. Section 741.308 (b) is amended to read as follows:

§ 741.308 Application for payment. * * *

Upon request by the State committee, any person shall file with the State committee such information as it may request regarding any other farm in the State with respect to which he has the right to receive all or a portion of the crops or proceeds thereof or which he rents to another.

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter III—Bituminous Coal Division

[Dockets Nos. A–1631 and A–1633]

PART 322—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 2

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order of consolidation and order granting temporary relief and conditionally providing for final relief in the matter of the petitions of District Board No. 2 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2.

Original petitions, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, having been duly filed with this Division by the above-named party, requesting the establishment, both temporary and permanent, of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of certain mines in District No. 2; and

It appearing that the above-entitled matters raise similar and related issues; and

It further appearing that a reasonable showing of necessity has been made for the granting of temporary relief in the manner hereinafter set forth; and

No petitions of intervention having been filed with the Division in the above-entitled matter; and

The following action being deemed necessary in order to effectuate the purposes of the Act;

It is ordered, That pending final disposition of the above-entitled matter, temporary relief is granted as follows: Commencing forthwith, § 322.7 (Alphabetical list of code members) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–I and R–III, § 322.9 (Special prices—(c) Railroad fuel) is amended by adding thereto Supplement R–II and R–IV, and § 322.23 (General prices) is amended by adding thereto Supplement T, which supplements are hereinafter set forth and hereby made a part hereof; and commencing forthwith the shipping points appearing in the aforesaid Supplement R–III for Mine Index Nos. 4, 70, 71, and 332 are effective in place of the shipping points heretofore assigned to these mines.

It is further ordered, That pleadings in opposition to the original petition in the above-entitled matter and applications to stay, terminate or modify the temporary relief herein granted may be filed with the Division within forty-five (45) days from the date of this Order, pursuant to the Rules and Regulations Governing Practice and Procedure Before the Bituminous Coal Division in Proceedings Instituted Pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937.

It is further ordered, That the relief herein granted shall become final sixty (60) days from the date of this Order, unless it shall otherwise be ordered.

The price classifications and minimum prices set forth in the Schedules attached are based upon the price classifications and minimum prices in effect on October 1, 1942, for comparable and analogous coals and already reflect the changes, if any, made in minimum prices by the Acting Director's Order of August 28, 1942, 7 F.R. 6943, in General Docket No. 21. Except as otherwise stated herein, the minimum prices in the attached Schedules do not differ, except in this regard, from the minimum prices proposed by petitioner.

No relief is granted herein with respect to the request of District Board No. 2 for the establishment of price classifications and minimum prices for the coals of R. H. Jamison, Jr. (Delmont Fuel Co.) produced at the Delmont No. 2 and Delmont No. 3 Mines. It appears that these coals are of comparable quality and analogous to the coals of the Delmont No. 1 Mine (Mine Index No. 2184) of this producer and loaded over the same tipple. Accordingly, it is unnecessary to classify or price them, and they may be regarded as part of, and sold at the same price classifications and minimum prices as the coals of the Delmont No. 1 Mine.

Dated: October 13, 1942.

Director.

PART 324—MINIMUM PRICE SCHEDULE, DISTRICT NO. 4

ORDER GRANTING RELIEF, ETC.

Order of the Director granting relief in the matter of the petition of District Board No. 4 for the establishment of an additional price instruction to be added to the schedule of effective minimum prices for District No. 4 for all shipments except truck, which would permit coals passing through a preparation plant, not constituting a part of the facilities of the mine in which said coals were produced, to take the same prices for the various kinds, qualities and sizes of coal as if said preparation plant were located at the mine where said coal was actually produced.

This proceeding having been instituted upon a petition filed with the Bituminous Coal Division, pursuant to section 4 II (d) of the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, by District Board No. 4 requesting the establishment of a special price instruction in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 For All Shipments Except Truck;

Pursuant to an appropriate order and after due notice, a hearing in this matter having been held October 5, 1942, before Floyd McGown, a duly designated Examiner of the Division at a hearing room thereof in Washington, D. C., at which interested persons were afforded an opportunity to be present, adduce evidence, cross-examine witnesses and otherwise be heard;

District Boards Nos. 2, 6, and 8 having filed petitions of intervention in this proceeding;

The preparation and filing of a report by Examiner having been waived by all parties hereto and the record thereupon having been submitted to the undersigned; and

The undersigned having made Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law herein and having rendered an Opinion in this matter, all of which are filed herewith.

Now, therefore, it is ordered, That commencing forthwith, § 324.1 (Price instructions and exceptions—(a) Price instructions) in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices for District No. 4 For All Shipments Except Truck be and it hereby is amended by the addition of the following price instruction:

> The minimum prices f. o. b. the mine of origin for all coals produced at strip mines which are shipped by rail to and washed at a preparation plant not constituting a part of the facilities of the mine at which such coals are produced shall be the same as the minimum prices effective for the corresponding size groups produced at the mine where the preparation plant is located and washed. Nothing herein shall be deemed, however, to supersede the provisions of Price Exemption 3

It is further ordered, That the petitions of the various parties hereto be and they are hereby granted to the extent set forth above, and in all other respects are denied.

Dated: October 26, 1942.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

[Suspension Order S-122]

NEW WORLD LIFE INSURANCE CO.—HENRY BRODERICK, INC.

New World Life Insurance Company is a Washington corporation engaged in the life insurance business, with its principal office in Seattle, Washington. Henry Broderick, Inc. is a Washington corporation engaged in the business of real estate and property management in Seattle. New World Life Insurance Company is the owner of a 15-story office building located at Cherry Street and Second Avenue, Seattle, known as the Alaska Building, and Henry Broderick, Inc. acts as manager of such building.

Subsequent to April 9, 1942, New World Life Insurance Company and Henry Broderick, Inc. began construction (as defined in Conservation Order L-41) in said Alaska Building, in violation of Conservation Order L-41. Such construction consisted of remodeling and rehabilitating said building on an extensive scale and additions thereto and extensions and alterations thereof, the estimated cost of which substantially exceeded $5,000. Such construction was begun in wilful disregard of the prohibitions imposed by Conservation Order L-41.

This violation of Conservation Order L-41 has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses prohibited by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing: It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.122 Suspension Order S-122. (a) Neither New World Life Insurance Company nor Henry Broderick, Inc., nor any other person shall order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory, or in any other manner secure or use material or construction plant in order to begin or continue "construction" (as said term is defined in Conservation Order L-41, as amended on September 2, 1942) whether heretofore commenced or not, on the building located at Cherry Street and Second Avenue, Seattle, Washington, known as the Alaska Building.

During the period from March 1, 1942, to March 19, 1942, the partnership accepted and filled orders for approximately 11,500 feet of copper tubing and two 60 foot copper tubing coils, which orders did not bear a preference rating of A-10 or better.

The foregoing violations of General Preference Order No. M-9-a have impeded and hampered the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing facts; It is hereby ordered:

Lynch, 924 Collenbrooke Avenue, Drexel Hill, Pennsylvania, the 10,000 feet of copper tubing sold to him by them on or about March 3, 1942, within 15 days following the effective date of this order, and they are further directed to file within five days after the date of said repurchase, an affidavit setting forth the fact of said repurchase.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to restrict deliveries by J. Levitt, Samuel Gellar, and Anna Gellar t/a J. Levitt, their successors and assigns, from their present inventory in accordance with all applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board, and nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve them, their successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any order or regulation of the Director of Industry Operations or the Director General for Operations, whether now in force or hereafter issued, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on October 30, 1942, and shall terminate on January 30, 1943.

PART 1223—STANDARDIZATION AND SIMPLIFICATION OF PAPER

[Schedule I to Limitation Order L-120, as Amended and Revised October 29, 1942]

BOOK PAPER FOR USE IN COMMERCIAL PRINTING

Section 1223.2 Schedule I to Limitation Order L-120 is hereby amended and revised to read as follows:

§ 1223.2 Schedule I to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the Appendix:

(1) The term "book paper" means and is limited to the kinds of paper commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the Appendix below.

(2) The term "book paper for use in commercial printing" means all "book papers" commonly manufactured and distributed for use in printing, including but not limited to the printing of music, labels and posters; and excluding only those manufactured and distributed for use in printing periodicals, pamphlets published for resale, and books, or for conversion into another paper product or products otherwise than by printing.

(3) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of book paper, such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper and/or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(4) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(5) The term "basis weight" means the weight of a kind of "book paper" in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption.

(6) An "item" means a quantity of paper all of which is of the same size, grain, basis weight, finish, color and grade.

(7) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a basis weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(8) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, basis weight or size that is not standard.

(9) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer or consumer.

(10) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing.

(11) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the Director General for Operations at any time thereafter, under which caption, if any, of the Appendix belongs each of the "book papers for use in commercial printing" manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the Director General for Operations, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of "book paper for use in commercial printing", or whether a particular kind of paper is such a paper at all or belongs under any caption of the Appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the Director General for Operations, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The Director General for Operations may on his own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the Director General for Operations by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, shall, unless and until the Director General for Operations shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of "book paper for use in commercial printing", shall, with respect to each such kind he manufactures, select such "grade" or "grades" thereof, not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection, on Form PD–589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a "grade" or "grades" and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the Appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of a kind of "book paper for use in commercial printing", to select a number of colors, each person who manufactures such grade, if he desires to manufacture such grade in colors, shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection on Form PD–589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a color or colors and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(e) General limitations. Except to the extent and upon the conditions indicated in paragraphs (f), (g), (h) and (i) of this revised schedule, or under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below, no person shall manufacture any kind of "book paper for use in commercial printing" in any grade, color, basis weight or size other than those selected or specified as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the Appendix, or contrary to any other provision under A of the appropriate caption.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of "book papers" and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for roll paper; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds", resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture "book paper" according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this revised schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L–120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing by the Director General for Operations sell in the domestic market) any kind of "book paper for use in commercial printing" in any size or basis weight required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of "book paper for use in commercial printing" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one printer or consumer, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

(3) Export orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures "book papers for use in commercial printing" for export shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such paper is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

This revised schedule shall take effect five days after the date of issuance.

PART 1223—STANDARDIZATION AND SIMPLIFICATION OF PAPER

[Schedule II to Limitation Order L-120, as Amended and Revised October 29, 1942]

BOOK PAPER FOR USE IN BOOK PUBLISHING

Section 1223.3 Schedule II to Limitation Order L-120 is hereby amended and revised to read as follows:

§ 1223.3 Schedule II to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the Appendix:

(1) The term "book paper" means and is limited to the kinds of paper commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the Appendix below.

(2) The term "book paper for use in book publishing" means all "book paper" commonly manufactured and distributed for use in books and in publishing pamphlets for resale.

(3) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of book paper, such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper and/or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(4) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(5) The term "basic weight" means the weight of a kind of "book paper" in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption.

(6) An "item" means a quantity of paper all of which is of the same size, grain, basis weight, finish, color and grade.

(7) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a basis weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(8) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, basis weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, basis weight or size that is not standard.

(9) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer or publisher.

(10) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing.

(11) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the Director General for Operations at any time thereafter, under which caption of the Appendix, if any, belongs each of the "book papers for use in book publishing" manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the Director General for Operations, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of "book paper for use in book publishing", or whether a particular kind of paper is such a paper at all or belongs under any caption of the Appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the Director General for Operations, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The Director General for Operations may on his own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the Director General for Operations by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall, unless and until the Director General for Operations shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of "book paper for use in book publishing" shall, with respect to each such kind he manufactures, select such "grade" or "grades" thereof, not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection on Form PD–589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a "grade" or "grades" and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the Appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of a kind of "book paper for use in book publishing," to select a number of colors, each person who manufactures such grade, if he desires to manufacture such grade in colors, shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection on Form PD–589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a color or colors and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(e) General limitations. Except to the extent and upon the conditions indicated in paragraphs (f), (g), (h), and (i) of this revised schedule, or under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below, no person shall manufacture any kind of "book paper for use in book publishing" in any grade, color, basis weight or size other than those selected or specified as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the Appendix, or contrary to any other provision under A of the appropriate caption. However, any item the manufacture of which is permitted under Schedule I to Limitation Order L–120 may be manufactured for use in books and/or in publishing pamphlets for resale.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of "book papers" and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for roll paper; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds," resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture "book paper" according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this Revised Schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L–120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing by the Director General for Operations sell in the domestic market) any kind of "book paper for use in book publishing" in any size or basis weight required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of "book paper for use, in book publishing" shall keep readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one printer or publisher, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

(3) Export orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures "book paper for use in book publishing" for export shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such paper is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

(4) Buyer's statement of use. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each manufacturer, before filling any order for "book paper for use in book publishing" manufactured after the effective date of this schedule, shall require from the buyer a statement that such order is for use in books or in publishing pamphlets for resale, and shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board.

This revised schedule shall take effect five days after the date of issuance.

Part 1223—Standardization and Simplification of Paper

[Schedule III to Limitation Order L–120, as Amended and Revised October 29, 1942]

FINE WRITING PAPERS

Section 1223.4 Schedule III to Limitation Order L–120 is hereby amended and revised to read as follows:

§ 1223.4 Schedule III to Limitation Order L–120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the Appendix:

(1) The term "fine writing papers" means and is limited to the kinds of paper commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the Appendix below.

(2) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of fine writing paper, such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper and/or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(3) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(4) The term "substance weight" means the weight of a kind of "fine writing paper" in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption.

(5) An "item" means a quantity of paper all of which is of the same size, grain, substance weight, finish, color and grade.

(6) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, substance weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a substance weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(7) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, substance weight, and size means with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, substance weight or size that is not standard.

(8) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer, converter or consumer.

(9) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing.

(10) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other form of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the Director General for Operations at any time thereafter, under which caption of the Appendix, if any, belongs each of the "fine writing papers" manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the Director General for Operations, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of "fine writing paper," or whether a particular kind of paper is such a paper at all or belongs under any caption of the Appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the Director General for Operations, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The Director General for Operations may on his own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the Director General for Operations by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall, unless and until the Director General for Operations shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of "fine writing paper" shall with respect to each such kind he manufactures, select such "grade" or "grades" thereof, not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection on Form PD–589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a "grade" or "grades" and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding. Each person who regularly manufactures any Extra 100 percent rag content grade of any kind of "fine writing paper" shall notify, as above, the Director General for Operations thereof on Form PD–589, stating in addition in what respect each such grade differs from his standard 100 percent rag grade, submitting with his statement representative samples of each such grade and a list of sizes, weights and colors regularly manufactured.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the Appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of a kind of "fine writing paper," to select a number of colors, each person who manufactures such grade, if he desires to manufacture such grade in colors, shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection, on Form PD–589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a color or colors and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(e) General limitations. Except to the extent and upon the conditions indicated in paragraphs (f), (g), (h) and (i) of this revised schedule, or under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below, no person shall manufacture any kind of "fine writing paper" in any grade, color, substance weight or size other than those selected or specified as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the Appendix, or contrary to any other provision under A of the appropriate caption.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of "fine writing papers" and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for roll paper; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds", resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona-fide attempt to manufacture "fine writing paper" according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this revised schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L–120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing by the Director General for Operations sell in the domestic market) any kind of "fine writing paper" in any size or substance weight required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with; and further, bonds, ledgers and writings may be manufactured with any percent of rag content specified by any foreign government to fill a special making order for such government.

(j) Records and Reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of "fine writing paper" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one printer, converter or consumer, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

(3) Export orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures "fine writing paper" for export shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such paper is purchased for export and, in the case of a foreign government that such paper is purchased for such government, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

This revised schedule shall take effect five days after the date of issuance.

PART 1223—STANDARDIZATION AND SIMPLIFICATION OF PAPER

[Schedule IV to Limitation Order L-120, as Amended and Revised October 29, 1942]

TABLET PAPER

Section 1223.5 Schedule IV to Limitation Order L-120 is hereby amended and revised to read as follows:

§ 1223.5 Schedule IV to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this schedule, including the Appendix:

(1) The term "tablet paper" means the kind of paper commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the designation "tablet paper."

(2) A "grade" means one particular quality of "tablet paper", such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, or in the dyes used in the paper shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(3) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(4) The term "substance weight" means the weight in pounds per 500 sheets 17'' x 22''.

(5) An "item" means a quantity of paper all of which is of the same size, substance weight, grain, finish, color and grade.

(6) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, substance weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a substance weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(7) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, substance weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, substance weight, or size that is not standard.

(8) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one converter or consumer.

(9) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing.

(10) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management, or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the Director General for Operations at any time thereafter, which papers manufactured by him belong under the caption "tablet paper" in the Appendix below. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the Director General for Operations, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to whether or not a particular paper manufactured by him is such a paper, he may apply to the Director General for Operations, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The Director General for Operations may on his own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the Director General for Operations, by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall, unless and until the Director General for Operations shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures "tablet paper" shall select such "grade" or "grades" thereof, not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the Appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection on Form PD-589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a "grade" or "grades" and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) of the Appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of "tablet paper", to select a number of colors, each person who manufactures such grade, if he desires to manufacture such grade in colors, shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the Appendix, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection on Form PD-589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a color or colors and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(e) General limitations. Except to the extent and upon the conditions indicated in paragraphs (f), (g), (h) and (i) of this revised schedule, or under B of the Appendix below, no person shall manufacture and no manufacturer shall sell "tablet paper" in any grade, color, substance weight or size other than those selected or specified as standard under A of the Appendix, or contrary to any other provision under A of the Appendix.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of "tablet papers" and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for roll paper; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions applying to a "special size" under B of the Appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds", resulting from faulty manufacture of overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona-fide attempt to manufacture "tablet paper" according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this revised schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L-120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing by the Director General for Operations sell in the domestic market) any grade of "tablet paper" in any size or substance weight required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any grade of "tablet paper" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the Appendix below.

(2) Special making orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the Appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one converter or consumer, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

(3) Export orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures "tablet paper" for export shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such paper is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

This revised schedule shall take effect five days after the date of issuance.

PART 1223—STANDARDIZATION AND SIMPLIFICATION OF PAPER

[Schedule V to Limitation Order L–120, as Amended and Revised October 29, 1942]

ENVELOPE PAPERS

Section 1223.6 (Schedule V to Limitation Order L–120) is hereby amended and revised to read as follows:

§ 1223.6 Schedule V to Limitation Order L–120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the Appendix:

(1) The term "envelope papers" means and is limited to the kinds of paper commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the Appendix below.

(2) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of envelope paper, such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind of paper and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any such property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper and/or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(3) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(4) The term "substance weight" means the weight of a kind of "envelope paper" in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption.

(5) An "item" means a quantity of paper all of which is of the same size, grain, substance weight, finish, color and grade.

(6) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, substance weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade and color selected and a substance weight and size specified under A of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(7) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, substance weight, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, substance weight or size that is not standard.

(8) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one converter or consumer.

(9) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing.

(10) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, or other form of enterprise, including within one "person" all affiliates, subsidiaries, individuals, corporations, partnerships, or other forms of enterprise subject to a common executive or operating management or with a common sales organization.

(b) Identification of the papers subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the Director General for Operations at any time thereafter, under which caption, if any, of the Appendix, belongs each of the "envelope papers" manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the Director General for Operations, the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers selling within the same general price range as the paper in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of "envelope paper," or whether a particular kind of paper is such a paper at all or belongs under any caption of the Appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the Director General for Operations, in writing, for an official classification of such paper, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of papers with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The Director General for Operations may on his own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefor an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the Director General for Operations, by telegram or notice in writing, sent to the manufacturer, shall, unless and until the Director General for Operations shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of "envelope paper" shall, with respect to each such kind he manufactures, select such "grade" or "grades" thereof, not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection, on Form PD–589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a "grade" or "grades" and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the Appendix below a manufacturer is permitted, with respect to a particular grade of a kind of "envelope paper," to select a number of colors, each person who manufactures such grade, if he desires to manufacture such grade in colors, shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the Director General for Operations of such selection on Form PD–589. The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the Director General for Operations for leave to amend the original selection by dropping a color or colors and substituting another or others, but unless and until such leave is granted by the Director General for Operations in writing the original selection shall be and remain binding.

(e) General limitations. Except to the extent and upon the conditions indicated in paragraphs (f), (g), (h) and (i) of this revised schedule, or under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below, no person shall manufacture and no manufacturer shall sell any kind of "envelope paper" in any grade, color, substance weight or size other than those selected or specified as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the Appendix, or contrary to any other provision under A of the appropriate caption.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of "envelope paper" and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, provided the parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this revised schedule on an order for roll paper; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the Appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds," resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona-fide attempt to manufacture "envelope paper" according to the terms of this revised schedule, provided that the manufacturer informs the purchaser that such paper is a "job lot" or "seconds," and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this revised schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L–120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing by the Director General for Operations sell in the domestic market) any kind of "envelope paper" in any size or substance weight required, regardless of quantity, provided all other provisions of this schedule are complied with.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of "envelope paper" shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the appropriate caption of the Appendix below, shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one converter or consumer, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

(3) Export orders. On and after the effective date of this revised schedule, each person who manufactures "envelope paper" for export shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such paper is purchased for export and shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the Director General for Operations as he may from time to time require.

This revised schedule shall take effect five days after the date of issuance.

PART 1300—PROCEDURE

[Procedural Reg. 9]

UNIFORM APPEAL PROCEDURE UNDER RATION ORDERS

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon the Administrator by Executive Order 9125 and by War Production Board Directive No. 1, the following rules are hereby prescribed for the institution and disposition of appeals and petitions for review under ration orders.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1300.601 to 1300.609, inclusive, issued under Pub. Law 507, 77th Cong., WPB Directive No. 1, 7 F.R. 562; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719.

§ 1300.601 Scope of regulations. The purpose of this Procedural Regulation is to establish a uniform appeals procedure for ration orders. It shall apply to all cases where there exists a right of appeal from action taken under a ration order, except to the extent that such ration order shall otherwise expressly provide.

§ 1300.602 Definitions. When used in this regulation:

(a) "Board" means a Local War Price and Rationing Board established by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) "Ration order" means a present or future order, regulation and any amendment thereto by which rationing control is exercised by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) "Regional Administrator" means the person who holds the office of regional administrator in the region.

(d) "State Director" means the person who holds the office of state director in the state. In those states where it is appropriate, the term shall mean the State Rationing Administrator.

(e) "Washington Office" means the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C.

§ 1300.603 Time within which appeal must be brought. Notice of a Board's action shall be given, either at the Board's office or by mailing, to the person who has the right of appeal or to his agent. The appeal must be brought within 30 days after such mailing or the giving of such other notice.

§ 1300.604 Appeals to State Director; how brought. Appeals from the action of a Board shall be to the State Director and shall be brought by the person entitled to bring such appeal, in the following manner:

(a) A statement of appeal shall be filed in duplicate with the Board. The statement of appeal shall be on OPA Form R-122, shall state the basis for the appeal, setting forth the specific section or sections of the ration order claimed to be inconsistent with the action appealed from, and any other facts called for by the form, or deemed by the appellant to be pertinent. The statement of appeal may be accompanied by documentary evidence supporting the appeal.

(b) Within five days of such filing, the Board shall forward one copy of the statement and an explanation of its reasons for taking the action appealed from, together with all pertinent records or papers, to the State Director, unless the Board shall, within such five-day period, upon reconsideration, reverse the action appealed from. If the Board disagrees with the version of the facts contained in the appellant's statement of appeal or in other papers in the record, the Board shall note the respects in which its version of the facts differs.

(c) The Board shall retain the other copy of the statement of appeal and shall keep a record thereon showing the date on which the Board notified the appellant of the action appealed from, the date on which the statement of appeal was filed, and the date the statement of appeal and other papers were sent to the State Director.

§ 1300.605 Action by State Director. (a) The State Director shall maintain an appeals docket. He shall assign a number to each appeal when it reaches him, and shall enter such number, together with the name of the appellant and the name and number of the Board from whose action the appeal is taken, the action taken on appeal, and the date on which a copy of his decision was mailed to the appellant.

(b) The State Director may require the appellant to present additional pertinent information.

(c) The State Director may, at the request of the appellant, order that a hearing be held on the appeal. Such hearing shall be held in accordance with §§ 1300.152 to 1300.155 inclusive, of Temporary Procedural Regulation No. 4.

(d) Appeals shall be decided by the State Director, who may affirm, modify or reverse the action of the Board. The decision shall be in writing and one copy shall be mailed to the appellant and one to the Board. The decision shall direct the Board to take such action as may be necessary to give effect thereto.

(e) If no statement of appeal to the Regional Administrator is filed with the State Director within 30 days after the appellant has been notified of the State Director's decision, the record shall be closed and thereafter there shall be no further right of appeal. The record shall remain on file in the State Director's office, except that documents which are necessary to present or future action of the Board shall be returned to the Board.

§ 1300.606 Appeals to Regional Administrator; how brought. An appeal to the Regional Administrator may be made in the following manner from an adverse decision of the State Director, whether such decision is in a matter which came before the State Director on appeal or in a matter which came before him for original decision:

(a) A statement of appeal shall be filed in duplicate with the State Director, who shall retain one copy for his files. The statement of appeal shall be on OPA Form R-122, shall state the basis for the appeal, setting forth the specific section or sections of the ration order claimed to be inconsistent with the decision appealed from, and any other facts called for by the form, or deemed by the appellant to be pertinent. The statement of appeal may be accompanied by documentary evidence supporting the appeal.

(b) Within five days of such filing, the State Director shall forward the other copy, together with his decision and all other pertinent records or papers, to the Regional Administrator, unless the State Director shall, within such five-day period, upon reconsideration, reverse his decision.

§ 1300.607 Action by Regional Administrator. (a) The Regional Administrator shall maintain an appeals docket and shall assign a number to each appeal when it reaches him, and shall enter such number, together with the name of the appellant, the name of the State Director, the name and number of the Board, the action taken by the Regional Administrator, and the date on which a copy of the Regional Administrator's decision was mailed to the appellant.

(b) The Regional Administrator may require the appellant to present additional pertinent information.

(c) Appeals to the Regional Admintrator shall be decided by the Regional Administrator who may affirm, modify or reverse the decision of the State Director. The decision shall be in writing and copies shall be mailed to the appellant, the Board, if an action of the Board is involved, and to the State Director, respectively. The decision shall direct the Board or the State Director to take such action as may be necessary to give effect thereto.

(d) If no statement of appeal to the Washington Office is filed with the Regional Administrator within 30 days after the appellant has been notified of the Regional Administrator's decision, the record shall be closed and shall be returned to the State Director's office, where it shall remain on file, except that documents which are necessary to present or future action of the Board shall be returned to the Board. Thereafter there shall be no further right of appeal.

§ 1300.608 Appeal to Washington Office; how brought. An appeal to the Washington Office may be made in the following manner from an adverse decision of the Regional Administrator, whether such decision is in a matter which came before the Regional Administrator, on appeal or in a matter which came before him for original decision:

(a) A statement of appeal shall be filed in duplicate with the Regional Administrator, who shall retain one copy for his files. The statement of appeal shall be on OPA Form R-122, shall state the basis for the appeal, setting forth the specific section or sections of the ration order claimed to be inconsistent with the decision appealed from, and any other facts called for by the form, or deemed by the appellant to be pertinent. The statement of appeal may be accompanied by documentary evidence supporting the appeal.

(b) Within five days of such filing, the Regional Administrator shall forward the other copy, together with his decision and all other pertinent records or papers, to the Washington Office, unless the Regional Administrator shall, within such five-day period, upon reconsideration, reverse his decision.

(c) It shall be within the discretion of the Washington Office to pass upon or to refuse to pass upon an appeal. In either event, the Washington Office may require the appellant to furnish additional pertinent information.

(d) The Washington Office shall notify the appellant, the Regional Administrator, the State Director, and the Board, in writing, either:

(1) Of its refusal to pass upon the appeal, or

(2) Of its decision affirming, modifying or reversing the decision of the Regional Administrator. It shall, in such event, direct the Board, State Director, or Regional Administrator to take such action as may be necessary to give effect thereto.

(e) When the Washington Office has acted upon the appeal or has refused to act upon it, the record of the case shall be returned to the office of the State Director where it is to be filed, except that documents which are necessary to present or future action of the Board shall be returned to the Board. Thereafter there shall be no further right of appeal.
